WET MEASURES SOON WILL HAVE PUBLIC HEARING

Dry Repeal Leaders Are Elated.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Public hearings on measures to repeal the 18th amendment, the first since that article went into the constitution, were promised today by Representative George S. Graham [Rep., Pa.], chairman of the house of representatives judiciary committee. The hearings, he announced, will start Feb. 12.

Although even the wets admit that no repeal or modification measure has a chance for adoption in the house, which is overwhelmingly dry, they were elated at the opportunity thus presented to bring forward witnesses and records to support their claim that the dry laws are unenforced and unenforcable.

Several wet measures, pending before the committee, will be considered at the hearings. These include the Cochran resolution to repeal the 18th amendment; the La Guardia resolution proposing an amendment to restore liquor control to the states; the Sabath, Igoe and Clancy resolutions to repeal the Volstead act; the Cochran resolution to permit three per cent wine and beer; and the Norton resolution calling for a national referendum on the 18th amendment.

Beer Bills Are Included.

In announcing plans for the hearings, Representative Graham, who is one of the few house committee chairmen listed as a wet, also indicated that his group will give full consideration to the Dyer and other bills to restore 2.75 per cent beer. The Graham announcements were looked upon as important because of the general belief heretofore that wet legislation would have hardly a showing in the committees while that of the drys, including the Wickersham commission bills, would be pushed to the floor and passed with as little debate as possible. At public hearings the wets believe they will be able to present to the country the worst features of prohibition and its consequences.

At its session today the house judiciary committee considered the Andrew bill to direct the Wickersham commission to expend $1,000,000 to make a two year study into the wisdom or unwisdom of prohibition, but no action was taken. At the same time the house expenditures committee wrote several minor changes into the prohibition unit transfer bill, the Wickersham measure, which it is handling.

Bill Comes Up Tuesday.

Chairman William Williamson [Rep., S. D.] indicated that this bill will be reported tomorrow and brought up in the house next Tuesday.

In several other quarters today the prohibition controversy continued to rage with the usual daily barrage of speeches and statements.

Representative Emanuel Celler [Dem., N. Y.], an active wet, brought up a new phase of what he termed "prohibition oppression" in a charge that the prohibition bureau is requiring physicians to record the exact nature and diagnosis of the ailment of a patient for which medicinal liquor is prescribed.

"This information is written on the back of the prescription book and can be shown by the physician when demanded by any prohibition inspector or official," Celler declared. "Thus, the age-worn rule of the right of the citizen to privacy regarding his bodily ailments and diseases is violated.

"Very naturally, physicians all over the country are inveighing and rebelling against this prohibition oppression. The confessions of the penitent to his priest or minister, the communications of the client to his lawyer, the confidences of the patient to his physician have always been sacred and not to be disclosed without consent.

Opens Door to "Blackmail."

"Now telephone wires have been tapped, the sanctity of the home has been invaded and nothing seems private to the slimy hands of prohibition. Furthermore, giving this pitiless publicity to the details of a patient's illness certainly opens the door to blackmail and chicanery of the worst sort."

The wet and dry row in the senate was kept at a white heat by a number of developments today, most significant of which was a disclosure that Attorney General W. D. Mitchell's recent decree that his subordinates must be abstainers and personal drys soon is to meet a showdown test in the case of Jacob Walter, a federal marshal of Cheshire, Conn.

EXPLOSION LAID TO TERRORISTS; THREATS TOLD

Police Guard Owner of Wrecked Store.

A bomb exploded last night at 2154 Southport avenue destroyed a store building at that place, shattered window panes in every building within a radius of two blocks, and was heard over an area of nine square miles on the north side. Extortionists are charged by the police with the crime.

The explosion, which the police said was the most powerful they have ever encountered, drove hundreds of residents of the neighborhood from their homes temporarily and injured thirteen persons as glass and plaster showered down in every dwelling in the immediate vicinity. The blast shook buildings three and four blocks away and was heard as far north as Buena avenue, as far south as Oak street, and from the lake to Western avenue.

The damage to the wrecked building and to neighboring structures was estimated in the thousands of dollars.

Merchant's Home Guarded.

The police were convinced that the bombing, the fifth within twenty-four hours and the eleventh of 1930 in Chicago, was the work of a Black Hand gang after they had questioned John J. Cullotta, 1117 Larrabee street, whose grocery company occupied the building in which the bomb was placed. Cullotta showed the police five letters demanding $5,000 under threats of death. His home had been under a police guard since 4 o'clock in the afternoon to prevent an attack there.

The Cullotta store building was wrecked by fire two months ago, shortly after Cullotta had laid in a Christmas supply of olive oil and Italian foods. Since that time, he said, he had been attempting to collect $55,000 in insurance which the insurance companies refused to pay, claiming that the fire was incendiary.

On Dec. 15, Cullotta told the police, he received his first letter from extortionists, and two weeks later he received another. He ignored both of them, and last Monday he received a third, ordering him to go to Larrabee street and Chicago avenue at 10 p. m. and to wait until a man approached asking for a match. Unless Cullotta took $5,000 with him, the letter said, he and his family would have "big trouble."

Takes Letters to Police.

He failed to keep the appointment, and on Tuesday he received another letter with a warning. He did not go to the scene that evening, and yesterday he received the last letter by special delivery. He took the letters to the Hudson avenue police station, but because he lived in the Chicago avenue district he was sent there. After he had told his story two policemen were stationed at his home.

After the bombing last night an extra guard was placed at his home, the police being convinced that the extortionists intended to carry out their threats, although they questioned Cullotta closely about a reference to his insurance in one of the letters.

The Cullotta store building was a one story frame structure on the southwest corner of Webster and Southport avenues, in a thickly populated neighborhood. The bomb was exploded at 10:20 o'clock, the time having been fixed by Patrolman Edward Farrell, 1648 Waveland avenue, who was standing on the northwest corner at the time and who had just taken out his watch when the explosion occurred.

Blast Destroys Building.

There was a blinding flash of flame and a roar. The walls of the building collapsed and the roof fell in a heap as windows crashed in all directions. The force of the blast was felt at the drug store of Samuel Katz at 1358 Webster avenue, in front of which Farrell was standing. The policeman was blown back against the window and was cut on the hand by flying glass as the pane crashed in. Katz, who was standing inside, was also cut on the hand as the concussion swept merchandise from the shelves, ripped the plaster from the walls, and blew out the windows.

In the barber shop of Charles Sile at 2152 Southport avenue, next door to the Cullotta store, all of the windows were blown out and the interior of the place was wrecked. At the bakery of Fannie Hagn at 2151 Southport avenue the explosion shook the entire building, knocking out the windows and throwing Frank Ritz and his wife, Mary, from their beds in their apart-

AN INTERVIEW WITH KING GEORGE

Copyright, 1929, by The Chicago Tribune. McCUTCHEON

"So you are from Chicago?"

"Yes, your majesty."

"I've heard a great deal of your city; that is, I've heard a great deal of the mayor of your great city."

"Yes, sir, and many people of my city heard a great deal of you."

"So I understand. I think your mayor referred to me in his last campaign. It seems that I was the principal issue of the campaign."

"You were mentioned, your majesty. Perhaps you saw some of the clippings."

"A few came in—from South Africa, Australia, Borneo, India, and several other places. It must have been a jolly campaign."

"You got a lot of publicity, sir. It crowded nearly everything else out of the papers. A very important hog calling contest out in Missouri was lucky to get a few lines on the eleventh page of the papers. The voters were much wrought up during the excitement of the campaign."

"Let's see. If I recall correctly, the mayor's campaign was centered on a program which included something about busting me on the snoot, or words to that effect."

"That was the general purport, your majesty."

"A most ingenious slogan! With four thousand miles separating your honorable mayor and myself, the program involved a minimum of jeopardy on the part of both of us. But what I cannot understand is what it had to do with running your great city."

"It had nothing at all to do with it. It was just to get people to vote. They got all worked up. Lloyd George used it over here when he was elected on the slogan, 'Hang the Kaiser.' It always goes over big."

"Um-m. I haven't heard so much of your mayor lately. Is he still in a belligerent frame of mind?"

"Not so much, your majesty. The people have discovered that you can't borrow anything at the bank on such a constructive program as a busted snoot. The banks seem more interested in a balanced budget. You see, the mayor has other things to think of just now. The schools are threatened with a shutdown; the coal bins are empty; teachers are not paid; police and firemen are living on hope and scrip, and on the whole things are not so bright, so to speak. That's what the voters are talking about now."

"But can't the mayor get back to a good safe subject, such as busting me on the snoot? It would entertain the voters and take their minds off of such bothersome things as insolvency."

"I think he would like to get back to that program, but the voters won't let him. If he started to mention it, they would say, 'Cut it out! Let's get back to what became of all our money!' And that would hurt all the pay rollers and politicians' feelings."

"But can't the money be secured by bond issues, or something?"

"Whenever the mayor mentions a bond issue the voters run to the polls and vote 'no.' They like him when in a snoot busting mood, but not in a bond spending mood."

"It's all very complicated. And what is going to happen? The city is enormously rich. There should be no trouble to finance it."

"Well, the citizens are now taking a hand and if they can raise some money the necessary city institutions may be able to continue. Otherwise, not."

"And what will happen to your honorable mayor?"

"O, when he can get back to a good sound program, such as busting you on the snoot, he probably will be reelected again."

PEPPI GENERO'S BROTHER SHOT 5 TIMES; MAY DIE

John Genero, south side gangster and a brother of Joseph (Peppi) Genero, was shot five times and wounded, probably fatally, last night by two men who attacked him as he was entering his automobile in front of a restaurant at 211 West 23d street. With four bullets in his body and the fifth in his right arm, Genero was taken to the People's hospital.

Physicians said there was little hope for his recovery, and early this morning his wife, his mother, and his brother, Peppi, sat beside him. When told that he probably would die Genero called for a priest and the last rites of the church were administered, but he refused to identify his assailants.

Genero was once identified as one of the men who kidnaped Attorneys Arvid Tanner and C. Ray Hansen, polls watchers in the bloody 20th ward in the April primaries of 1928. He was indicted with the Ellers and their henchmen for violence at the polls during the primary, but the charges against him were dropped later. He was questioned a year and a half ago in connection with the murder of Frankie Yale, New York gangster.

A search for James Balcastro, who is now under indictment as a member of an alleged bombing syndicate, and Louis Delucca was started by the police a few hours after the shooting.

Hop Off Plane, Jump in River to Save Diver

QUEBEC, Que., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Two expert divers, who arrived at the isolated village of Riviere aux Outardes late today by airplane, tonight descended to the bottom of Outarde river in an attempt to rescue Peter Trans, imprisoned by snagged equipment since Monday.

These divers, Quernel Morency and Lewis Begin, braving strong currents, which it was thought would prevent their rescue attempt at least until tomorrow morning, decided that further delay might frustrate removing Trans alive. So each went into the 20 feet of water. Officials of the Ontario Paper company momentarily expected word of their success.

Meanwhile relatives in Denmark were kept in touch with the rescue work by cable.

Air Tube Found Free.

Trans, who is 28 years old, was trapped Monday afternoon while at work in a coffer dam being constructed by the Ontario Paper company, a subsidiary of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, which supplies paper for THE TRIBUNE and affiliated newspapers. It was determined his lines were fouled, but his air tube was free. This was revealed when a volunteer diver went overside in a futile attempt to extricate him.

Arvo Silyala, with no previous diving experience, made the first descent. He found Trans trapped in a "crib," and reported that because of his inexperience he did not try to free him.

Silyala said he had grasped Trans' hand, but had felt no pressure. Officials tonight believed this did not necessarily mean that Trans was dead. They said he might have become unconscious from intense cold.

Keep Air Pumps Going.

Air was being constantly pumped into the diver's helmet. Officials hoped to release him before midnight, but even if this occurred, it was doubtful whether word would reach the outside world before morning. Riviere aux Outardes is a little village 200 miles north of Quebec.

Trans arrived there by airplane Jan. 16 and made his first descent the next day. He spent several hours each day under water and progress was reported. When he descended Monday, he apparently slipped. When no signal was received from him afterward professional divers were called from Montreal and two set off by plane yesterday.

Bad weather forced the plane down at Rimouski and again today at Penticote. Finally, at 3:30 p. m. today, the divers arrived at Riviere aux Outardes. The only means of communication with the outside world at this time of the year from Riviere aux Outardes is by airplane. There are no telegraphic lines to the place. Ice in the gulf has halted navigation.

BISHOP ANDERSON SINKING; FEAR DEATH IS NEAR

The Most Rev. Charles P. Anderson, primate of the American Episcopal church and bishop of Chicago, who has been critically ill of heart disease for more than a week, suffered a turn for the worse last night, and fears were expressed that he would not survive the night. The bishop is 64 years old.

Shortly before midnight Dr. Lester E. Frankenthal, one of the bishop's physicians, said his patient's condition was extremely grave. Dr. Howard Wakefield, 1421 East 53d street, had been in almost constant attendance upon Bishop Anderson for twenty hours. He said the bishop was unconscious most of the time, with occasional periods of delirium.

Bishop Anderson, during a period of consciousness yesterday, signed a letter asking the Episcopal diocese of Chicago to elect a bishop coadjutor at the convention meeting at St. James cathedral on Feb. 4 and 5. The convention dinner called for Monday night at the Hotel La Salle will not be held, as Bishop Anderson was to have been the principal speaker.

FAILS TO SELL HIS STORE, BUT GIVES UP $800

Victor Sliwa, owner of a grocery store at 2236 South Sawyer avenue, lost the prospective sale of his building, valued at $16,500, yesterday, and with the prospective purchaser went $800 of his savings. In return Sliwa had $25 worth of furs.

Sliwa said he and the purchaser were about to close the real estate deal when a customer entered and, after making a purchase, drew the furs out of a bag. Intimating that they were stolen, he offered to sell them for $800, although claiming that they were worth $4,000. The prospective store purchaser, whose name Sliwa had never learned, asked him to advance the $800, adding that figure to the purchase price. Sliwa put up the $800 and took the furs as security. The purchaser did not return to close the deal or claim the furs.

Fake Gem Seller's Sales Talk Fails to Sway Judge

Walter Lesser, 30 years old, 547 South Clark street, first talked Ray Hilton, 1630 East 62d street, into buying a fake diamond ring and then talked him out of prosecuting, but his sales arguments failed when he was arraigned before Judge Herbert G. Immenhausen in the South State street court yesterday. Judge Immenhausen sentenced him to five days in the Bridewell and fined him $100 on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Bar Filipino Boxers in Fear of Coast Riot

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Filipinos were barred today from California boxing rings as a precaution against further race trouble in the state.

Fearing the fight gatherings at which Filipino and white boxers were permitted in the same ring, might be turned into riots, William H. Hanlon, chairman of the state boxing commission, telegraphed all promoters to obtain substitutes for Filipinos already engaged and to book no more of the islanders until further notice.

Hanlon said crowded fight arenas "seem ideal places for creating of riots." He was particularly fearful of the consequences should a Filipino boxer win a victory over a white opponent.

Stockton Riots Quelled.

Stockton was quiet after a noisy night in which the front of a Filipino clubhouse was blown away and several street fights reported. More than fifteen thousand Filipinos make their homes in and near Stockton.

The Filipino question at Watsonville, near which city Fermin Tobera, Filipino lettuce worker, was killed last week in an attack on a Filipino bunk house, developed a legal angle. The state counsel for the Filipino Citizens' league announced the organization would file suits for damages against Sheriff N. P. Sinnott and District Attorney Wilbur Gardner on the grounds that the riots last week would not have occurred had they exercised "proper vigilance."

The outbreak in San Francisco seemed to have subsided after attacks upon five Filipinos in the previous 24 hours.

Echo Heard in Congress.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Resident Commissioner Osias of the Philippines, said in the house today that outbreaks involving Filipinos in California would continue until the government granted Philippine independence.

"There are at present 65,000 Filipinos in the United States," he asserted. "They are lured here by advertisements of the American shipping interests. Ten thousand Filipinos are coming here yearly. They know they have the right to come here."

Representative Barbour [Rep., Cal.] asked if the Philippine government would keep its citizens at home if independence were granted.

"It will not be necessary," was the reply. "The American immigration law will limit entry of Filipinos."

Barbour asked if the Filipinos would be willing to be considered a foreign nation.

The answer was a shouted "yes!—and 13,000,000 Filipinos will back me up when I say this."

Action Near in Senate.

Meanwhile the 32 year old controversy over Philippine independence moved closer to a decision by the senate.

Chairman Bingham of the territories committee announced that his committee hoped to complete hearings on Philippine independence by Feb. 10 and that a bill would be reported to the senate as soon thereafter as possible.

Senator Tydings [Dem., Md.] asserted that the recent race riots on the west coast afforded ample grounds for granting independence.

Tydings said this country already has race problems on its hands and Philippine immigration would make solution more difficult.

Mr. Hadley Seems to Be Student of Daily Events

Informed by Edwin Hadley, 4750 Woodlawn avenue, that some one had left a bomb in his garage, Sergt. Ambrose Mahoney and his bomb squad raced to the scene yesterday to take charge when Hadley refused to touch the package or put it in a tub of water. Sneaking up on the mysterious bundle, the police found it contained two dozen cans of corn which a friend had delivered to Hadley's home.

GOVERNOR BIDS TAX OFFICIALS TO CONFERENCE

Steps Into Chicago Loan Crisis.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Gov. Emmerson stepped cautiously into the Cook county tax muddle last night for the purpose of getting "first hand and confidential information." The governor sent a telegram to each member of the state tax commission, the local board of assessors and the board of review, asking that they confer with him at the Hotel Stevens tomorrow.

Earlier in the day the governor asked Chairman Malone of the state tax commission why the commission has not fixed capital stock and railroad values for the state. Lack of these figures is holding up tax assessments downstate. Mr. Malone is said to have replied that in some way the Cook county reassessment is involved in the delay on assessments of capital stock and railroads.

The governor is reported to want to get the facts on this phase of the tax trouble, and may listen to representations relative to the whole matter. At any rate, local taxing officials were hopeful last night.

More Finance Troubles.

The growing financial distress of Chicago—evidenced chiefly by $380,000,000 of floating debts and an added $11,275,500 in unpaid salaries to 40,127 public employes—was again thrown on the screen yesterday by other incidents.

The county forest preserves sold $500,000 worth of bonds at a record low price of 90 cents on the dollar.

It was revealed that the board of education has been unable to pay for the free text books distributed to the school children. For these it owes $872,422. It has about $14,000 in the book fund. Publishers asserted that the board has not given them any money since last March.

Sell Bonds at Discount.

An outstanding incident yesterday was the sale of the $500,000 worth of forest preserve bonds at the low price. These bonds were sold to get cash to pay interest and principal on other bonds due before June 1 next. Next Saturday $68,000 is due in interest. The purchaser, the Foreman-State corporation, made it a condition of purchase that the proceeds should be used exclusively for principal and interest on other bonds.

Joseph Savage, attorney for the forest preserve district, said the board has the power to issue tax anticipation warrants, but did not explain why the board did not issue them. Perhaps the two failures of the county board to get a bidder on $7,000,000 of tax warrants turned the forest commissioners against such a step.

Bonds Formerly Higher.

Forest preserve bonds, in the most stringent money market, have not sold below 96 and usually around 97. Within the last year bonds of this district have sold at par and at other times have sold as high as $101.50 per $100 face value.

It is the opinion of bankers that the failure of the public officials to avoid the financial mire and their subsequent failure to make substantial progress to solve the difficulties has affected the credit of the local governments. It was pointed out yesterday that the city last Dec. 20 sold $7,278,000 worth of bonds at $97.44. The impairment in credit has apparently come in the interim. If the $500,000 of forest preserve bonds had been sold at the price obtained by the city, the discount would have been $12,800, instead of $50,000.

On with Reassessment.

The refusal of the state Supreme court yesterday to order taxes spread on the discarded 1927 valuations "removes the last chance of politicians to block the reassessment," Chairman Malone of the state tax commission said.

"The reassessment can now go ahead," he continued. "Politicians did not seriously object to the reassessment per se, but they did object to rules 14 and 15, which take the 'fix' out of fixing real estate taxes.

"Mayor Thompson, in assuming his attitude on the reassessment, has taken the position typical of a demagogue. He has kept to his same old rule, hoping that something would turn up which he could twist to his own ends. He has shelved King George and is looking for another war cry."

The opinion of the state Supreme court said the issuance of a mandamus to spread taxes on the 1927 basis would not have "a beneficial effect."

"The board of assessors have come pleted the assessment and have substantially revised one-half of it," reads the conclusion. "To restore the quadrennial assessment (of 1927) would require five months and an expenditure of $525,000. To order the extension of taxes levied in 1928 upon the quadrennial assessment of 1927 under these circumstances, even if it were legally possible, would serve no useful purpose. The writ of mandamus is not granted as a matter of absolute right and it will be denied where it will not have a beneficial effect."

The opinion was signed by Justices Dunn, Stone, Heard, and De Young.

Strawn Back in Town.

For a couple of days certain public officials have been quoted as saying that they were waiting the return of Silas H. Strawn of the citizens' committee. The impression conveyed was that Mr. Strawn, when he returned, would have many millions to hand out.

Mr. Strawn came back from Washington yesterday. He said he would be glad if H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the board of education, obtains $54,000,000 on tax anticipation warrants in New York, as Caldwell says he hopes to be able to do.

Denies $20,000,000 Offer.

"I note that it has been suggested that our citizens' committee is about to raise $20,000,000 to help in the financial crisis," said Mr. Strawn. "I have never made any such statement. I have been asked how much I thought it would take to bridge over the present financial crisis and I said anywhere from $20,000,000 to $50,000,000. I have also stated that several citizens have said they would be willing to help by the payment of substantial amounts on account of their taxes and several citizens have written me to like effect.

"I have refrained from calling upon these citizens for payments on pledges on account of their taxes until an agreement is arrived at between the several tax spending bodies and our citizens' committee respecting the expenditure of the funds thus advanced on account of taxes.

"You will appreciate that it would be quite impossible to get citizens to advance large sums of money on account of taxes payable two years hence unless those citizens knew that the money thus advanced was to go for the maintenance of the absolutely necessary functions of our municipal bodies pending some legislative relief, which I assume will contemplate some plan for funding the deficits. From what several taxpayers have told me, I am quite sure they are good enough citizens of Chicago to come forward when such plans are evolved.

Planning Legislation.

"The committee of experts employed by the citizens' committee is diligently engaged in working out proposed constructive legislation embracing revision of the existing assessing and taxing laws, budgetary control and funding of existing debts. Obviously, this is a big task and cannot be completed within a few days. A condition precedent to exercising good judgment about funding existing debts is to know the result of the present reassessment, in order that the several deficits may be better known.

"In the statement given out by our committee last week we said responsibility for the present financial condition of our several municipalities is not that of the citizens' committee. Neither is the citizens' committee charged with the primary responsibility of lifting these several municipalities out of their trouble. I reiterate the purpose of the committee is to do what it can in coöperation with the several municipal officials and not in subordination to them. It is not the intention of the committee to usurp any of the functions of the officers charged with the responsibility of administering governmental affairs.

"I have also heard that my recent trip to Washington was with a view to interesting the government in Chicago's financial problems. I went there to attend the 75th birthday dinner in honor of John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross."

Sidetrack Caldwell Plan.

The effort of Mr. Caldwell to set up a committee in opposition to the Strawn committee has been shoved aside by all of the public officials invited to join.

President Cermak of the county board said he told Mr. Caldwell: "I am not interested in your committee at present. I decline to be put in the light of obstructing what the Strawn committee is attempting to do. I shall continue to coöperate with it as long as it holds out hope."

Mr. Cermak will send County Commissioner Newby and Mr. Jacobs, the county efficiency engineer, to Mr. Strawn this morning to present the county's needs. For a limited period these are placed at $2,000,000.

President Elmore of the sanitary district said: "I believe the basic principles of the Strawn committee—to put an immediate stop to all waste of the taxpayers' money and curb overhead in every possible way—are absolutely correct. I will do nothing to interfere with their program."

Backs Strawn Group.

Ald. Clark of the council finance committee said it was highly expedient for the city to coöperate with the Strawn group, adding: "That is our only hope of getting money now. I believe that the banks are behind Strawn, and we must remember that the city employes have not been paid for a month."

It was given out yesterday that taxpayers of the township of Thornton, in an effort to prevent increased valuations, have so changed the books of the assessors that it will be necessary to rewrite them. The original assessments have been so mutilated that they cannot be read.

Refuse County More Credit.

Failure of the county to pay for photostatic print paper since Dec. 12, 1928, is threatening to retard the reassessment further. The county owes an eastern company about $200,000 of which $125,000 was expended for supplies in connection with the reassessment. The company sent a notice refusing any more credit to the county.

The records demanded, by the board of review for "a survey" of real estate values in the loop involve the making of numerous copies and the use of much print paper. Harry S. Cutmore, director of the reassessment, explained the difficulties to the board of review, which in turn has demanded that it be given the records by Saturday noon. In the meantime J. Louis Jacobs, county efficiency engineer, said he had prevailed upon the makers of the special print paper to supply still more of it on credit, but the assessors were unable to get it yesterday.

$29,000,000 CUT IN VALUE OF BANK PERSONAL PROPERTY

Personal property assessments against Chicago banks dropped $29,351,750 in 1929. This was revealed yesterday when Chief Clerk Charles S. Kessler of the board of assessors completed assessment rolls for the banks. In 1928 Chicago banks were assessed at $186,647,750, as compared with $157,296,000 in 1929.

The drop is attributed to the increased valuations of the banks' real estate. Personal property taxes are levied on capital stock, surplus and undivided profits minus the valuations on the land and building occupied by the bank. Since the reassessment has, in most instances, raised the assessments against bankers' property, the increase is reflected in the personal property assessment, Chief Clerk Kessler explained.

The 1928 total includes $76,315,000 in assessments made against banks which have consolidated. In the loop the now consolidated banks paid approximately $75,000,000 in 1928. The total 1929 assessment in the loop is $114,020,000 as against approximately $130,000,000 in 1928. The highest assessment is one of $56,250,000 against the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company.

SCHMIDT ALLOWS $12,643,225 FOR WATER SYSTEM

Auto Tax Fund to Amount to $5,560,224.

City Controller Schmidt sent to the city council yesterday his estimates of the sums available for expenditure this year out of the water and vehicle tax funds. The estimates show that the city will have $12,643,225 for the use of its water system and $5,560,224 in the vehicle tax fund, the larger part of which is to be used in repairing city streets.

The $12,643,225 water fund will be used chiefly for maintenance, and new construction work in the water system will depend largely upon the sale of certificates issued against the revenue obtained from the sale of water, according to the controller's budget. The water department's request for $4,117,000 for construction and improvements was based partly upon the anticipated sale of the water certificates. This item was pared by Schmidt to $1,808,000.

Schmidt Refuses to Sell.

The controller asks that the items cut out from the departmental request be deferred until income from the sale of the certificates can be had. The council has passed an order directing Schmidt to sell the certificates, but he has refused on the ground that the authority to issue them is illegal. A suit is pending now to clear up the legality of the certificates.

Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe, who has jurisdiction over the water bureau, included also a request for $372,290 for the purchase of new water meters. The city, under an agreement with the federal government, must have 90 per cent of its water supply metered by 1935. One-half of the 10 year meter period has passed and the city is said to be in only the second year of its program.

Only 74 Pct. for Streets.

Of the vehicle tax fund the public works department requested only $4,057,300 for use on repairs, while the remainder is requested for overhead and to reimburse the license department and city collector's office for work in bringing in vehicle tax fees. The appropriation for repairs amounts to only 74 per cent of the resources. Civic groups, including the Chicago Association of Commerce, have asked the council to appropriate a greater share for street repairs.

LANDLORDS SEEK TO EVICT UNPAID CITY, COUNTY EMPLOYES

One of the results of the local governments' financial muddle was revealed yesterday when Mrs. Sarah Lindon, social worker in the Rent court, announced that 11 actions had been brought in the court by landlords in an effort to evict families of city, county, and school board employes for nonpayment of rent.

One of the persons against whom an exiction order was issued is Mrs. Louis Mogelepsky, mother of four children, who was told to vacate her flat at 1522 South Spaulding avenue. The order was issued by Judge John F. Haas of the Municipal Rent court, and is said to have been unavoidable under the statutes.

Another of those evicted was Joe Thompson, 559 East 69th place, colored janitor in the Peterson school. He had failed to pay his $20 rent because his month's salary of $127 had not been paid. The school authorities phoned Judge Haas, who explained that the law required him to issue the order. The case, however, was continued so that the janitor might try to win leniency from the landlord. Later the judge said that if the landlord remained insistent upon his rent, the case would be continued until the janitor's wages were paid.

The firemen's pension board failed for the second time to raise $97,000 to meet its obligations to dependents on Feb. 6. The board has on hand about $60,000. It considered yesterday the prorating of this amount among the beneficiaries of the fund.

VATICAN'S FIRST CRIMINAL GIVEN 3 MONTHS' JAIL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Jan. 29.—With pomp and solemnity the Vatican tribunal this morning took up the first criminal case to come within its jurisdiction. The court, after due deliberation, sentenced the defendant, Giuseppe de Paolis, to three months in the Vatican jail for stealing 35 cents from an alms box in St. Peter's cathedral. He was given three days to file an appeal.

The court's initial session was an impressive occasion, with many ecclesiastics, Vatican City inhabitants, and Roman ladies present. Before starting the trial the judge gave a weighty address, in which, after discussing the pope's jubilee year, the Lateran treaty, and such matters, he declared that the tribunal would be guided by the apostolic constitution and the code of canon law as well as the special temporary laws in force pending new juridical dispositions.

ARCTIC AIR PATROL ENDS 19 DAY FLIGHT; BACK AT HOME FIELD

Selfridge Field, Mich., Jan. 29.—(AP)—The army's arctic patrol came back to its home airport tonight after a round trip flight to Spokane, Wash., which started Jan. 10.

Fifteen of the eighteen pursuit planes in the patrol arrived together at 5:15 p. m. Two were delayed along the route. The third was wrecked several days ago in a snowstorm at Beach, N. D.

Maj. Ralph Royce, commander of the patrol, declared the flight had shown that the present type of airplane is not practical and that the present type of heater will not get a motor warmed up for starting after a cold night in the open.

MRS. M'CORMICK APPEALS FIGHT ON GUARDIANSHIP

Attorneys for Mrs. Katherine Dexter McCormick, wife of the mentally incompetent Stanley McCormick, yesterday carried to the Appellate court her fight to have herself appointed the sole conservator of his person. The appeal is from a decision of Circuit Judge Feinberg, who denied her plea last summer.

Mrs. McCormick is opposed by Harold McCormick, Cyrus H. McCormick, and Mrs. Anita Blaine McCormick. California courts recently appointed a board of conservators for Stanley McCormick's $50,000,000 estate. Attorney Newton D. Baker, representing Mrs. McCormick, argues in the appeal to the Appellate court that Stanley McCormick's legal residence is in Illinois and that the California courts can only appoint a temporary guardian of his person.

Evanston Assessor Wins Review of Reassessment

Nathan I. Noach, Evanston township assessor, announced yesterday that the board of assessors had accepted his recommendations for a review of the entire reassessment in Evanston, and that the work of reappraising all real estate and most of the buildings in the city would be started immediately. Noach claimed that 30 per cent of the reassessments, recently completed, were erroneous.

"Drunkenness Is a Disease and I Can Cure It"
—Leslie E. Keeley, M. D., LL. D.

THE EDITOR of a powerful Chicago Newspaper before his death, challenged this statement of Dr. Keeley that "Drunkenness is a disease and I can cure it." He defied Dr. Keeley to cure the man whom he would send to the Institute. The results were so convincing that through his great newspaper, he was personally responsible for thousands of men and women taking The Keeley Treatment for Liquor.

New Booklet Explains Facts That Every Person Should Know

It is one of the most authoritative booklets ever written on the disease of inebriety and its cure. It is based on fifty years' experience, embracing the treatment of more than 400,000 patients, including men and women from all walks of life. The booklet is free. Simply write and ask for it.

CHICAGO FRIEND FOR HUTCHINSON SOUGHT BY W

Tried to Cultivate "Best People," She Testifies

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 29.—[special.]—Mrs. Samuel S. Hutchinson, Chicago, her widowed daughter-in-law, Mrs. Winston Hutchinson; her son, Hobart Hutchinson, and his brother, James M. Lett of Chicago, testified today that S. S. Hutchinson had been a kind husband until the last years when his wife discovered that he had conducted a secret love affair for eighteen years with Mrs. Ida Taylor.

The names of a number of Chicagoans were mentioned in the course of today's court proceedings.

Wife, daughter-in-law, son, brother-in-law, all took the witness stand for Mrs. Hutchinson in her suit claiming $200,000 damages from Ida Taylor for alienating the affections of the wealthy head of a film distributing firm. Hutchinson was in court but his attorneys said he would take the stand in Mrs. Taylor's behalf tomorrow or Friday.

It developed from the wife's testimony today that Hutchinson had maintained an apartment for Mrs. Taylor and the 16 year old girl he knew him as "Mr. Taylor, her father," only about five blocks from the $300,000 Hutchinson mansion in the same block on Sheridan road.

Cultivates "Best People."

Mrs. Hutchinson told of her efforts to cultivate "the best people" in Chicago to aid her husband.

"Mr. and Mrs. Darby Day were among my closest friends, so were Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Light," she said, including to a presentation to Marie.

"What do you mean by the term?" Defense Attorney Byron Hanna asked.

"Well, the very best," Mrs. Hutchinson replied. "I tried to cultivate people of social distinction to help Hutchinson in business and society."

"Did you try to cultivate other people?"

"I tried not to."

"Do you know Mrs. Kellogg, the bank?"

"Yes."

"Who is Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank?"

"I think they are the soap people."

Names Chicago Friends.

"Do you know Mrs. J. Ogden Armour?"

"Yes."

"Did you attend a party at Mrs. Fairbank's home and was Mrs. Armour present?"

"Yes."

"And did you write to your husband that a common butcher's wife were present at the party?"

Mrs. Hutchinson's attorney objected to this question, and the objection was sustained.

"What happened after you discovered your husband's friendship for Mrs. Taylor?" the wife was asked.

"I suffered such shame and humiliation that I cut myself off from my friends and social activities," Mrs. Hutchinson replied. Soon after, she said, her husband dismissed the five servants and never entertained others. He began a campaign of economy which stopped charge accounts in Chicago department stores, she said.

"Still Loves Husband."

Mrs. Hutchinson admitted that her husband had made a $300,000 property settlement upon her in 1928, but that after her discovery of the existence of Mrs. Taylor and the latter's daughter, Mrs. Hutchinson said that her agreement with her husband was to receive her $1,000 a month rent from property. In addition her husband was to pay her $5,000 cash and $1,000 a month.

Mrs. Hutchinson affirmed that she had loved her husband at all times and "never ceased to love him as she loves him." Attorney Hanna then introduced a letter from her to her husband which demanded that Hutchinson pay a house painter's bill or he had to pawn his diamonds to do so."

Other letters, from husband to wife were introduced indicating that Hutchinson had complained of his wife's extravagance.

MARSHALL FIELD AND WIFE LIVE APART IN N. Y.

Rumor of Divorce Action Denied.

New York, Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Confirmation was obtained tonight of reports that Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Field are living apart. Denial was made that any divorce proceedings have been decided on or instituted. Mr. Field is the only surviving grandson of Marshall Field, founder of the Chicago mercantile business of that name.

Information was given out at the home of Mrs. Field, at 4 East 70th street, that "Mr. Field does not live here any more."

Mrs. Field herself was not accessible, but a spokesman gave the information, and, pressed for information as to Mr. Field's present home, gave his telephone number as Plaza 4394 and his address as 1 Sutton place, south.

Field Denies Report.

Mr. Field was reached at this number and asked concerning reports that a divorce is contemplated.

"I can make absolute denial of that," he said. "There is no truth at all in the report."

"It is true you are living apart, isn't it?" Mr. Field was asked.

"I don't care either to affirm or deny that," he replied.

He was then told that a spokesman for Mrs. Field had said that Mr. Field was no longer living at his wife's address.

"There are some things a man does not care to discuss," was Mr. Field's only comment.

Rumors Heard for Months.

Rumors that a divorce was impending have been current for several months but have as often been denied. Mrs. Field, as well as her husband, made a positive denial only a few weeks ago.

Mrs. Field is the former Evelyn Marshall, daughter of the late Charles H. Marshall of New York. The marriage was a society event of 1915.

Mary Greets Youth

It is a safe guess that the S. R. O. sign will be hung out this afternoon at the Illinois Women's Athletic club. Mary Garden, who believes in physical exercise as a preserver of physical fitness, and practices what she preaches, will be the principal guest at a tea the members have scheduled, and has promised to discuss the types of activities she would recommend to obtain or retain that girlish figure.

After the diva has explained how she keeps in trim, and especially how she reduced her weight from 148 pounds to her present 120, it will be the privilege of those present to propound a few questions. Mrs. Bessie Bragg Pierson, president of the club, who is sponsoring the tea, concedes that the club members will have plenty of queries for the opera star on the tips of their tongues. Miss Garden is expected to recommend swimming, her own favorite sport, to the assemblage over and above other athletics.

Seek to Identify Negro Shot Fleeing Policeman

The police last night were making an effort to identify a Negro about 25 years old who was shot and wounded, probably fatally, yesterday by Policeman Gustave Hulock when he resisted arrest in the tailor shop of Jesse James at 5227 Calumet avenue. James said the Negro had left several furs in his shop and Hulock, believing they were stolen, waited for him to return. As Hulock was taking him from the store, the Negro knocked the policeman down. Hulock fired from the floor, the bullet hitting his assailant in the back of the head. The wounded man was taken to the Bridewell hospital.

Girl to Go Barefooted to Guillotine; Slew Mother

ORLEANS, France, Jan. 20.—(AP)—A 27 year old woman today was sentenced to walk barefooted to the guillotine, in accordance with the old Napoleonic code, which still governs punishment of those who kill their parents in France. Convicted of murdering her mother to obtain possession of a farm, she shouted "Bandits! Assassins!" at the judges when sentence was passed.

GRAB TERRORISTS AS THEY DEMAND BROKER'S MONEY

Arrest Three in Loop as Extortionists.

The timely arrival of policemen yesterday saved Robert Barr, head of the brokerage concern bearing his name on the 21st floor at 100 North La Salle street, from three extortioners who had put a pistol to his head and demanded $5,000. The three were captured. They are Joseph Fiore, 3224 Polk street, long known to the police as a racketeer; Robert E. Ryan, 6515 Carpenter street, and Louis Matthisen, 7001 Merrill avenue.

"Three weeks ago this fellow Ryan came to my office and told me I would have to give up $5,000 or I would be taken for a ride," Mr. Barr told Capt. Daniel Gilbert, leader of the rescue squad. "I had never had any dealing with him or any of his pals and none of them had done any trading through me.

Arranges to Give Alarm.

"I told him I didn't have the money and he told me he would be back within a few days. I notified the detective bureau and Sergts. William Drury and John Howe came to see me. They said they would keep watch on my office and it was arranged that I should give a signal when Ryan came back. That's what I did today."

The trio entered the offices of Barr & Co. about 3 o'clock and pushed past the cashier's cage and through a hall into Barr's private office.

"Where's the money?" Ryan asked him, Barr told the police.

"We're muscle men and we want it now," he quoted Ryan as saying.

Barr was seeking time and he engaged the men in conversation, Fiore keeping a pistol at his head meanwhile. The terrorists demanded that he send to the bank and get them $5,000 in cash at once. Barr said he didn't know just how much he had in his account.

Told to Get Checkbook.

"Get your checkbook," one of the trio ordered him, and they followed him to see that he did nothing else. But this was Barr's opportunity.

"Did you send that check to Mr. Williams?" he asked Mrs. Elise Demski, one of his clerks, as she handed hi mthe checkbood. Mrs. Demski had been told by him that when he asked about the check for Mr. Williams she was to call the police immediately. She told Mrs. Pauline Hanson, switchboard operator, who called Capt. Gilbert at the Central station.

Gilbert and Lieut. Louis Klatzco were at Barr's offices within three minutes.

Fiore tossed his gun under a table when the policemen walked into the room. They protested to Capt. Gilbert they were just making a social call on Barr and they defied any one to prove they had demanded money. But Barr had a witness, a friend, Joseph Sherman, who overheard the conversation.

At the station it was found that Ryan had been arrested last fall, when James Walsh was killed in a gun duel on the Rialto with Dave Barron, who was also wounded.

Recognized at Showup.

When Fiore, Ryan, and Mathisen were paraded in the police showup at the detective bureau last night, Sergts. William Drury and John Howe recognized Fiore as a gunman whom they had arrested twice before, once while he was carrying a sawed-off pistol in his vest. Although they had seized him with the gun on Jan. 3 at La Salle and Madison streets, Judge Joseph Schulman refused to sentence him, the detectives said, holding that they had no right to search him because they had no warrant.

HIGHLAND PARK WOMEN HURT IN SLEIGH RUNAWAY

Horse Frightened by Passing Truck.

Mrs. Constant C. Hopkins and Mrs. Robert Elliot Clark, well known Highland Park society and civic leaders, were bruised and scratched yesterday when they were thrown from Mrs. Hopkins' cutter after her horse, frightened by a passing truck, bolted and dragged the sleigh behind him for a quarter of a mile at a full gallop. Mrs. Hopkins made a valiant effort to curb the horse and was dragged along the ground for 150 feet before she released the reins.

One Thrown to Ground.

The two women were riding through Highland Park west of the business district commenting on the benefits of open air riding when the horse, Berkshire King, reared and broke from Mrs. Hopkins' control. At the first dash Mrs. Clark was thrown from the sleigh to the ground, but Mrs. Hopkins clung to the reins and was bringing the horse to a stop when a group of men trying to aid her frightened the animal again. As he leaped forward Mrs. Hopkins was thrown over the side, still holding the lines.

When the horse finally broke loose, he crashed through a fence and plunged onto the ice of Skokie creek, breaking through into the water. He was rescued unhurt, seventeen men pulling him ashore with a block and tackle.

Leader in Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Hopkins, who lives at 942 Lincoln place, Highland Park, is the wife of the president of the Hopkins-Benedict company, railway supply dealers, at 80 East Jackson boulevard, and is a member of the board of the State Federation of Women's Clubs and president of the Highland Park League of Women Voters. Mrs. Clark lives at 547 South St. Johns avenue, Highland Park. Her husband is the head of a periodical subscription agency in Chicago.

OWNER OF CANDY STORE KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Joseph J. White, 2414 Superior street, a candy store owner, was fatally injured last night when he was struck by an automobile at Grand and Western avenues. He died at the Norwegian-American hospital. J. H. Houghteling, 1139 North Leclaire avenue, driver of the car, was held.

White's death increased the Cook county motor toll for 1930 to 48.

Shortly after a hit-and-run driver struck and seriously injured Miss Lucille King, 26 years old, 2822 Cambridge avenue, a bank stenographer, Sheffield avenue police yesterday arrested George Byrne, a chauffeur employed by Charles D. Allan, 4417 North Ashland avenue, a consulting engineer, and held him at the station pending an investigation. Miss King was struck as she was alighting from a street car at Diversey boulevard and Clark street. Witnesses noted the number of the car. Police said they found Byrne in an intoxicated condition when they arrested him.

Legislator Becomes Father of His Twelfth Child

State Representative John F. Petit of Batavia yesterday became the father of his twelfth child, a girl, born at St. Joseph's hospital in Aurora. The Petit family now consists of six boys and six girls. Petit is 42 years old and Mrs. Petit is 40.

PASTOR SHOOTS 2 OF HIS FLOCK, THEN HIMSELF

Row Over Letter Causes 3 Flesh Wounds.

Mendota, Ill., Jan. 29.—(AP)—The Rev. J. A. Wilson, Methodist Episcopal pastor, tonight shot Mr. and Mrs. Amos Elliott, slightly wounding them, then returned to his home and fired five shots at himself in a suicide attempt. He nearly missed himself altogether, but inflicted two slight scalp wounds.

Police said Mr. Wilson, accompanied by his wife, called on Elliott to get possession of a letter, said to be innocent in itself, but which Wilson thought Elliott was using in an effort to defame his standing in the church. Elliott is church janitor and he and his wife are members of Mr. Wilson's congregation.

Mrs. Wilson told the authorities that Elliott surrendered the letter, but grabbed for it again as the minister was putting it in his pocket. At this Mr. Wilson pulled a pistol from his pocket and fired at the Elliotts, inflicting minor hurts.

The minister then went to his own home and began sorting out his insurance policies and explaining them to his wife. While he was doing this police attempted to gain entrance to his house and the minister again obtained his gun and staged his suicide attempt.

Police took the three injured people to the Harris hospital. All will recover.

CONFERENCE ON INDIANA CASES HELD IN CAPITAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—District Attorney Oliver M. Loomis of northern Indiana, left Washington this evening, after two days of conferences with department of justice officials on vice and liquor conditions in Lake county.

Most of the afternoon was spent by the district attorney with Oscar R. Luhring, assistant attorney general in charge of criminal prosecutions and Assistant Attorney General G. A. Youngquist. Earl Davis of Detroit, the special assistant attorney general assigned to aid in the prosecution of the mayor of East Chicago, Ind., and the other defendants indicted several weeks ago in Lake county, participated in the conference. Mr. Davis probably will not return to Indiana unless an appeal is made by Mayor Raleigh P. Hale and the other defendants who were convicted on Jan. 18 of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

Woman in Prince's Party Loses $25,000 Necklace

New York, Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Officials of the Savoy Plaza hotel disclosed tonight that Mrs. Michael Ulam, wife of a wealthy Polish land owner, lost a $25,000 diamond necklace while she was staying in the hotel last month with her husband and a party of friends, including Prince Frederick Leopold of Prussia. Detectives are tracing the gems.

Haiti Nationalists Beg U. S. to Control Elections

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, Jan. 29.—(AP)—An appeal for a popular election of the legislative assembly of Haiti under American supervision is contained in a 7,000 word message which the National League of Constitutional Action has forwarded to President Hoover. The league predicts that should President Borno be re-elected by the council of state in April, or should any one "publicly or secretly designated" by him be elected, disorders will result.

Wife Charges Husband Had Acid Thrown in Her Face

Mrs. Abbie E. Kolar, 840 Monroe street, River Forest, yesterday filed a bill for divorce in the Superior court against her husband, Jerome E. Kolar, a real estate dealer, on charges of cruelty. The bill avers that the husband employed a man to throw acid in her face for $50. The Kolars were married on Feb. 17, 1914, and separated for the first time on Sept. 6, 1927. They were reconciled, but she left him again last Jan. 15.

U. S. PROTESTS FRANCO-BRITISH NAVY AGREEMENT

Stimson Says Compromise Leaves a Loophole.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 29.—The object of American Secretary of State Stimson's visit to Prime Minister MacDonald today, it was learned, was to discuss the Anglo-French naval compromise reported to have been reached today, providing for the transfer of naval tonnage from one class to another. The American view is that this plan is not practical, and would result in no naval reduction at all, as each nation would try to keep surplus ships in each category. If America persists in this attitude, the Anglo-French agreement must go by the board.

The agreement between the French and British delegates on the procedure to be followed in the limitation of naval armaments was announced by Premier Tardieu of France, who said:

"You can say that we very nearly reached a complete agreement with the British during the discussion with Prime Minister MacDonald today."

It has also been decided that Italy will not insist at the plenary session tomorrow on discussion of Premier Mussolini's proposals for the immediate establishment of ratios.

Italians Maintain Reservation.

"Sig. Grandi agreed to this today, although the Italian delegation maintains a formal reservation on this subject," M. Tardieu said.

Thus, through a clever squeeze play, Mr. MacDonald persuaded the French and Italians to proceed in accordance with the general outlines of the original Franco-British compromise agreement of 1928 which England repudiated following protests by the United States.

This scheme provides for the establishment of global tonnage, following the French thesis, but also establishes certain categories, according to the British demand, and contains a proviso stipulating that tonnages from certain classes may be transferred to other classes of warships after proper notice to all signatories. It is to this proviso that the Americans object.

May Transfer 10 Per Cent.

Premier Tardieu indicated that France has consented to envisage a transfer of as little as 10 per cent of the total tonnage.

At tomorrow's public meeting the French will open the debate. They will be followed by the British. The Italians will suggest that Rome's demands for the establishment of ratios be examined later. Neither the United States nor Japan is set down for active comment tomorrow.

A steering committee, composed of two members from each delegation, will be formally organized at tomorrow's session. France will be represented on this committee by Count Rene Massigli and M. Moysset. Great Britain by A. V. Alexander and the British dominions by Col. J. L. Ralston, Italy by Sig. Rosso and another; Japan by Tsuneo Matsudaira and Mr. Nagai, and the United States by Hugh S. Gibson and Senator David A. Reed.

Stimson Reluctant.

Secretary Stimson was reluctant to name American members to this committee, on the ground that the United States is not interested in this phase of the procedure, but he finally consented in order to round out a full committee.

The duties of the committee will be to thrash out thorny, technical questions which come up before the conference, allowing the chief delegates to go on with other problems.

Insistent reports state that the French have swung around to the British viewpoint for immediate discussion of battleships—reduction in size and guns and increase in the life of capital ships—as a part of the Franco-British compromise on the general agenda.

Premier Tardieu hopes to get the discussion sufficiently started within the next few days so that he may be permitted to go to Paris on Saturday.

FORCE RETURN OF 3 MILLION BY BLUE SKY LAW

Shady stock brokers and bucket shop operators have returned approximately $3,000,000 to their victims since April 1, Assistant State's Attorney L. P. Holt reported yesterday to State's Attorney Swanson. Holt said that the refunds were forced through the blue sky division of the state's attorney's office.

His report states that 702 cases were handled and that in 95 per cent of them restitution was made. In 98 per cent of the cases handled actual violations of the blue sky law were found to exist. In the 5 per cent of the cases where restitution was not forthcoming informations were filed in the Municipal court.

"The amount of securities not qualified by the secretary of state which we prevented from being marketed and those which were already issued but withdrawn from the market due to our activities aggregated $20,000,000," said Prosecutor Holt.

Navy Men to Taste English Farm Life Over the Week-end

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Col. and Mrs. Henry L. Stimson, Senator and Mrs. David A. Reed and many of the staff of the American delegation to the London naval conference are preparing to pass a rural week-end.

The large gardens at Warren house, Stanmore, which has been leased by the Stimsons, include a nine hole golf course, where Ambassador Dwight Morrow and his daughter, Elizabeth, played last week. There are also a hard tennis court and a billiard room.

Furnishes Own Dairy Supplies.

The farm comprises 200 acres with 100 black and white cows which supply milk, butter and cheese for the household. There is a vegetable garden, part of which is under glass, for fresh products. What impresses the American visitors is the array of eight modern bathrooms, each fitted out with the latest taps, showers, and needle baths, unique fixtures for an English country house.

There is also central heating, besides the big open chimney fireplaces. Then there is Elstree, England's Hollywood, with a half dozen big studios, close by.

Delegates to Wear Knee Pants.

The delegates will meet the duke and duchess of York for the first time at a banquet and reception on Feb. 19, to be given by the marquess and marchioness of Londonberry. Tiaras and full evening dress will be worn by the women, and court dress of black satin knee breeches and silk stockings will adorn the gentlemen.

Tomorrow all of the delegates are invited to Lady Parmoor's reception.

Mrs. Philip Snowden, wife of the chancellor of the exchequer, announces a party for Sunday afternoon for those who care to motor over.

SANITARIUM BIDS ARE OPENED AT BOARD MEETING

Bids were opened yesterday for construction of the La Rabida sanitarium for convalescent children in Jackson park at a cost of approximately $250,000, at the first meeting of a men's advisory board. The men's board will work with the women's board of the sanitarium. The meeting was in the offices of Graham, Anderson, Probst & White, architects, in the Railway Exchange building.

Construction will begin by May 1, according to Mrs. Harry R. Kurrie, 5102 Hyde Park boulevard, president of the board of the sanitarium. The sanitarium, which will provide space for 175 children between the ages of 4 and 14, will be ready for occupancy by Oct. 1, she said. It will be situated on the lake front at 65th street.

The building will be two stories high, of Spanish design, similar to that of the La Rabida convent building of the 1893 world's fair, which was used for the care of sick babies after the Jackson park sanitarium board was organized 35 years ago. It later was burned.

Dr. Robert Preble, Dr. James E. Herrick and Dr. Joseph Miller will give their services to the sanitarium without charge. Dr. Robert A. Black will head the staff, as he has done for the last 35 years. The architects supplied plans for the institution without cost.

Woman Motorist Robbed; Loot Valued at $1,800

Miss Lottie Solt, 6329 South Campbell avenue, was robbed of two diamond rings valued at $1,800 last night by two men who leaped on the running board of her car in front of her home as she was returning from a cleaning and dyeing plant at 3517 Madison street, of which she is manager. After taking the rings from her fingers, the men drove her car a block and abandoned it.

PARLEY TO TELL WORLD WHAT IT HAS DONE TODAY

Naval Delegates to Hold Full Dress Session.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 29.—This being a day off at the naval conference, all of the delegations were busy preparing for the full dress plenary meeting tomorrow morning, at which it is expected some light may be thrown on the progress that has been made thus far in reaching an agreement on preliminaries.

Prime Minister MacDonald today gave a luncheon party, at 10 Downing street, to the "big five" delegates and their wives. Other guests were Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, and Mrs. Snowden; Lord Grey of Falloden, and Walter Runciman and his wife.

Some significance was read into this party, as Lord Grey and Mr. Runciman are leaders of the anti-Lloyd George wing of the Liberal party, upon whom Mr. MacDonald is relying to a great extent for his majority in the house of commons. Lord Grey is an enthusiastic supporter of Mr. MacDonald's foreign policy, and is supposed to be willing to keep him in power until it has been worked out.

It was also interesting to note that political gossips have ascribed to Mr. Snowden responsibility for forcing Mr. MacDonald to give up his fight to scrap battleships, in favor of a holiday for battleship building. Mr. Snowden has told Mr. MacDonald that he must have $75,000,000 more revenue for social services during the next five years, and the only way to do this is to suspend battleship building. This will not, of course, provide all that is needed, but it will go a long way.

Would Save Millions.

In the house of commons today, A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, answering a question, said that the saving through a battleship building truce will amount to more than $5,000,000 in 1931, nearly $32,500,000 in 1932, more than $50,000,000 in 1933, nearly $60,000,000 in 1934, $60,000,000 in 1935 and $50,000,000 in 1936.

Mr. MacDonald today met American Secretary of State Stimson, Dino Grandi of Italy and Reijuro Wakatsuki of Japan separately.

It is learned that after Mr. MacDonald speaks at the opening of tomorrow's meeting one of the American delegates, probably Hugh Gibson, ambassador to Belgium, will give a historical review of former negotiations for limitation of navies, with special reference to the growth of the divergence between Great Britain and France on the method of limitation.

FIND LATIN FLEETS NEED MORE TONS TO HOLD TUNS OF WINE

LONDON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—There is a link between warships and wine, and the London naval conference has discovered it.

Talks between naval experts have revealed that Latin countries must have warships big enough to store wine casks for the crew. The problem is readily solved in battleships and large cruisers, but in the smaller submarines and torpedo boats it becomes serious.

The extra displacement and greater tonnage required to serve French bluejackets wine with their bread is something to be considered in fixing naval ratios between nations.

"Exactly what sort of restaurant is Henrici's?"

¶ With the ever widening spread of the fame of Henrici's, not only throughout America but even in foreign countries, come inquiries from time to time as to the underlying factors contributing to its prestige.

¶ A plain and fair question deserves a plain and fair answer.

¶ In brief, Henrici's has maintained, for almost sixty-two years, a restaurant service that is unique in many respects.

¶ Few, if any, other restaurants anywhere in the world have ever been operated, upon a scale comparable in size, with as close adherence to all the essentials of good restaurant service and as consistent avoidance of all the non-essentials.

¶ Henrici's has never subordinated food service and environment to such catch-penny allurements as "decorations," "attractions," and so forth, but upon the contrary has depended solely upon great excellence in those features which are inseparable from operation of a quality restaurant.

¶ Such a policy has pleased a large and ever growing clientele and the world knows the result. Henrici's is Henrici's, and its like is not to be found elsewhere in the world. Really, you would greatly enjoy breakfast, luncheon, dinner or late supper there today or tonight.

7 Hours in Bed and Not 7 Minutes of Sleep!

The Toll Acidity Takes

You go to bed dog-tired, but the minute you hit the pillow all sleepiness vanishes. If you do sleep at all it's only in snatches, and you wake out of these "stupors" with a strange startled feeling, sometimes in a cold sweat. Morning finds you a rag, gaunt and hollow-eyed, and barely able to crawl out of bed.

Acidity is due to our unnatural eating habits, our excessive smoking and irregular hours. The excess acid upsets digestion and causes acid-indigestion with gas and heartburn. It causes putrefaction and fermentation in the gastro-intestinal canal, which frequently results in ragged nerves, sleeplessness, loggy days and general loss of strength and vitality.

A remarkable new corrective of acidity has been developed by a famous 100 year old pharmaceutical house in Germany. As an acid corrective it begins where bicarbonate of soda leaves off. This new, improved magnesia comes in the form of small white tablets called Magnesia Oxoids, which do not have to be chewed, but which may be swallowed whole. Magnesia Oxoids, upon contact with the acid in the stomach, generate nascent, or active, oxygen! Now, active oxygen, as any doctor will tell you, when generated within the digestive tract does just the thing required for acidity. It stimulates the secretion of the alkaline mucus. It checks the putrefaction and fermentation in the gastro-intestinal canal. It exercises a stimulating effect upon the activities of the intestinal walls and aids the movement of the bowels.

All three effects are neccessary to the true relief of acidity, and Magnesia Oxoids supply them in a perfect, natural manner.

5 Day Acid Test

To ascertain just how "acid" you are, make this 5-day acid test. Get a bottle of Magnesia Oxoids from Walgreen's Drug Stores and Economical Drug Stores or any other druggist on our money-back guarantee. Take two after each meal for five days. Mark the change in your physical condition—note how much more sound and restful your sleep and how much more cheerful and active your days. If you don't sleep better and have more "pep" and power, return the balance of the Magnesia Oxoids to the druggist and he will refund your money.

HUNT GUNMAN IN ATTEMPT TO KILL PAT ROCHE

Police Seek to Link Rossi to Plot.

Ernest J. (Ernie) Rossi, gunman and alleged police killer, was being sought last night by the police in their investigation of an attempt by two men to place a bomb under the hood of the automobile of Patrick Roche, chief investigator of the state's attorney's office, early yesterday morning.

The hunt for Rossi was started when the police discovered that the description of the two men as given by an attendant at a garage at 801 East 40th street, fitted Rossi. Rossi has been sought since last May as the alleged leader of the gang which killed Detective Raymond Martin after they had been trapped while keeping an appointment to collect ransom for Phillip Blumenthal, whom they had kidnaped.

Blame Wire Tapping.

The plot on Roche's life was attributed to the mass of information which he has gleaned in the last month through tapped telephone wires, but he would not say whether he believed he was marked for death as a result of his activities against a north side robber gang. Rossi, so far as is known, has no connection with that gang.

He did not attribute the attempted bombing to his activities of early yesterday morning when he and his men —by means of advance knowledge obtained from telephone conversation—frustrated a robbery of the apartment hotel at 211 East Delaware place and fatally wounded a bandit, Andrew Wright.

Gets Information by Phone.

For several weeks the criminal element of the north side has been watched by Roche's undercover agents and their conversations on telephones have been taken down in shorthand. On Sunday night Roche and Chief of Detectives Stege made a series of raids, thereby revealing the knowledge Roche had acquired during the weeks of espionage.

Prosecutor Swanson has since been investigating the charges against Assistant State's Attorney Harry Busch and Roche was following up the advantage of having advance knowledge of the plans of several bandit gangs. Guards were placed in several north side hotels, including the 211 East Delaware place. Busch was accused of being friendly with the north side gang.

Roche and his chauffeur, Policeman John Greer, were in hiding near the offices of the apartment hotel when Wright entered and pointed a revolver at Abraham Dansk, night clerk, and forced him into an elevator to an upper floor. Then the robber took the money from the cash drawer, $24, and turned to find Policeman Greer covering him with a revolver. Wright attempted to shoot Greer but the policeman was quicker and Wright fell, mortally wounded.

Takes Car to Garage.

Roche and Greer, after sending Wright to a hospital and making other arrangements, went home. The usual routine is for Greer to drive Roche home and then take the automobile to the garage.

An hour or two later Clifford Jones, colored attendant at the garage, surprised two men who had a package wrapped in oiled paper which they were putting under the hood of Roche's car. He asked what they were doing and one of them struck him, knocking out two of his teeth. Jones called for help and the men fled, taking their package with them.

Paper Maker Dies

WARREN CURTIS.

Warren Curtis, 54 years old, president of the Ontario Paper company of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and of the Tonawanda Paper company of North Tonawanda, N. Y., subsidiaries of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, died yesterday at his home in Lewiston Heights, near Niagara Falls. Mr. Curtis had been in ill health for the last two years, but had been critically ill only for a few weeks, having returned recently from Orlando, Fla., where he had gone for his health.

Mr. Curtis was an outstanding figure in the paper manufacturing industry. He had been brought up in the paper business by his father, the late Warren Curtis, former head and one of the founders of the International Paper company. Mr. Curtis, himself, was identified with the companies which were later merged to form the International, before he took over the organization of the Ontario and Tonawanda companies, which he had headed since their inception nearly twenty years ago.

He was born in Corinth, N. Y., where his family had lived for many years and for a time attended Rensselaer Polytechnic institute in Troy, N. Y., leaving school to enter the paper business. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Madelaine A. Curtis, of Lewiston Heights; his mother, Mrs. Margaret A. Curtis; one brother, Allen, vice president of the International Paper company, and two sisters. Funeral services will be held at his home this evening, with burial at Corinth on Friday.

WILMETTE INFANT FOUND DEAD.

Anton Carlson, 2 months old, was found dead yesterday in his crib at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Carlson, 520 Gregory avenue, Wilmette. Mrs. Carlson is a daughter of Dr. N. P. Caldwell, secretary of hospital and medical education of the American Medical association.

FLOOD RACES ON, LEAVING TRAIL OF ICE OVER INDIANA

Flyers Drop More Food to Isolated Sufferers.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 29.—The worst flood in Indiana's history tonight was moving down toward the southern tip of Indiana and into Illinois, particularly threatening Posey county, Indiana, which is bounded by the Wabash and Ohio rivers.

Fear was felt tonight that ice gorges in the Wabash will cause its flood water to spread further over the country.

Ice Strip 13 to 15 Miles Wide.

Flyers assert ice already covers a strip from 13 to 15 miles wide.

Conditions are worst south of New Harmony. Eighteen families are stranded at Bowmen's Bend in the Wabash and are without food. Ten persons are isolated in a hut on Ribeyre island in the Wabash near the Little Fox island. Food was dropped today for these refugees and at five other places on the island where other houses show by relief planes.

Food also was dropped today to twenty persons isolated on Cutoff islands, and to others in the vicinity of Hawthorne island, Crawleyville.

Woman Cross Ice for Aid.

Mrs. Henry Williams and five children today walked several miles over ice, the larger children sometimes carrying the smaller ones, to reach help after fuel and food ran low in their home near Crawleyville.

Mrs. Williams said flood waters were in her home before the subzero weather that caused heavy ice formation. The swirling water, she said, shook the house on its foundation. In some cases animals were frozen in ice in barns and many horses and cattle have been without food for two weeks, she reported.

George Chamberlain and his wife, son, and daughter-in-law, living in Gibson county, north of Griffin, were unaccounted for today. They were last seen two weeks ago.

REPORT INVALID SWEDISH QUEEN CRITICALLY ILL

ROME, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Queen Victoria of Sweden, who has been an invalid for many years, is seriously ill at her villa here. King Gustav is with her. An official bulletin today said that there was persistent coughing which caused fatigue. Unsatisfactory heart functioning and a weakening of strength that aroused uneasiness. The queen, nevertheless, passed a relatively calm night. Queen Victoria is 68.

LAUNCH BATTLE AGAINST OPEN BRIDGE RULING

City's Congressmen to Meet Today.

Two meetings to protest the ruling of the war department refusing to sanction Chicago's amended bridge ordinance, planned to partially eliminate the open bridge evil, were scheduled yesterday—one in Washington, the other in Chicago.

Congressman Elliot W. Sproul [Rep.] called the capital meeting, asking all the Chicago representatives in congress to gather today to consider what should be done to safeguard the right of citizens to the use of the bridges.

Call Bridge Committee.

Ald. William A. Rowan [10th], chairman of the city council subcommittee on harbors and bridges, called a special meeting of his committee to convene next Wednesday. Both bodies, aldermen and congressmen, intend attempting to find a way around the department decision which not only refused to allow bridge closed hours to be lengthened but indicated an objection to depriving tugs of the right to force bridges to open when the river is high during closed hours.

"I do not know yet what can be done," said Congressman Sproul, "but I'll confer with the war department immediately, examine the ruling, and call the congressmen together."

Consider Two Plans.

Ald. Rowan had two plans in mind which he will suggest to his committee. Basing the first on an opinion by Corporation Counsel Ettelson, he proposed drafting a new ordinance and putting it into effect immediately, leaving the government to take steps to repeal it if it wished. The Ettelson opinion is backed by a United States Supreme court decision which upheld the city of Chicago in a suit brought by a shipping company to restrain the city from enforcing a bridge ordinance.

The alderman was also considering a trip by the committee to Washington to appeal personally to the secretary of war, Patrick J. Hurley.

Stresses Need of Action.

"Something must be done," Rowan said, "not merely to alleviate the present situation but looking to the future."

Robert Nau of the Association of Commerce, who aided in drafting the amended ordinance, will be asked to confer with the aldermen.

In Washington, Capt. Howard Yost, engineer in charge of bridges, refused to release the recommendation of Maj. H. J. Wild, Chicago government engineer, on the ordinance, and said he, Yost, had recommended the action approved by Secretary Hurley.

WOMAN OPPOSES LONDON BARTER OF U. S. DEFENSE

Decries Peril in Halting Naval Program.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—The need for caution in national disarmament was stressed tonight by Mrs. Donald MacRae of Indianapolis, national president of the American Legion auxiliary, in an address before 2,000 delegates attending the fifth annual women's patriotic conference on national defense.

Other speakers included the Rev. Thomas J. Walsh, dean of the Georgetown School of Foreign Speakers, who asserted that the most serious domestic issue now confronting the United States is the checking of communist propaganda, and Maj. O. L. Bodenhamer, national commander of the American Legion. Maj. Bodenhamer spoke in favor of universal draft legislation.

Against a Bad Bargain.

In discussing the naval reduction conference Mrs. MacRae called for an American navy second to none and expressed the hope that "our national security will not be bartered away in exchange for temporary economies" that might be effected through the failure to build ships needed for national defense.

"Our conference this year is coming at a very crucial time," Mrs. MacRae said. "I know that every one of us and every organization which we represent are sincerely hopeful that the discussions in London can produce an agreement which will lessen the load of armaments nations are required to carry. But I also know that we are all praying that our national security will not be bartered away in exchange for temporary economies or for empty pledges of peace.

Must Be "Step by Step."

"Real progress toward peace must necessarily come step by step. Precipitate action now might easily destroy the progress that has been made. I can think of no action more fatal to the cause of world peace than the premature disarming of the world's greatest and richest nation. Only by making our own peace secure can we hope to forward the cause of peace throughout the world."

KILLS WIFE FOR BURGLAR.

Washington, Ind., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Mrs. Clarence McCall, forty-five, was killed today at her home here, when her husband apparently mistook her for a burglar and shot her.

NEW DIVING BELL TAKES MEN OUT OF SUNKEN SUB

Aboard U. S. S. Falcon, Off Key West, Fla., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Successful delivery of two men from the sunken submarine S-4 by means of the O'Rourke diving bell was accomplished during safety tests here this afternoon. At the same time two members of the experimental rescue expedition successfully passed from the deck of the Falcon to the interior of the submarine through use of the bell.

The bell was lowered from the deck of the Falcon on the special hoisting machinery provided for it. Two members of the expedition who had entered the safety device before it was lowered to the depths assisted in fastening it over the motor hatch of the submarine.

They opened the hatch to permit two members of the test crew to emerge from the submarine and to effect their own entry into the sunken vessel. At completion of the change of men the hatch was relocked, the bell freed from the submarine and raised to the surface.

VESSEL PICKS UP 1,400 MAROONED ON BLEAK ISLAND

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Fourteen hundred persons, marooned on one of the bleak Tierra del Fuego islands when their ship, the Monte Cervantes, went ashore last Wednesday, today were homeward bound little worse for their adventure. A sister ship, Monte Sarmiento, picked up the 1,100 tourists and 300 crew at Ushaia yesterday.

Save 14 from Wrecked Ship.

BIARRITZ, France, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Fourteen members of the crew of the British steamer Knebworth, marooned in the fore part of the vessel, which had broken in two after going aground yesterday, were rescued this afternoon. The vessel was a total loss.

Twenty thousand spectators lined the shore near Biarritz and watched efforts to get the sailors off. Eight of the crew, including two women, were removed by a life line yesterday, but a second line broke last night.

AUTO INDUSTRY PLANS ITS PART IN WORLD'S FAIR

Leaders at Show Tell of Exhibitions.

BY HAL FOUST.

The National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors the National Automobile show, now in progress at the Coliseum, is contemplating taking an active part in Chicago's 1933 Century of Progress exposition.

Officials of the chamber have agreed that the organization will do something at the fair. It remains, however, to be decided how much money the automobile industry will spend for representation at the international exposition.

Would Show Evolution.

Some leaders in the industry are discussing plans for a motor transportation building at the fair. Inventors' models of the original horseless buggies could be borrowed from historical museums for the occasion, they believe. They say the automobile is young enough so that it would be easy to collect an exhibition showing the evolution of the motor car.

"We could reproduce the show of 1901," said J. T. Collins, general sales manager of the Olds Motor works. "We could build replicas of the electrics, steam cars, and two cylinder gas buggies of the first National Automobile show.

"Men and women could dress in the costumes of 1901 and ride in the performance tests that were staged before the dubious spectators of 1901—cars driven zigzagging between barrels to show that they could be steered and up small inclines to show that engines could pull a vehicle as well as a horse."

Aviation Day Today.

At the $5,000,000 exhibition of the 1930 automobile today is Aviation day. Airplanes and automobiles are closely related. Many devices of the gasoline engine were invented for the land vehicle and perfected in the air. Several manufacturers are producing both planes and cars.

The National show will continue daily, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 10:30 p. m., until Saturday night.

Portrait of Principal Gift of Lane Tech Class

A portrait of Grant Beebe, principal of the Lane Technical High school, will be presented to the school tonight at the mid-year graduating exercises, which will be held in Medinah temple, Cass and Ohio streets. The presentation will be made by Charles Schroeder of the 1930 mid-year class, which numbers 364. Bernard Fried, class president, will preside and Judge Harry B. Miller is to deliver the principal address.

AUTO SHOW NOTES

De Soto distributors and dealers will hold a luncheon at the Congress this noon with J. E. Field, president of the manufacturing corporation, as the principal speaker.

W. S. Knudsen, president of Chevrolet, will arrive in Chicago this morning for a two day session with his sales organization.

F. J. Haynes, president of Durant, at an annual meeting yesterday of his midwestern dealers, said that current retail sales indicate a prosperous 1930 for the distributors and agents, as well as the manufacturing company.

The annual luncheon of the Marmon distributors and dealers of Chicago and the mid-west, to be held today at the Palmer house, will be addressed by G. M. Williams, president of the company, and Thomas E. Jarrard, the general sales director.

James M. Cleary, general sales manager of Studebaker, yesterday described performance records of stock cars as a guarantee for purchasers.

The Ford show at the First Regiment armory is attracting aviation enthusiasts as well as automobile fans.

COALITION FAILS TO SMASH DUTY ON STRAW HATS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—The senate coalition failed today in four separate roll calls to batter down proposed duties on straw hats.

Senator A. W. Barkley [Dem., Ky.] led the attack upon increased rates carried in the house tariff bill and approved by the senate finance committee. While about a dozen Republicans supported his various amendments to reduce duties, six Democrats deserted the coalition ranks.

METZ'S MEMORY PROVES HAZY ON CHECK FOR KING

German Dye Men's Agent Evades Grilling.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Careless bookkeeping methods and a faulty memory, combined with the indulgence of low tariff members of the senate's lobby committee who have bulldozed other witnesses into tears, made it possible today for Herman A. Metz, American agent for the German dyestuff monopoly, to escape what otherwise might have been a most unpleasant experience.

As it was, to the great disgust of Senator Arthur Robinson [Rep., Ind.], the only Republican member, Metz was excused with the committee's thanks after calmly asserting that he kept no record of his contributions to the campaign funds of Senator W. H. King [Dem., Utah], and could not even remember the name of the New York bank on which he drew a check for $1,000 in the senator's favor in 1928.

He sought to corroborate Senator King's assertion that the check was never cashed, but failed to produce bank books, records or statements as evidence and admitted that while he mailed it to the senator in October, 1928, it was nine months later before he learned from Senator King that the check had been destroyed unused.

Metz Escapes Traps.

Senators T. H. Caraway [Dem., Ark.] and J. J. Blaine [Rep., Wis.] snickered and whispered together or smiled encouragement at Metz as the latter slipped out of the traps laid for him by their protectionist colleague, Robinson.

Senator T. J. Walsh [Dem., Mont.], whose reputation as the senate's most brilliant cross-examiner is built upon his baiting of witnesses with poor or convenient memories, slipped quietly out of the room without asking a question after Metz completed his version of the contributions to King.

Metz, whose name was brought into the lobby inquiry by Samuel Russell, King's former secretary, is a former congressman from New York, a lobbyist himself of acknowledged ability and the employer of Dr. Eugene R. Pickrell, another dye lobbyist, who, it was charged, made the Utah senator's office his headquarters during the framing of the pending tariff bill. Hampered by the frequent interruptions of Caraway until he silenced the latter with a sharp rebuke, Robinson finally established that Metz is president of the General Dyestuff corporation and vice president and treasurer of the American I. G., a subsidiary of the German I. G., or dye cartel, which, through interlocking directors, controls a number of American dyestuff or chemical companies.

Robinson Interrupted.

"That hasn't a thing in the world to do with the inquiry," was Caraway's characteristic interjection when Robinson was attempting to show that Metz was active in the opposition to the proposed dye embargo in the 1922 tariff bill.

"Well, now, here," snapped Senator Robinson, losing his temper, "you, Mr. Chairman, went back to the Dingley tariff and the McKinley tariff—as far back as 1896 or 1897—when you were examining protectionist advocates. I do not see any reason why we can't go back now to 1922."

"O, go ahead, go ahead," said Caraway, hastily.

Robinson and Metz clashed heatedly when the senator asked if the principal reason for organization of the American I. G. was not to control the dye and chemical industry here until American competition could be smothered and the German interests could come into the open.

"Nonsense, nonsense," blustered Metz, explaining that the American I. G. was necessary because German dyes could not be profitably imported under existing tariffs.

"You were interested in the Smith campaign in 1928?" asked Robinson.

Friend of Former Governor.

"Gov. Smith and I had been friends for years," declared Metz.

"Did you tour the country for him?"

"No, but if you want the King story now, here it is: I was on a trip to Alaska and, returning, I stopped off at Salt Lake City to see Senator King. I discussed the Smith campaign in Utah. I had met the senator in Smith headquarters in New York. I said to him I would be glad to help if I could. He said he didn't think it was needed. Later I sent him a check for $1,000."

"Where's the stub of the check?"

"That's the funny part of it. I stayed up till after 10 o'clock last night and find I haven't any record of that check."

Senator King denied any knowledge of the 1922 contribution.

EXPECT SPRING BUILDING TO AID JOB SITUATION

Chicago builders believe that spring construction programs will be opened with renewed activity and will stimulate employment for building trades, mechanics and laborers, according to E. M. Craig, secretary and general manager of the Building Construction Employers' association.

Mr. Craig stated the builders and architects have adopted a slogan of "Build Now" and hope an immediate start is made toward stimulating the building through home remodeling and general repair work in some of the larger types of industrial structures.

Bargain sales yesterday resulted in a near riot at the Leiter stores at State and Van Buren streets when bargain hunters and job seekers tried to jam their way into the old Seigel-Cooper building. Extra police were called. Several women fainted.

ART COLLECTION UNDAMAGED IN EVANSTON FIRE

A collection of oil paintings, curios, and autographed scientific documents of inestimable value was threatened but escaped undamaged yesterday when fire swept through the central portion of the home of Richard F. Gloede, florist and naturalist, at 1405 Central street, Evanston. A few Indian relics which Mr. Gloede had collected in his travels were destroyed but the greater part of the damage was confined to the house and furnishings, with a loss of $10,000 to $15,000.

The blaze started, apparently from defective wiring, between the ceiling of the second floor and the roof, the crackling of the flames awaking Mr. and Mrs. Gloede just as a neighbor telephoned to inform them that the roof was ablaze. The fire swept through four rooms of the second floor of the mansion, but did not reach the west wing where the paintings and other treasures were kept.

Included in the collection which was saved was a document autographed by the late Luther Burbank, with whom Mr. Gloede had worked in scientific research. Mr. Gloede was the originator of the Gloede wonder berry, which he obtained by crossing the strawberry and the raspberry.

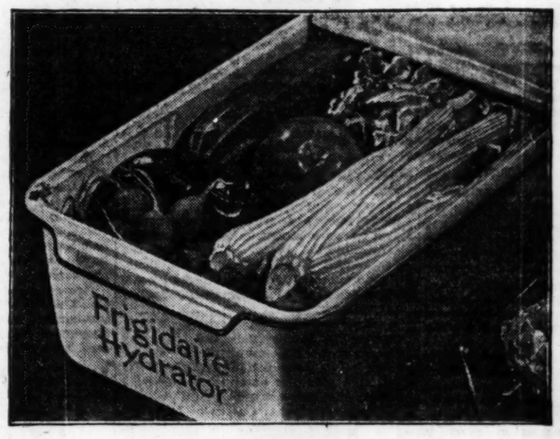
Wilted vegetables become fresh in the Frigidaire HYDRATOR



This new moist air compartment gives lettuce and celery that "fresh from the garden" taste. See it demonstrated at our showroom . . . NOW

NOW you can have tender celery that breaks with a snap. You can have lettuce that crackles with crispness. You can have better-flavored vegetables and salads than ever before. For every household Frigidaire is now equipped with the Hydrator.

Simplifies marketing—saves time and trouble

This marvelous new compartment combines cold and moisture in a way that freshens vegetables and keeps them full-flavored until they come to your table. It enables you to buy celery, lettuce, tomatoes and other salad materials in larger quantities. You can make fewer trips to market. And you can have all of these benefits without sacrificing the dry, frosty cold in your other food compartments. For the Hydrator confines the moisture to this one drawer.

Demonstration now going on

Besides the Hydrator, Frigidaire is also equipped with the famous "Cold Control" . . . a simple, patented device that permits Frigidaire's extra power to be used for faster freezing of ice and desserts. And to make Frigidaire still more convenient, still more practical, still more beautiful . . . every household model is now rust-proof Porcelain-on-steel inside and out.

But see all of these features. See for yourself how they save time, work and trouble. By all means see a complete demonstration of the Hydrator. Call at our display room today.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

SPAIN ON EDGE AS NEW PREMIER LINES UP CABINET

Troops Patrol Madrid to Curb Riots.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, Jan. 29.—Gen. Damaso Berenguer, Spain's new premier, announced late tonight that he hopes to form a cabinet by tomorrow. If he does not, observers say, it's all over with him.

The downfall of Gen. Primo de Rivera as dictator has given a big boost to the republicans, and if Gen. Berenguer cannot clamp on the lid quickly, the monarchy itself may be doomed, it is said. All day today Gen. Berenguer was in communication with prominent political leaders, who live outside of Madrid. He has invited many of them to rush to the capital immediately.

Primo's Son Slated for Job.

José de Rivera, son of the former dictator has been proposed for the job of minister of the navy and is due in Madrid late tonight with Gen. Francisco Cambo. The latter may be offered the portfolio of minister of finance, and should he refuse, Gen Berenguer may offer it to Senor Figueras, director of the Bank of Spain, with whom he held a long conference.

Others mentioned for cabinet posts are the marquis de Foronta, as minister of foreign affairs; Comte Mortera, as minister of agriculture or public works, and Rosso Olana, as minister of labor. The duke of Alba has already accepted the ministry of public instruction.

Late tonight students went through the streets of Madrid, rioting and shouting "Long live the republic!"

This incident itself doesn't mean much, politicians agree, but the delay in forming a government gives the republicans time to gather their forces.

New Premier Faces Danger.

The republicans, however, are not the only danger Gen. Berenguer must face. The Catalonian question has always been a powder barrel in Spain, and the present conflict of forces may easily set it off. So far there is no threat of actual rebellion, but Catalan leaders are clamoring loudly for independence.

There is also danger from the extreme right, and rumors of a plot to upset the new government and put a new dictator in office have been heard.

Gen. Berenguer is taking no chances. The capital was patrolled throughout the day of regiments of carabiniers, as if the city were in a state of siege.

Orders Strict Censorship.

The most significant event of all came late tonight, when the new premier showed his teeth by announcing a strict censorship. This news came as a shock to liberal leaders, who were counting on Gen. Berenguer to bring about a return to parliamentary government.

All indications are that Gen. Berenguer will rule with an iron hand, at least until the present crisis is past. He claims stern measures for control will only be adopted to meet emergencies and to preserve order. Once the government is safely installed, he may ease up.

It is certain that the new chief has the support of King Alfonso and the conservative leaders, but nevertheless the danger of a revolution is not exaggerated. Primo de Rivera, himself, declared early yesterday that the country still needs a dictator. He added that he would "continue to serve the country and give my life if necessary."

Students Hold Mock Funeral.

SEVILLE, Spain, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Students here today expressed enthusiasm at the resignation of Premier Primo de Rivera by holding a mock funeral of the former dictator.

The funeral parade began at the yard of the university and, passing through the main streets, ended at the building of the patriotic union, where a mock burial took place, amidst loud voiced denunciations of Primo and his administration.

Suppress Newspaper.

VALENCIA, Spain, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Police today suppressed the newspaper La Voz Valenciano because it carried news of resignation of the dictator, Gen. Primo de Rivera. No reason was given. Classes were suspended at the law school because of a student strike.

ATLANTA LAWYER KILLS SELF.

Fort Myers, Fla., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Ben J. Conyers, 65, prominent Atlanta lawyer, recuperating here from a nervous breakdown, shot and killed himself today while walking near the home of Thomas A. Edison.

ALD. COUGHLIN'S AID IS ARRESTED AS EMBEZZLER

Marcus Hill, 34 years old, for three years a bookkeeper for Ald. John J. Coughlin of the First ward in the latter's insurance office, was being held at the detective bureau last night charged with embezzling $8,000 from the alderman. Hill was arrested yesterday in Coughlin's office at 118 North La Salle street after the police had disarmed him of two revolvers and a knife.

Hill, it was charged, had received checks addressed to the insurance office, indorsed them and cashed them himself, making debit entries on the books to show the accounts paid.

After Coughlin discovered the shortage he discharged Hill but the bookkeeper kept his key to the office, according to the police, and continued to visit the place, taking several more checks.

Hill was sitting with Coughlin in the alderman's office yesterday when Detective Sergeants Thomas Barlow and Thomas Baynes entered the room with a warrant. When they showed Hill the warrant for his arrest, he whipped out a revolver, the policemen said. The detectives grabbed him and wrested the gun from him. They searched him and found another gun and a bowie knife, they said.

Hill admitted that he had taken money from Ald. Coughlin, according to the police.

He said he had opened an account in the alderman's name to enable him to cash the checks and that he had withdrawn the money in varying sums, generally in gold coin which he hid at his chicken farm near Elgin. The police took him to the farm, which covers 26 acres, but could not find the gold.

Florida Wind Kills Girl as It Demolishes Houses

Orlando, Fla., Jan. 29.—(AP)—A high windstorm swept through the town of Lake Weir, 18 miles south of Ocala in Marion county, today, killing a Negro girl and demolishing a number of houses, according to reports brought here tonight by motorists.

TELEGRAPH CHIEF ADVOCATES CURB ON COMPETITION

The elimination of "ruinous competition" from the communication business and the substitution of "coordinate services," a suggestion bordering on monopoly, was made yesterday by Col. A. H. Griswold, executive vice president of the Postal Telegraph-Cable company, at the weekly luncheon of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

In Chicago from New York to open formally the new headquarters of his company in the Insurance Exchange building, Col. Griswold spoke before more than 500 business men at the Hotel La Salle.

Speaking of the future of communication, Col. Griswold predicted that many types in use today will be obsolete tomorrow.

"Particularly will this be true," he said, "if the great communication companies are permitted to bring about coördinate services so that their time, energy and money can be spent on research and development of service rather than on the duplication of efforts in plants, personnel and the solicitation of business."

Col. Griswold said he favored government regulation of communication.

FIVE DAY WEEK ANNOUNCED FOR TEXTILE MILLS

New York, Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Donald A. Daniels, partner in the dry goods firm of Daniels & Co., with mills in New York, Pennsylvania, North Carolina and Georgia, announced today his firm will start on a five day week schedule beginning Feb. 1—a five day week of 46 working hours. The present schedule is a six day week of 46 working hours. The announcement says that Donald A. Daniels learned from the Henry Ford company executives that the five day week has advantages of increased production per person and mutual satisfaction between employer and employé.

5 HELD IN WEIRD DEATH PUZZLE AT NEWTON, ILL.

Woman, Whisky, and a Hidden Treasure.

BY ORVILLE DWYER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Newton, Ill., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—After more than six weeks' investigation, Coroner Roy McCormick and State's Attorney Homer Kasserman of Jasper county, tonight announced they would ask the grand jury to determine who killed George Dovel in his farm home, seven miles west of here, last Dec. 10.

Five persons, including Fannie Dovel, the widow, and Sheriff Steve McKinney, were in or about the house when Dovel was fatally shot an inch above and three inches behind the right ear. Yet the affair remains a mystery with all the elements of a movie thriller.

Fannie Dovel's red haired charms figure. Fannie is in her buxom forties; Dovel was 67. It is in the testimony that Fannie made love to other men, and that Dovel, her elderly husband, was insanely jealous.

Enter the "Hidden Treasure."

Other strange angles to the case include a "hidden treasure" of $5,000—Dovel had a map showing its location under a certain rock out in the country, near Lone Jack, Mo. And the final movie thrill is supplied by the report that Dovel's house was mined with dynamite and that Dovel had threatened to blow it up.

Witnesses in the case are Dr. J. W. Hutton and Sheriff McKinney of Newton, William ["Baldy"] Davis of Collinsville; George Williams of Deterich, Ray Murphy of Robinson; Fannie, the widow, and Mildred Varvel, 18 years old. Harry C. Johnson, another witness is being sought.

Mildred, who had lived in the Dovel home for several months, and Johnson, who had been there several weeks, left separately the day before the fatal shooting. Mildred, however, gave important testimony concerning the family life of Dovel and Fannie Dovel. She testified she saw Fannie Dovel before she went to testify at the inquest, and added: "She wanted me to help her try to make the case appear to be a suicide."

Not one of those in or about the Dovel home when Dovel was shot would admit they saw him shoot himself. Each one's testimony conflicted with the testimony of every other except that they all were eager to swear they believed Dovel fired the fatal shot into his own brain from behind.

Coroner's Jury Skeptical.

Dr. Hutton was involved both as a friend of the Dovels and as the physician called to attend him after he was shot. Dr. Hutton testified he found powder marks on the wound and he believed Dovel could have shot himself. Dr. Bernard Webber of Olney, Ill., who made the autopsy for the state, agreed with him.

In spite of all that the coroner's jury decided it was murder. The verdict was that Dovel came to his death from a gunshot wound inflicted by an unknown person. The jury recommended that all the witnesses except Dr. Hutton and the sheriff be held on their own recognizance under $1,000 bonds to insure their appearance before the grand jury.

Two shots were fired when Dovel was fatally wounded. Two different "death guns" were produced at different periods of the inquiry.

Widow Produces First.

Fannie Dovel gave the coroner a nickel plated revolver, .32 caliber, which she said Dovel used to kill himself. When Dr. Webber removed the bullet it was discovered such a bullet could not have been fired from the nickel plated gun. Then Dr. Hutton produced a blue steel revolver which the bullet fitted and said that was the one Dovel used.

Davis, referred to as the Dovels' hired man, testified that Dr. Hutton pushed the nickel plated gun into his stomach out at the Dovel home after Dovel had died on Dec. 11.

"He told me to go out and fire it twice," Davis said under oath. "I refused. He pushed it into my ribs again and ordered me to do it. I was afraid I would get shot, so I went out and fired it two times into the ground."

Dr. Hutton brands that testimony as a lie.

The Physician Explains.

Explaining he knew nothing of the shiny gun, he said about the one he produced:

"This blue steel one was lying on the bed when I got out there to attend Dovel. Fannie said she never wanted to see it again. She said, 'Take it, Doc, it probably will be all you'll ever get out of this visit.' I picked it up and tossed it into my grip. And when I thought the time had come when the coroner wanted it I simply took it over and handed it to him."

Fannie Dovel testified she was in the dining room about 8 p. m., on Dec. 10, Dovel had just walked into the bedroom with the remark that he was going to bed

"Baldy Davis was in the room with me," she told the jury. "I was going to bed too and I was taking off my shoes and stockings. All of a sudden I heard two shots.

"I ran into the bedroom and there was George lying on the bed and the pillow all blood."

All the testimony was vague and uncertain as to details. Sheriff McKinney said he went there with Murphy to collect on a $22 bad check that Johnson had given Murphy for auto repairs. Dovel gave Murphy the $22, it was stated, and took the check. The sheriff and Murphy had got there some time in the afternoon and remained "for supper."

The sheriff testified he was just walking back to his car when somebody shouted, "George has shot himself." He said he heard no shots. Murphy, Williams, and Davis testified that they had "just stepped out on the porch for a smoke," when they heard the reports of the revolver and Fannie called to them that Dovel had shot himself. The porch is an open one. Coroner McCormick said Dec. 10 was a damp, drippy day; there was a lot of fog.

Mildred Varvel testified she saw Johnson kiss Fannie and make love to her. She told of a party which Dr. Hutton, among others, attended several weeks before the fatal party.

Describe Jealous Brawl.

"Everybody got drunk at this party," Mildred said. "Late in the evening, Fannie was sitting on the piano bench. She asked Doc Hutton to let her wear one of his diamonds. He gave it to her. Then George got angry and went into the bedroom and took a gun out of his drawer. He went out of the house and said he would kill himself or kill somebody else. Dr. Hutton left. Fannie had given him back the diamond because she was scared of George."

Mildred said Dr. Hutton was a frequent visitor at the Dovel home and that he brought liquor with him.

Dr. Hutton said to the reporter Mildred was simply dreaming or willfully lying in her testimony. He showed a Masonic ring.

"That's the only diamond I wear," he said, "and nobody is going to get that off my finger. Somebody is trying to hurt my reputation in this case, but they'll find they can't do it."

The doctor admits he's had his shooting scrapes. State's Attorney Kassermann says he was tried some years ago for the murder of one Charles Swick and was acquitted.

Dr. Hutton got into a battle with Cecil Fithian several years ago. It was over politics. He shot Fithian, but the latter recovered. The doctor was sentenced to 60 days in jail. He simply moved his office to the jail and carried on his medical and surgical practice from there. He chuckles yet when he tells about that.

That Missing Stiff.

Dovel had lived in the county for many years. Before prohibition he was the owner of a licensed government distillery. Some time after prohibition the big copper still disappeared from the building and the structure burned down. Prohibition forces suspect the still is in operation yet in Jasper county, but they have never been able to locate it.

The coroner and state's attorney got information about a secret "dynamite cellar" under Dovel's house from sources they won't reveal. One version given them was that Dovel mined the home himself and was ready to set off the mine if prohibition forces ever came to search his house again.

The map showing the location of the hidden $5,000 was found on Dovel when the coroner searched his body. He had made one trip to Missouri in an effort to get it. Johnson was said to have hidden the money there and given Dovel the map while he was serving time on the state penal farm.

TWO CONFESS DOUBLE KILLING IN DETROIT HIJACKING GUN FIGHT

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Byron Summerville and Harold Price were said by police this afternoon to have confessed participating in the slaying of George Einkorn and Louis Davis during an attempt to hijack Einkorn's saloon here Nov. 29. Harold Gregg, alleged leader of the gang, has made no statement yet.

The three suspects were assembled in Detroit last night. Summerville was arrested in Detroit. Gregg was brought back from Elgin, Ill., and Price from Rome, Ga.

Joseph Yeomans, reported to have been a fourth member of the gang, was fatally injured in the gun battle in the saloon.

You Meet Septics in the movies!

There is a certain fastidiousness which habits of cleanliness cannot achieve alone. The person you sometimes suspect of carelessness may have bathed within the hour.

If you are a septic, soap and water will not solve the difficulty. Nor will any refreshant neutralize unpleasant vaporings of the body, or the breath for any length of time.

Nobody is septic by nature. It is a condition anyone can correct. Just a few days are sufficient to take the taint out of perspiration, and render one's breath as pure as can be; and this perfect personal cleanliness made permanent. Ask any doctor—or nurse—about Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

You may not know whether you are a septic. Try Stuart's Calcium Wafers, and see! If there is any stagnant matter in the system, everything will speedily be sweet and clean. Your skin will be less acrid; color improved; this colonic correction even brightens eyes and whitens teeth! And you will never need another harsh cathartic from the time you have learned to prevent even semi-constipation by just occasionally taking a tiny calcium wafer.

MAKE THIS TEST

A five-day test should prove to you very conclusively the system's need for Stuart's Calcium Wafers, and the decided benefit from these little wafers. Your druggist has them—the test size for pocket is 10c. Or the family size, 60c.

JOAN BENNETT SUES EX-HUSBAND AND HIS BRIDE

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Complaining of nonsupport of their daughter, Adrienne Ralston Fox, Joan Bennett, talking picture star, today brought suit in Superior court here against her former husband, John Marion Fox, and his bride of a little more than a month, the former Miss Polly Perkins, daughter of W. D. Perkins, Seattle banker.

The actress said that she was seeking only support for the daughter. Miss Bennett and Fox were married in London Sept. 15, 1926, and divorced two years later in Los Angeles.

The actress declared that Fox had refused to have anything to do with his daughter and had ignored a Los Angeles Superior court order in which he was directed to support the child until further order of the court.

The name of the second Mrs. Fox was joined to Miss Bennett's complaint, attorneys for the star explained, because part of the $1,275 which the actress says is owing became due after his second marriage.

MacDonald's Son Leaves for West on Air Liner

CONVICT WOMAN WHO FIRED SHOTS IN COURTROOM

Mrs. Ida Dembo Burt, sister of a former assistant state's attorney, was found guilty yesterday by a jury in Judge Jacob Hopkins' court of a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. She fired several shots last summer in the courtroom of Municipal Judge John F. Haas after a judgment had been returned against her.

The jury found Mrs. Burt guilty of the misdemeanor count of the indictment. She can be punished for any period from one day to one year in the Bridewell in the discretion of the judge. A motion for a new trial will be heard on Feb. 7.

DRYS USE TEAR GAS IN RAID ON SOUTH SIDE FLAT

Dry agents who went to serve a search warrant at 1444 East 66th street yesterday had to use tear gas to convince Mrs. Mabel Kerche, who resides there, of their right to enter. Mrs. Kerche refused to admit the raiders and Agents Ewing and Maynard fired a tear gas shell through the doorway, which was barred with a chain burglar lock. The woman's husband, Charles Kerche, seized a rifle and threatened the agents, but was blinded by the gas and disarmed. Several cases of beer were found in the flat, according to the agents.

CERMAK BALKS GRAND STAND BID TO PARTY TICKET

A. J. Cermak, president of the county board, balked an effort by several leaders of the county managing committee yesterday to stampede him into announcing himself as a candidate for renomination for that office.

"I specifically requested that this subject be not brought up," he said as he halted what looked like a runaway effort to draft him. "I did not want anything that smacked of a grandstand play. I fully realize all the aspects of the situation mentioned here; but don't do this! Don't beg me! If I can see my way clear to be a candidate I won't run out."

Confers with Family.

Later he told friends that he was dining dinner with members of his family who are anxious that he heed the physician's advice and surrender the presidency of the board. He said he would give his "absolutely final" decision either today or tomorrow.

The demand that Cermak reconsider his determination announced several weeks ago came at a meeting of the county committee to approve the local slate drafted by the leaders in secret caucuses. The proposed ticket was announced in its entirety with the exception of a selection for the head of the county board. The slate committee had agreed, after arguing for four hours with Cermak, that the filling of this place was to be left to a special subcommittee consisting of Ald. John J. Clark, chairman of the executive committee, Cermak, as chairman of the county central committee; Representative Michael L. Igoe, County Clerk Sweitzer, and County Recorder Keith, chairman of the managing committee.

City members county board—Commissioners Wheaton and Kavanagh, Daniel Ryan, State Representative Charles H. Weber, Miss Amelia Sarr, Mrs. Glenn E. Plumb, Miss Mary Holloway, Peter M. Kelly, and Walter J. La Buy.

This list includes three women and it was predicted that the slate of five candidates for commissioners from the country towns, being made up by the executive committee of the country towns organization, will include a north, Mrs. E. J. Fleming of Evanston.

Without naming the offender, the committee passed resolutions condemning a member of the managing committee for collecting funds "on the pretense that they were to be employed for the benefit of the Democratic party" and a special committee consisting of Igoe, Clark, and Andrew J. Leyden was appointed to "investigate and take such action as shall be deemed advisable."

WASHINGTON NOTES

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29.—(AP)—The question of the right of Gov. Emerson of Wyoming to fill the vacancy of the late Senator Warren by the appointment of Senator Patrick Sullivan was referred to a subcommittee by the senate elections committee.

A monument commemorating the end of the war between the states, to be constructed at Appomattox, is proposed in a bill introduced by Representative Tucker [Dem., Va.].

The house interstate commerce committee approved the Parker bill to provide for the coördination of the public health activities of the government and the setting up of a national advisory health council.

The Wainwright bill to prevent use of the flag and insignia of the United States for advertising purposes was approved by the house judiciary committee.

A suggestion that the American government appoint a minister to Haiti rather than a commissioner, and in this way establish civil instead of military relations with the Negro republic, is known to have been placed before the state department.

The senate passed the Elliott bill to increase the federal road aid expenditures from $75,000,000 annually to $125,000,000 for the next three years.

"PARROT FEVER" KILLS MAN; TRACE BIRD TO CHICAGO

Roundup, Mont., Jan. 29.—(AP)—John Ashment, 54, died at his home here late last night from a disease diagnosed by local and state health officers as psitticosis or "parrot fever." He had been ill eleven days. His wife, Mrs. Amelia Ashment, 48, is suffering from the same malady.

Sent from Chicago.

Helena, Mont., Jan. 29.—(AP)—A parrot sent from Chicago as a Christmas present tonight was said by Dr. W. F. Cogswell, secretary of the state board of health, to have transferred psitticosis or "parrot fever" to Mr. and Mrs. John Ashment of Roundup. The Ashments told health officers they received a parrot from relatives there last Easter and returned this one because the bird could not talk.

The name of the Chicago relative was given as Robert Shatkus, 2077 Canalport avenue, Chicago. Shatkus was reported to have purchased the parrot from the Capital Pet Shop, Inc., 327 West Madison street, Chicago.

Springfield, Mo., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Sale of the million dollar fruit farms near Hollister belonging to Mrs. Ella Davis, picturesque figure in Taney county and widow of the late Dr. Achilles Davis, noted Chicago surgeon, under a sheriff's hammer to satisfy debts amounting to nearly $81,000 has been forestalled. Through an offer of Springfield creditors and the interest of a life insurance company and the Missouri Pacific railroad in the development of the White River district, a settlement was agreed upon today. The sale had been set for Feb. 20.

C. F. BUCK ENTERS RACE FOR STATE TREASURERSHIP

Seeks G.O.P. Nomination at April Primary.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Clarence F. Buck, director of agriculture in Gov. Emmerson's cabinet, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for state treasurer in the primaries next April 8.

Mr. Buck was born and raised in Monmouth, Warren county, and was graduated from Monmouth college. He was publisher of the Monmouth Daily Atlas for a number of years, held several local offices in Monmouth, then entered the state senate, where he served two terms. He was the father of the present state banking law.

He retired from the senate to become director of the United States shipping board. Upon the completion of the work of this board Mr. Buck became United States collector of customs in the Chicago district, later taking charge of the organization of new state banks in the office of auditor of public accounts. He was made director of agriculture upon the beginning of the administration of Gov. Emmerson.

Mr. Buck has served as chairman of the Warren county committee, president of the Illinois League of Republican Clubs, and member of the state central committee.

He conducted Frank O. Lowden's national campaign for President in 1928 and was a delegate at large to the Republican national convention at Kansas City.

He is well known as a farmer and live stock breeder.

FRANKLIN FORT RESIGNS G. O. P. SECRETARYSHIP

Other Duties Demand Time, He Says.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Representative Franklin W. Fort [Rep., N. J.] announced his resignation tonight as secretary of the Republican national committee.

In a letter to Claudius D. Huston, chairman of the committee, Mr. Fort asked to be relieved of his duties at once, stating that he felt he should give more time to his business and congressional duties than was possible while he held the secretarial post. He recalled in his letter that he had asked to be relieved several times since the election of President Hoover.

In resigning, Mr. Fort said the affairs of the party were in splendid shape, adding that "there is no question in any sound mind of the fact that the President is now stronger with the rank and file of the nation even than on the day of his triumphant election."

"Nor can there by any doubt," he continued, "that the continuance of his fine spirit of transforming the ideals of the American people into practical reality, as in the farm relief legislation and the calling of the London conference, for example, will lead to yet greater triumphs in the future."

Walter Newton, President Hoover's political secretary, denied tonight that Mr. Fort was resigning for any reasons other than those suggested in his letter to Mr. Huston.

"Mr. Fort only took the position at the Kansas City convention to please the President," Mr. Newton said. "President Hoover urged him to take the post and Mr. Fort accepted. It was agreed that he could resign after the election. He suggested retiring last fall, but finally agreed to stay on until spring. After Mr. Huston was named chairman he consented to remain on until the new chairman became familiar with his duties."

Chairman Huston tonight accepted the resignation of Representative Fort and expressed regret at the latter's decision to retire.

"While your letter of Jan. 29 is not a surprise, because of previous discussions we have had, it is a matter of sincere regret to me that you have finally decided to tender your resignation as secretary of the Republican national committee," he said. "I am accepting same because I appreciate that it is not fair to you to ask you to continue longer, yet I am doing so with a feeling of personal loss which I am sure will be shared by every member of the national committee.

"It is true that the affairs of the party are in splendid shape and it is due you to say that this fortunate condition can be attributed largely to the splendid service you have rendered the party and the skillful manner in which you have administered the duties of your office."

ment over the bakery. Both of them were cut by flying glass and were treated at the Alexian Brothers hospital. In the next building, at 2153 Southport, Mrs. Patricia Morris was struck by flying glass as the concussion threw her to the floor.

Half a block away on Webster avenue John McCabe, 2253 Clybourn avenue, was knocked down and bruised.

Two Hurt in Restaurant.

William Petrasko, 927 George street, and George Stankil, 1348 Webster avenue, were sitting at the counter in the restaurant of Nickolas Stroria, 2200 Southport avenue, when the front window of the restaurant was smashed by the blast, showering them with broken glass. Petrasko was cut on the face and hands and Stankil on the legs and arms.

Henry Gadomski and his wife, Orsula, were thrown from their beds at 1409 Webster avenue, and a picture falling from the wall struck Mrs. Gadomski on the head, inflicting a scalp wound. All of their six children, who were in the flat, were thrown to the floor, and one, Walter, 9 years old, was cut on his feet and hands by the shattered glass of a window.

Girl Is Injured.

At 2187 Clybourn avenue, Vincent Macudzinski and his family of ten were shaken and Martha, 17 years old, his daughter, was thrown across the room by the force of the explosion. Her leg was injured.

A Shell Oil station at 2190 Clybourn avenue, sheltered between two large buildings, felt the force of the explosion, which tore out all of its windows, and every window in the six story plant of Zangerle & Peterson, furniture manufacturers, at 2164-72 Clybourn avenue, was blown out.

Every window in the four story building of the Baby Bath company, 2144 Southport avenue, was broken.

Edward Miller, his wife and child were knocked from bed at 2133 Southport avenue and the three members of the family of Howard Schultz were knocked down in another flat in the same building. Lillian Richards was cut on the hands and face and was taken to the Grant hospital after she and her father were thrown from their beds at 2148 Southport avenue, two doors from the wrecked building. Her sister, Mrs. Olive Dolezal, 1615 Keenan avenue, who was visiting another sister, Mrs. Edward Landon, on the second floor of the building, was knocked from a chair and badly shaken.

The Alexian Brothers' hospital at 1200 Belden avenue, two blocks away, was shaken.

Crowd of 2,000 Gathers.

As the roar of the explosion was dying away hundreds of residents rushed from their homes to the street, the tinkling of glass sounding in all directions as windows, loosened by the concussion, fell to the ground. A crowd of 2,000 persons gathered at the scene within a few minutes, and the police roped off the area around the building to prevent injury to the crowds.

Fire apparatus arrived a few minutes after the blast and searched the ruins. No evidence of the large stock of olive oil and cheese which Cullotta said was in the building could be found, although several large drums, supposed to have contained olive oil, were discovered.

Clement Munch, an employé of the Peoples Gas, Light and Coke company, was nearby and ran to the scene when he heard the blast. He made an immediate investigation and determined, he said, that the explosion was not caused by leaking gas, and his statement that the blast had been caused by a bomb was borne out by Lieut. Kelly and Policeman Farrell. Neither Farrell nor McCabe saw any one leave the building before the explosion.

FOLLIES GIRL, ONCE A BARMAID, DIES IN ARTIST'S STUDIO

New York, Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Bobby Storey, former London barmaid, whose beauty won her fame as a Ziegfeld Follies show girl, was found dead of gas poisoning today in the studio apartment of Raymond F. Holland, an artist. Although Medical Examiner Charles G. Norris said there was little doubt the case was one of suicide, he ordered the body removed to the morgue for an autopsy and the police began an investigation.

Miss Storey, in private life Mrs. R. E. Foster, was 24 years old. She was brought here from England about five years ago by Florenz Ziegfeld. After making her "mark" in the Follies she played in Earl Carroll's Vanities and later went to the Shuberts'.

The girl's home was at Whittelsby, England. She was employed as a maid behind the bar at Rule's Covent Garden alehouse when she became stagestruck. Her vivacious beauty, auburn hair, and slim figure won her a place in Charlot's Revue, where she was found by a Ziegfeld "scout" and given her chance to come to New York.

OFFICERS IN FOUR STATES INDICTED FOR RUM PLOTS

2 Governors Summoned as Witnesses.

New York, Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Nearly 400 persons including many public officials were under federal indictment today for conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws in connection with alleged liquor rings in Idaho, Wyoming, Oklahoma and Texas.

Trial of a large group of persons accused of conspiracy was to be started today in federal district court in Oklahoma City, while trial of 23 including W. C. Irving, former state law enforcement commissioner, was continued in Cheyenne, Wyo. Gov. Frank C. Emerson appeared as a witness in Cheyenne yesterday and former Gov. Henry S. Johnston has been subpoenaed to testify in the Oklahoma City case.

120 Indicted in Southern Texas.

A federal grand jury in Galveston, Tex., adjourned after indicting about 120 residents of southern Texas in several liquor conspiracy cases, according to the Associated Press. Its last act was indictment of a Galveston group, which included a former coast guardsman and two policemen.

Governments of the city of Mullan and Shoshone county, Idaho, were disrupted by conviction recently of virtually all principal officeholders on liquor conspiracy charges and the same fate looms for Wallace, Idaho. Forty-four of approximately 200 persons indicted in northern Idaho, including the mayor of Wallace, the Shoshone county sheriff and city councilmen and police, are to be tried in March.

Forty-two persons convicted in the last term of federal court at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, which included the Mullan "rebellion" conspirators, and 65 who pleaded guilty, were given fines totaling $18,800 and prison sentences aggregating 29 years.

25 Plead Guilty in Oklahoma.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Of the 102 officials and residents of Pottawatomie county charged with conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law, 25 pleaded guilty today.

Thirty-two defendants, including County Attorney Randall Pitman and former Sheriff Frank Fox, announced they are ready for trial.

Of the remaining 45 defendants, 5 were reported dead and the others fugitives from justice.

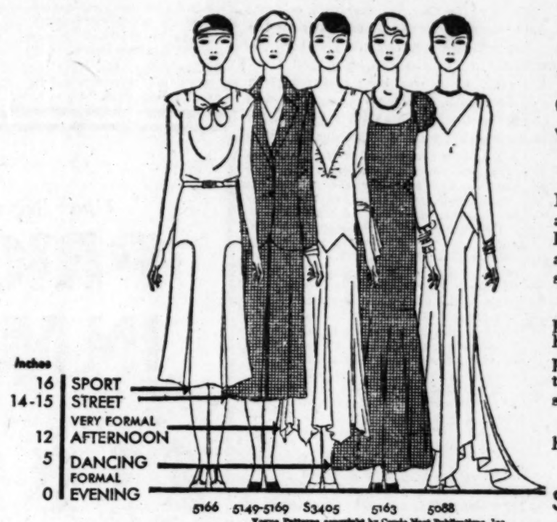
THE STOCK MARKET TRAGEDY

last autumn was not the only tragedy. There was also

A WARDROBE TRAGEDY

And now a word of advice to those unfortunate women who were caught short on skirts and lacked margin in drapery;



$2 Invested In VOGUE

WILL SAVE YOU $200

If you failed last year to buy Vogue and heed its advice, you are now probably discovering for yourself that the gown you buy and cast away half-worn is the really expensive gown... and that one ill-judged purchase can cost you the price of a subscription to Vogue, not once, but many times over.

If, on the other hand, you read Vogue and heeded its repeated predictions of the on-coming change in the mode, you bought the longer skirt, the fitted waist-line, the frock of complicated drapery... bought in time... and did not have to take a loss on your entire wardrobe when the new mode suddenly became general.

Don't be caught short again this spring. Read Vogue... heed Vogue...be wise in time...save money on your clothes.

The Spring Fabrics and Original Designs Number of Vogue ... out today on all news stands, 35c ... gives you the correct skirt lengths in Vogue Pattern form ... note patterns sketched above. In addition, the spring fabric collections... French and American ... reviewed as only Vogue can ... plus the latest fashions and Elsa Maxwell's famous party!

VOGUE Told You So!

For two whole years, Vogue has warned you of the new mode ... don't these quotations prove that $2 invested in Vogue actually saves you $200?

As long ago as October 1, 1927, Vogue said: "Drapery and Length of Line ... The Cut of Smart Frocks Grows More Complicated."

As long ago as February 1, 1928, Vogue said: "The higher waist-line ... Occasional frocks show this new note, and these have prepared the way for a fashion soon to come in greater numbers."

As long ago as January 19, 1929, Vogue said: "Great length and evening chic are synonymous ..."

As long ago as July 20, 1929, Vogue said: "... sports and day skirts will be worn about four inches below the knee; afternoon dresses from four and a half inches to five and a half inches below the knee; evening dresses ... at their longest point, trailing on the floor."

As long ago as September 28, 1929, Vogue said: "... four inches below the knee now right for sports ... slightly longer for afternoon ... evening skirts are longer than ever, including more trains ... absolutely new evening dresses with points that trail on the ground all around ..."

Today, Vogue says: ... but go to the news stand now and buy your copy of February 1st Vogue. You need more than just a correct skirt length to accomplish smartness!

WET, DRY FIGHT STIRS PEOPLE OF MASSACHUSETTS

Voters Again May Pass on State Law Repeal.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Massachusetts is in the throes of another bitter battle over the proposal that the baby Volstead act, or state prohibition law, be repealed. Action taken today indicates that there will be a hot fight in the legislature on the issue, with the possibility that the people themselves again will be asked to pass on the question.

Wets and drys alike aired their views today before the joint legislative committee of judicial affairs on an initiative petition by Charles S. Rackeman and others for the repeal of the act. Tension ran high. There were frequent outbursts of applause and demonstrations of displeasure. Many women were present and their spokesmen waged verbal battle as vigorously as the men.

Two Reports Assured.

The legal affairs committee, it is certain, will report against repeal, in conformance with Gov. Allen's recommendation to the legislature favoring retention of the law. The dry Republican majority favors this action. The wet minority will make a dissenting report, and the stage will be set for the legislative struggle.

Persons in all walks of life participated in the torrid discussions today and each side had allied with its representative cross sections of the state's citizenry.

Alexander Lincoln, director of the Constitutional Liberty league, and a former assistant attorney general, lead the attack of the wet forces, declaring that the voters of Massachusetts had emphatically gone on record in the referendum of 1928 as favoring the repeal of the dry law.

Criminals Wax Wealthy.

Under prohibition, he declared, the "criminal classes" have obtained "enormous and menacing wealth." "Drunkenness now is greater than before prohibition," he declared, adding that "the liquor traffic has not been suppressed but put in the hands of the lower classes."

The dry law, Mr. Lincoln contended, has developed a new class of criminals—the bootlegger, the hijacker, and finally the racketeer.

Massachusetts should profit, he said, from its first lesson. The dry law, enacted in 1852, he recalled, resulted in "widespread violence, bribery, and corruption of officials and imperiled our foreign relations."

Harvard Man for Drys.

A leader for the dry camp was Prof. Thomason N. Carver of Harvard, who read a petition signed by a group of employers contending that efficiency in industry would be impaired if the dry law was repealed. He predicted that drunken driving and other menaces to the safety of citizens would increase. He expressed the opinion that there is less drinking among Harvard students now that in pre-prohibition days.

Prohibition has done serious harm, Mrs. William Lowell Putnam, a sister of President Lowell of Harvard, declared. She went on record emphatically for the repeal of dry laws, declaring that because of them the youth of today has too much disrespect for all law.

Repeal of the state dry law, M. L. Sampson, an attorney, declared, would put Massachusetts in the "position where New York and Chicago have put themselves by deliberate nonenforcement of the law."

KILLER OF STORE OFFICIAL GOES TO CELL FOR LIFE

CRIMINAL COURT.

Chester Robinson, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in Pontiac reformatory; James Grant, murder, sentenced to life in the penitentiary by Judge D. J. Normoyle.

Peter Billy, burglary, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in Pontiac reformatory for a violation of a former parole; John W. Jesse, assault to kill, sentenced to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary by Judge William N. Gemmill.

Floyd Groves, Paul Coleman, and Walter Dozier, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life each in the penitentiary by Judge Walter Steffen.

Albert Watkins, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge E. Frankhauser.

James Grant, 59 years old, who for more than 40 years has been a criminal, according to his own admissions, was sentenced to a life term in the penitentiary yesterday after he pleaded guilty in Chief Justice D. J. Normoyle's Criminal court to a charge of murder. He shot and killed Douglas L. Richardson, during a struggle with Joseph E. Freeman, a store detective, who had caught him stealing in a loop department store.

Grant had stolen a pair of gloves and was caught by the detective, who took him to an office of the store, to search and question him. Grant attempted to break away and in the struggle pulled a revolver and fired a shot, killing Richardson, an official of the store.

The defendant admitted committing his first crime when only 18 years old. He has since that time been an inmate of the Bridewell, Pontiac reformatory, and Joliet penitentiary, as well as of the Chester asylum of the insane. The prosecutors said that in view of a possible insanity defense they would agree to a penitentiary sentence if the defendant was kept from society for the rest of his life.

RULES TODAY ON PANTAGES' PLEA TO LEAVE CELL

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—After physicians had given conflicting testimony as to the physical condition of Alexander Pantages today, Judge Charles Fricke postponed until tomorrow his decision on Pantages' plea to be allowed out of the county jail on bail pending outcome of his appeal against conviction for rape.

Dr. Benjamin Blank, jail physician, was among those who testified that Pantages had a bad heart which has been aggravated by his stay in jail. Two physicians for the state, Dr. Gustav Boehm and Dr. John V. Barrow, said that Pantages was not to ill to stay in prison.

The Mode's New Details In Smart Versions on

These Frocks

A Separate Cape

Sets the Pace for This Attractive Sports Frock

$35

A cape with godets—and pleated ones, at that—accompanies this sports frock of wool crepe which adopts the clever idea for its skirt where it uses pleated godets both in the center front and back.

On the frock, a square neckline has buttons at one side, just under where the cape ties. Green, red, blue, brown, gray. Sizes for misses and women.

Fourth Floor, South, State.

Low-Set Godets

And Shirtwaist Details on "Little Woolen" Frocks

$10

Jersey makes its mark again, appearing in the newest mode of simple things—with tailored bands and buttons on its blouse and low-set godets all around its skirt.

Narrow pique pipings finish the neck and cuffs—and this style comes in sizes from 14 years to "40." Blue, black, red, purple, brown, and tan. Another style, not sketched, 16 years to "44."

Fourth Floor, East.

Tucked Hiplines

Are Slenderly Fitted in Moderate Price Frocks

$17.50

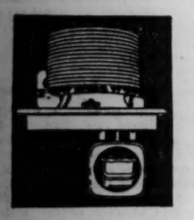
Trimly tailored though they are, these frocks have a much greater air of charm than those we have known heretofore.

It's because their details are so softened and gracious—as in this frock of flat crepe, with its skirt cascading at one side over an underskirt, and its two-tone contrasting silk bands at the neck. In black, blue, green, and sumac. The sizes are from 14 years to "44."

Fourth Floor, Wabash.

It costs less to own a General Electric Refrigerator

It consumes less current and requires less attention . . . in over three years no owner has spent one cent for repairs or service.



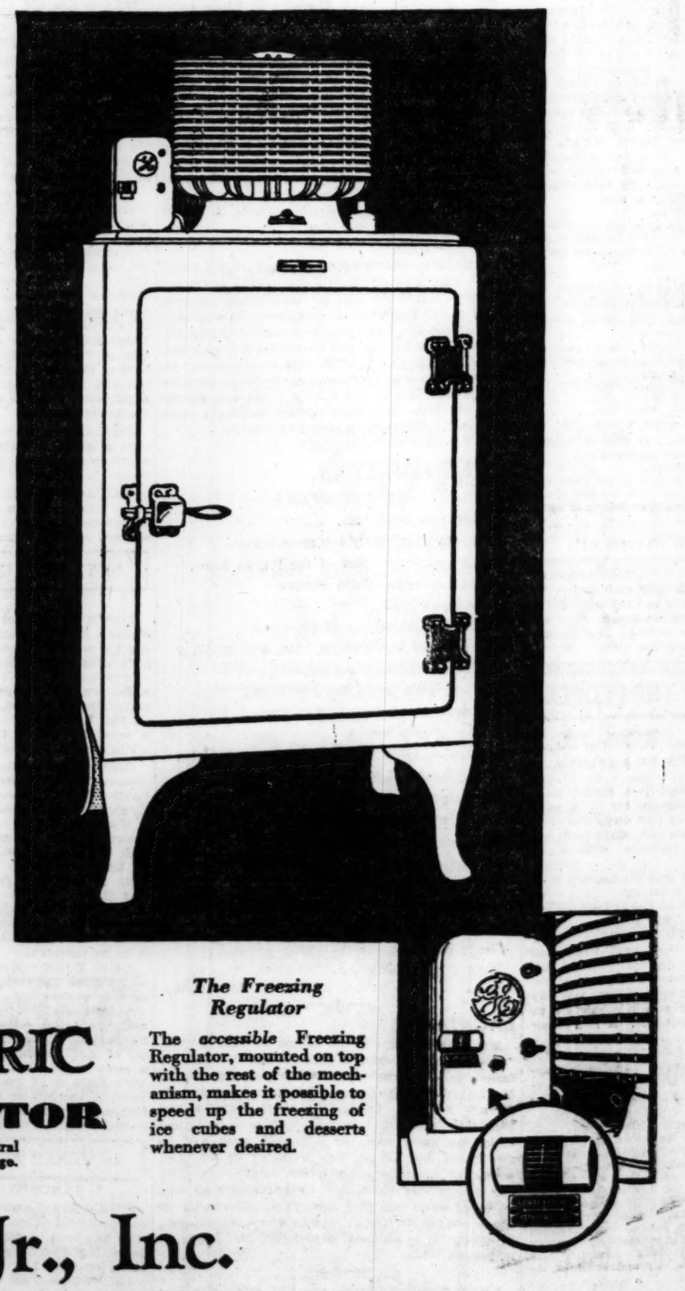
A General Electric Refrigerator costs comparatively little to buy in the first place. Not nearly as much as you would expect; and you are assured longer trouble-free service. That determines ultimate cost.

Then, too, it costs surprisingly little to operate... only a few pennies a day. It uses less current than any other refrigerator because the mechanism is all on top. You know that any mechanical refrigerator generates heat in the process of cooling the cabinet. The General Electric Refrigerator dissipates this heat above the cabinet instead of underneath. That necessitates less current.

Another thing you'll like about it is that it soon pays for itself... pays back its original cost through savings effected in ice bills, and striking savings in foods ordinarily wasted.

In over three years, not a single owner has paid one cent for service. The first cost has been the last cost. That amazing record is your assurance that a General Electric Refrigerator is the most inexpensive one you can own.

Our conveniently spaced terms make it easy for you to own a General Electric Refrigerator. Come in TODAY, and let us demonstrate its many superior advantages.



The Freezing Regulator

The accessible Freezing Regulator, mounted on top with the rest of the mechanism, makes it possible to speed up the freezing of ice cubes and desserts whenever desired.

PARITY AND THE REALITIES.

Secretary Stimson's references to parity and "equality of power" officially assert a formula which, it is assumed in the United States if not in Great Britain, is henceforth to control the naval policy of both countries.

The formula has been hailed in America as epoch making inasmuch as Great Britain has hitherto asserted its right to a substantial superiority of naval power. As the facts are examined the concession recedes rapidly in importance, for the facts reveal that actual parity—that is, equality in sea power—is not likely to be attained for a long time, if ever. The formula pleases our American pride and tends to quiet our fears of subordination. It cannot deceive the much better informed and instructed British. If it has any value for us, it is in supplying a resistance to concrete relative sacrifices and in giving us a general objective for our naval development. But whatever advantage we gain on this score will be more than offset if we permit a merely formal adoption of the formula to conceal the realities.

An effectual parity of sea power, as we have pointed out before, is not represented by equality ship for ship. It is controlled by the strategic situation of each country and its maritime responsibilities. We might have the same number of combat battleships, cruisers, submarines, carriers and all essential material units of a navy as another power and yet fall far below it in sea power because of other factors. Bases are, for example, essential to the operations of all ships, and we are lacking in them, while the British empire has by far the greatest number of and best disposed bases throughout the world. Fast merchant ships, convertible into cruisers, are another important element of sea power, and in this, too, Great Britain has much the better of any other power. In time we may build up to her, but we can hardly expect ever to equal her in bases, and no approximation to parity can be reached without dealing with this latter major consideration. In fact, it has not been dealt with in the consideration of naval adjustment. If it had been we should have faced the truth that we need not the same number of cruisers but many more than Great Britain. We have been contending for a very small margin in large, long distance cruisers, and virtually ignoring the fact that our small superiority in this category would wholly fail to offset the tremendous preponderance of the British in smaller cruisers operating from bases on every thoroughfare of world commerce and from strategic points commanding all the routes of our own commerce.

Americans, uninstructed in maritime affairs, do not keep in mind that a ship is useless without a base, that ships have to be repaired and conditioned from time to time, that the total number of ships in a fleet is not the total number that is on station, and that the distance of the base from the ship governs the time it can be kept "at the front." They do not understand that a fleet near a base can keep more of its ships in operation, is therefore larger, in fact, than a fleet which has to send its ships a long way for reconditioning. Equality ship for ship does not represent equality in strength. The British naval power is much greater relatively to other powers than the number of its ships, and we had better forget the principle of parity unless we keep all its essential factors in mind.

Any adjustment of ship ratio which ignores British superiority in bases is a fraud. Furthermore, it should be pointed out again that British bases are situated along our whole Atlantic front from Halifax to the canal. If we are to abolish or greatly reduce our battle fleet, the value of these bases to Great Britain and of the French bases to France increases.

If we do keep bases in mind we shall give less attention to the pacifist outcries against the alleged big navy propaganda and we shall not be shocked when such a thoughtful and well informed writer on naval affairs as President Gardner of the Navy league estimates that, considering the actual strategic situation of the British and American sea powers, the United States should have a naval fleet not equal ship for ship with Great Britain, but, roughly speaking, a fleet about half as big again, if we are to have an actual parity in naval strength to protect an actual parity in sea borne commerce. Or, to put it conversely, if the American fleet is to be limited to an equality ship for ship it would be, in terms of actual power, only about two-thirds of the strength of the British fleet.

To the American senate, thundering applause, the British prime minister, said: "Parity? Take it—without reserve, heaped up and overflowing." But try to take it! That is another story. The bases along our coast will remain. There isn't the slightest sign that Great Britain would give them up. The British are haggling over one large cruiser for the United States, and the best terms considered is a margin of three over the British allotment of 15 in this category alone, as against an actual British preponderance in the battleship class and an overwhelming advantage in the six inch cruiser and convertible merchant types, based upon a system of bases incomparably distributed around the world.

Parity of sea power between Great Britain and the United States is in fact an aspiration or at best an expression of good will. The American nation does not want to build up to a real parity, as it proved when it did not repudiate the sacrifices offered by our complaisant representatives at the Washington conference. Its hope and effort are to induce such a reduction as will relieve all the maritime nations of heavy competitive expenditure and if possible produce an adjustment which will quiet the fears the overpowering dominance of any power keeps alive. In seeking these ends, however, we must keep realities before us or we shall continually make sacrifices for which we can expect no compensation. The powers with which we negotiate have shown themselves to be realistic and in spite of altruistic rhetoric have pressed determinedly for national advantage. Our government and its representatives have the vital interests of a great people in their keeping and they will neither do their duty to that people nor serve the cause of world peace if they agree to conditions which increase the disadvantages under which we already rest.

The vital interests of all the American people are more and more dependent upon their freedom to trade in the markets of the world and upon the defense of their world-wide communications. This is a paramount consideration of our government and of every succeeding American government.

THE WRONG WAY TO SELL AVIATION.

It is regrettable that airplane operators are imitating the early practices of railroad officials after disasters. We are sure that the company executives and the federal aeronautical inspector who directed the dismemberment and firing of wreckage and débris immediately after the wreck of a Central Air Lines plane near Fairfax airport of Kansas City were not attempting to obstruct justice. They wanted to remove the distressing sight from potential air travelers. "We are trying to sell aviation to the public," the federal inspector explained, "and the wreckage of a plane lying around for people to gaze at has a bad effect."

The railroads learned many years ago the error of attempting to evade investigation of accidents and conceal their circumstances from the public. Instead of allaying fear of the rails, this policy, surrounding the wreck, as it did, with mystery and suspicion, heightened public timidity. The aviation industry, being young and jealous of its future, as the railroads were when wrecks were confidential, is following the same course, which will inevitably produce the same evil results.

It may be true, as the federal inspector claimed in justification of his order, that sometimes the cause of airplane accidents can be determined no more easily before than after the wreckage has been removed. But there is the chance that the wreckage may reveal key evidence. Out of the inquest may come information which will prevent recurrence of a similar tragedy. This research the government should promote in the interest of the operators as well as the public. Abetting concealment is a disservice on the part of the government. It is psychologically the wrong way to "sell aviation to the people" and it may have the consequence of preventing improvement of safety in the air through the correction of structural and flying imperfections.

HOW TRUE IT ALL IS.

In the senate discussion of the Wickersham report Senator Harris of Georgia said: "The ratification of the eighteenth amendment radically changed the laws of our country which had been in effect for more than 130 years." Mr. Harris is a dry and in this statement he is where he cannot be challenged. Laws which had been in effect more than 130 years not only have been radically changed but some of them have been virtually destroyed and the purpose is to destroy more of them.

In a recent article Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition, and public morals, said: "The fourth amendment was never intended to render inviolate that home wherein our officers have every right to suspect that law is being violated. If necessary, therefore, it should be modified so as to prevent the sacred protection of the household from shielding commercial violations of the nation's constitution."

With respect to every other law in the land the fourth amendment seemed to retain its desirability and to be an admirable protection against official housebreaking. Its limitation was upon the right to suspect. It is only as to prohibition that the right to suspect has conferred the authority to violate both life and property. Senator Harris was wholly within the truth when he said that the eighteenth amendment had changed the law of the land and the Wickersham proposals for mass production in federal justice only apply that doctrine.

Editorial of the Day

KING GEORGE AND CHICAGO.

[N. Y. Evening Post.]

King George spoke to America over the radio at 6 a. m. the other day. If he had not been too much of a gentleman he might have inserted a polite jeer at Chicago.

Chicago, it may be remembered, at its last election "kept King George out" and put William Hale Thompson in. Since then Chicago has gone utterly, hopelessly, stony broke. The municipality is broke; the school board (which burned King George's books) and the county are broke. Mr. Silas Strawn, head of the citizens' committee, can get no bank to lend money and the citizens won't buy tax anticipation bonds because "Big Bill" and his friends will have the spending of these funds. Meanwhile, "Big Bill" is showing his usual sublime statesmanship. He has vetoed three budget bills in a fight to keep his political "pay rollers" on next year's pay roll and is preparing to run for the mayoralty again on that issue. Meanwhile the sick, the criminal, the insane and the destitute stand an imminent chance of being turned onto the street because the Thompson outfit has no money by which to maintain the institutions in which they are housed.

King George may have contemplated sinister moves against the independence of Chicago, but he certainly never brought about corrupt cruelties like these. Neither he nor the whole royal family could have made as bad a mayor as "Big Bill."

SO DO WE.

He—That was a clean, wholesome show, wasn't it?
She—Yes. I didn't think much of it either.—London Bystander.

How to Keep Well By Dr. W. A. Evans

To the limit of space questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease.

WORKING IN CEMENT PLANTS.

WORKING in a cement plant is not as hazardous to health as some of us think. When we pass a plant of this kind and see how it has killed the trees and grass for yards around we are likely to conclude that every workingman in the place is headed for the cemetery.

Drs. Thompson and Brundage have investigated the subject thoroughly and have made one report on their findings. Others are to follow. One finding is that working in cement dust does not tend to cause consumption on the one hand, nor to make the disease worse on the other. They found no undue amount of consumption among workers in cement plants, nor did they find evidence that consumptives working there tended to run down in health faster than they otherwise would. The reason is that cement dust is rich in lime. It is sand dust and not lime dust which causes consumption.

Nor did they find much evidence of pneumonoconiosis, or dust disease, in the lungs of workers in a cement plant. They say this may be due in part to the proportion of lime in the dust, but probably most of it is due to the fact that men change jobs frequently and sand lung develops only after years of exposure.

Another factor may be improvement in the air in cement plants. Most new plants have installed apparatus to remove dust from the air.

But this is the better side of the picture. There is another story which is less satisfactory. Comparing the sickness absenteeism of employés in several cement plants in the three year period 1922 to 1925 with that of employés in another line in the same period, Drs. Thompson and Brundage found considerable evidence that working in a cement mill was unhealthy. The diseases of which there was most excess were acute and chronic bronchitis, common colds, influenza and grippe, and tonsillitis. There was also an undue amount of skin troubles and particularly boils. Boils were at their worst in the summer. Sweat and dust was a bad mixture for the skin. There was much conjunctivitis and other eye troubles. Ear troubles were more frequent than normal. It is possible that there was an excess of digestive troubles and also of rheumatism, though it is not easy to understand why there should be.

They examined the amount of dust to the cubic foot of air in the different "rooms" of the plant and around the different processes. They examined the dust of the different processes for lime, silicon, and other chemicals. They called attention to the improvements in the sanitation of cement plants which have been installed in the last ten years.

GAIN WEIGHT WITH MEAL.

P. A. P. writes: Is a person heavier or lighter after a meal? Some say the air taken in with the food makes a person lighter after a meal.

REPLY:

A person is heavier after eating. Babies are weighed before and after nursing to determine how much milk they have swallowed.

WANTS TO DEVELOP BUST.

M. W. writes: 1. Can one develop the bust by massaging with cocoa butter or tissue building cream?

2. Would you advise using one of these so-called bust-developing creams?

REPLY:

1. No.
2. No.

SNUFF AND THE STOMACH.

A. C. E. writes: Is chewing snuff bad for the stomach and health?

REPLY:

The use of snuff is open to the usual objections of tobacco. It is neither more nor less harmful than the other methods of using tobacco.

WARTS AND CASTOR OIL.

T. Y. advises people who have warts and other small benign tumors to grease them once or twice daily with castor oil. It may be necessary to keep this up for a year. It is harmless and is often effective. It is the ricinolic acid in the castor oil that does the work.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

Letters to this department must be signed with names and addresses of writers.

LEASE SIGNED BY EMPLOYE.

Waukegan, Ill., Jan. 25.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A signed lease for the store he manages for B. B pays rent and other bills and owns the merchandise. A works for salary and has no interest in the business. Who is liable for the lease? J. S.

It seems probable that the landlord is in a position to hold either one.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

WANTS TO BUY CAR.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am eighteen years of age and wish to purchase an automobile. If I secure my parents' consent and pay cash for the car will my parents be liable in case of accident? 2. Is a minor allowed to own a car under the state laws of Illinois? 3. If I purchase the car without my parents' consent, but announce it to them after obtaining ownership, will they then be liable if a mishap occurs? E. J. H.

1. We assume that you are a male. Your parents would not be liable on the bare facts stated. A claimant would have to show that the machine was used for family purposes or that other special facts were present.

2. Section 31 of the motor vehicle law is as follows: "No person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle who is under fifteen years of age, unless such person is accompanied by a duly licensed chauffeur or the owner of the motor vehicle being operated." This state law supersedes city ordinances on the same subject matter.

SUPPORTING PARENTS.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My parents are unable to work and dependent on their children. I have four brothers, but only two of us contribute to their support. Is there any way I can compel the others to help? W. K. B.

Our pauper act requires near relatives to contribute according to their means to the support of destitute persons except that married women are not required to contribute unless they have independent means. Apply to the bureau of public welfare in the county building.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. R. A.

WILL THE AUDIENCE KINDLY RETAIN THEIR SEATS—

because the show is going to be speeded and is guaranteed to amuse, instruct, and entertain you. According to the latest reports from London, they're taking steps to punch up the navy conference and keep the good people who have been trying to watch it from walking out on the show.

Now they've invited seventy-eight of the army of three or four hundred correspondents to come up on the stage and act as observers. Will a few gentlemen in the audience, said they, please step up and sit on the stage? These gentlemen will be close enough to see that none of the performers have anything whatsoever concealed in their sleeves and that there are no wires, trap doors, or concealed mirrors anywhere about to deceive the audience. Everything will be strictly as advertised or money cheerfully refunded at the box office.

So tomorrow the newspaper reporters who tell us all about it will sit right up there on the stage and peek into the silk hats and tell the rest of us down in the audience that the hats are empty and have no double bottom or false lining, and when a delegate amazes one and all by suddenly yanking a white rabbit or a battleship out of his silk hat the newspaper fellows will stand up and swear it wasn't there before. The correspondents will also examine the deck of cards very carefully to see that it is well shuffled and contains only four aces, and not sixteen or twenty.

Yessir, it's going to be a good show from now on, and remember it's the quickness of the hand deceives the eye. And be sure and remember the card you have drawn and shoved back into the deck. We will now take beautiful flowers, singing canaries, white rabbits, the flags of all nations and submarines from this perfectly empty silk hat. Watch closely, good people, we will now saw a living battleship half in two.

SONNET.

Love, let us not be wasteful of our days.
So quick to pass, so little glorified;
Let us put by our load of blame and praise,
Lay down our strife and restlessness and pride;
If there is aught within this heart of mine
You have not caught and held within your own
As the bright goblet rims the vivid wine,
As the great music holds the lesser tone,
O take it now! take all there is to find
While there is time, and dewy days are young;
Too soon we waken to a world gone blind,
The last light darkened and the last song sung,
And in a strange spent universe we stand
Against the gathering darkness hand in hand.

"HUMANE WARFARE on Seas Naval Meet Task."—Chi. Eve. Post. We can't make out what humane warfare on sea or land could possibly mean, unless it's when a cannoneer on one side blows off the arms and legs of a man charging his gun and raises his hat and says in loud, clear tones, "I beg your pardon." Still, that would merely be polite warfare and not humane. Perhaps humane warfare means you must only shoot the enemy in the left foot. But some soldiers would get cross about that. It's hard to please everybody.

SONGS FOR LYNN.

AT THE OPERA.

Having you beside me,
I let music lift slowly her great curtain
On the panoramic past of the human heart,
Where lace-edged flutes whisper
Of woman's frailty,
Violins cry plaintively of loneliness,
And songs of birth, death, hate, and infidelity
Fall on the threadbare plots,
The well worn paths, like rose leaves
The orchestra drifts,
A trailing eerie breeze
And we are together in a sweet flowered garden
Of cadenced delight.
Having you beside me,
I wonder on what clear note
What enchanted chime
We will sigh softly
And leave the theater of life;
Not as now,
But when Death himself
Drops his black velvet curtain
With utter finality. . . .

LAGNIAPPE.

MR. LEGGE says to the farmer as man to man, "Don't plant so darned much wheat." And the farmer may (oh, we trust not, but he may) say to Mr. Legge, "Oh, go back to the farm board and sit down." Ah, Mr. Legge, we speak from a sad heart; we have asked so many people to do things which we knew were for their own good, and do you know, Mr. Legge, they wouldn't do it? And we asked them so politely, Mr. Legge; oh, with our hat in our hand, Mr. Legge; and they told us to go wash our dirty face. Oh, not exactly in those words, Mr. Legge, but in effect, Mr. Legge, in effect. It is all most depressing, Mr. Legge, it is, indeed.

We do not believe you, Slivers; there is no chance of so much money rolling around loose in the vicinity of the city hall.

THE DRESSMAKER'S CHILDREN

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 30, 1865.

NEW YORK.—It is currently stated, according to deserters, that Charleston will be evacuated by the rebels. Movements indicate that they are moving heavy guns from James and Sullivan islands.

NEW YORK.—The Tribune's special correspondent gives an account of the march of Sherman's army from Savannah to Hardeeville, S. C. The roads run through swamps and the march was very difficult. No force of rebels was encountered anywhere. Officers who arrived yesterday from Savannah say that important and highly favorable news to the Union is expected soon from South Carolina.

NEW YORK.—The Richmond Sentinel of Jan. 28 says that Gen. Breckinridge has been appointed rebel secretary of war. Gen. Hood has been relieved of his rebel command and has been succeeded by Gen. Dick Taylor. No official appointment of Gen. Lee as general-in-chief of the rebel armies has yet been made.

CHICAGO.—A largely attended massmeeting was held in Bryan hall to express indignation over the recent outrage perpetrated at Springfield—the passage through both houses of the legislature of the horse railway bill. J. Y. Scammon presided and speeches of indignant protest were made by Wirt Dexter, G. Goodrich, E. C. Larned, T. B. Bryan, G. C. Bates and Perkins Bass. A protest was sent to Gov. Richard J. Oglesby asking him to withhold approval of the bill, which grants a franchise of ninety-nine years to the horse railway companies.

CHICAGO.—Perkins Bass took the oath of office as United States district attorney to succeed El. C. Larned, who resigned.

CHICAGO.—Charles W. Winslow, a well known commission merchant, committed suicide by taking poison in a room at the Sherman house.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 30, 1900.

LONDON.—Partial reports on Gen. Buller's losses at Spion Kop and during his retreat across the Tugela river give 23 officers killed, 21 wounded, and 6 missing; of the rank and file, 32 killed and 120 wounded. It has been ascertained that Gen. Botha commanded the Boers who administered such a crushing defeat to Buller's forces trying to relieve Ladysmith.

BERLIN.—The Berlin press unanimously votes the British situation in South Africa desperate and advises England to make peace with the Boers.

WASHINGTON. — The Supreme Court of the United States decided that the Illinois law for the protection of bank depositors is constitutional. This means that Edward S. Dreyer and Robert Berger of Chicago must stand trial under the Illinois law on charges of receiving deposits in the bank of Dreyer & Co. after they knew it to be insolvent.

NEW YORK.—Maud Gonne, the so-called Irish Joan of Arc, arrived here on the Normandie.

WASHINGTON. — Society here is agog over the elopement of Preston Gibson and Miss Minna Field, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Nelson Page, and a niece of Marshall Field of Chicago. Miss Field is 17 years old and was a pupil in the Misses Masters' school at Dobbs Ferry, from which she was expected to have graduated in June.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 30, 1920.

CHICAGO.—Leslie Lewis, 80 years old, principal of the Kozminski school, who has been in school work for fifty years, tendered his resignation, to take effect on Feb. 1.

CHICAGO.—THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE has established a plant welfare plan. It embodies pensions, bonuses, life insurance, summer vacations, and sickness and accident disability protection. It applies to all the 1,200 employés of the establishment.

LONDON.—A Moscow dispatch says that a declaration signed by Premier Lenin, Minister Tchitcherin, and Minister of War Trotzky, addressed to the Polish government, invites a friendly settlement of all disputes between Poland and soviet Russia.

CHICAGO.—Mr. and Mrs. William H. Walter of 4126 Jackson boulevard announced the engagement of their daughter, Elsa E., to Arthur H. Blessing.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

THE CRISIS.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—The time of reckless spending of tax money has passed. The day of reckoning is on its way. In Cook county and the city of Chicago there are over a hundred different governmental departments which depend on money collected as taxes for their continued existence. Every one of these departments uses cash for help and other expenses in carrying on its public work.

No state and county taxes have been collected since those levied for 1927. In order to carry on, the authorities have borrowed money [bearing interest] in anticipation of the collection of the uncollected taxes. This intolerable condition exists today. Year after year the tax bills accumulate and many people may not be able meet them when the opportunity to pay comes.

How many years will elapse before just taxes can be levied and collected legally? That is the question. Under present conditions may we expect that taxes will be levied and collected within the next few years? It is not reasonable to suppose that public authorities can go on year after year borrowing money for corporate expenditures, with the present prospect of repayment. We have about exhausted our credit.

Perhaps many employés on the pay roll can continue, for an limited time, hoping to be paid in the future, but in the absence of available funds how are we to care for the prisoners, for the insane, the sick, the orphans, the blind, and how shall we, as citizens, protect ourselves against fires and acts of criminals and irresponsible beings?

Certainly the situation justifies the most careful attention of all law abiding people and demands prompt judicious action. THOMAS J. HOLMES, Master in Chancery, Superior Court.

ENEMIES OF SLEEP.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—It seems to me that the fire departments when called out in the early morning hours make an unnecessary amount of noise. The fire siren is a good thing, but traffic at those hours is not heavy, and the constant blowing of that siren disturbing the rest of many is to me and to many others, I am sure, a public nuisance. Is there anything that could be done about it? BERTINE PARKER.

CIVIL WAR WEAPONS.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—What types of guns and hand arms were used during the civil war? Did they use a regular shell such as is used in our present shotgun or were the weapons nothing more than the old muzzle loaders? R. V. M.

EXECUTIVES' ENGLISH.

Cicero, Ill., Jan. 27.—Your editorial "Our Neglect of English," says, "Probably most employers would agree that the young man or woman who writes clearly and accurately is exceptional." This statement might apply to employers as well. I have been working for eight and one-half years and I have yet to find an employer who can dictate a letter in good, plain English, without using hackneyed expressions and a participial close.

Few dictators can relate facts in a logical manner and in the order of their sequence. College graduates, I have found, know nothing of sentence structure, and are very often inclined toward flowery language. Some of the letters which I have taken, and which I have had to write exactly as dictated, have been nothing short of meaningless.

Furthermore, employers do not recognize good English when they see it. Brevity and conciseness are mistaken for curtness. I have seen well written sentences converted into long, straggling ones without grammatical plan and incapable of making a single impression on a reader's mind. An English teacher would find it a difficult task to try to clarify the letters from the files of most business offices.

[Miss] LILLIAN VERA.

ABBREVIATED HISTORIES.

Brookfield, Ill., Jan. 27.—Daniel the prophet could easily have written a 100 word history of the United States, for he wrote a history of the world in advance from the time of Babylon to the end of time. This history, found in the second chapter of the book called by his name, contains about 250 words.

Voltaire, the French writer, could condense the history of a nation into an epigram.

Lord, the artist historian, speaking of some women, says they say the least when they talk the most. The same holds true of historians. To know where to drop one character and take up another is an art that many historians seem never to have learned. But all honor to any of them who are delving into the past to bring its treasures of wisdom to our knowledge.

HARRY GEORGE.

THERE IS NO FIRST ROBIN.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—The first robin! The robins we see here in the wintertime are not our robins, but those from the north country. They find this climate good enough after what they are used to in the far north. These robins go northward at the first hint of warmer weather and our robins return from the south. NATURIST.

AND SHE WOULD BE THE NATION'S CAPITAL!

[Washington Post.]

DOCTORS SAY THIS IS BEST KIND OF BRAN

93% of Group of Physicians Favor Natural 100% Bran for Constipation

Ten thousand doctors were recently asked this question:

"Do you believe that raw natural 100% bran is the best form of bran for the relief of constipation?"

93% of the answers were "Yes."

Here is expert advice for the relief of one of the worst troubles of modern life. Pillsbury's Bran is natural 100% bran, nothing added, nothing taken away. The overwhelming opinion of these doctors recommends Pillsbury's Bran as the best kind for the relief of atonic constipation—irregularity which results from bowel sluggishness.

Don't trifle with constipation. Medical science says that 90% of modern city people are more or less affected. Headachea, loss of vitality, sallow cheeks, nervousness, sleeplessness, and increased susceptibility to serious disease—these are the dangers. Add roughage to your diet—it protected primitive man, and it will protect you.

Pillsbury's Bran is the best form—it gives you the full, gentle, natural laxative action of the unbroken flakes of pure bran. You can use it to prepare any number of delicious foods—muffins, tea cakes, apple cake, macaroons, doughnuts, etc.—the recipes are on the Pillsbury package. You can sprinkle it over salads, or mix it with cereals. You can eat it as it comes from the package, with cream and sugar. No matter how you take it, you may be sure Pillsbury's Bran will do the work—it is natural 100% bran, the kind that doctors recommend.

NEW AIR DEVICE GUIDES LANDINGS IN THICKEST FOG

Electric Signals Give "Eyes" to Pilot.

BY ROBERT WOOD.

A new device designed to guide airplanes through darkness and fog, the bugaboos of all airmen, was given its first public demonstration yesterday by its inventor, Earl C. Hanson, at the Ford Transport exhibit in the 131st Regiment armory, Michigan avenue and 16th street.

The demonstration followed a year of secret tests conducted at the Ford airport at Lansing, Ill., where planes using the new equipment installed there were directed through bad weather and brought to the ground through the use of the invisible "pilot."

Inventor Is Chicagoan.

Mr. Hanson, a Chicagoan, who lives at 5301 Kimbark avenue, explained that the new contrivance is an adaptation of the device used by the allies during the war to tap the enemies' wires. It is now being used in harbors to guide ships along treacherous channels and through thick fog, he said.

Aviation experts who inspected the miniature device installed at the armory proclaimed it one of the foremost developments in the efforts being made to combat the dangers of flying in conditions of poor visibility, a source of peril for air travelers.

Signals Guide Pilot.

Mr. Hanson's device is based on the principle of electro-magnetic induction. Two series of energized cables are laid on the ground leading to an airport. The cables are parallel and each series gives off a signal code, one a series of dashes and the other a series of dots, so that a pilot flying into a fogbound field picks up a continuous signal by flying a middle path between the cables. This signal grows in intensity until the plane reaches the edge of the field where another loop of cables, called the "gun coil," gives the signal to cut motors and glide to a landing.

Besides providing a steady and continuous directional signal, the cable also gives the pilot an exact reading of his actual height above the ground—a distinct improvement over the present altimeter. The altitude and directional readings may be transmitted to the pilot by head phones, calibrated meter or by a system of lights on the instrument board.

Adds to Directional Beacon.

Last year saw the development of the radio directional beacon for guiding pilots along the air lines, but there previously has been no simple, dependable means evolved to direct the flyer through thick fog to a landing after he has arrived over the airport of his destination.

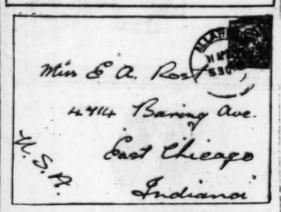
The cable system is not limited to its use to airport approaches, according to the inventor. He explained that through the aid of cables laid across country, pilots will be able to follow a course over the most treacherous mountains, being able to keep to a direct course and at a safe altitude by the continuous invisible path set up by signals.

THE TRIBUNE CONTEST OF INTERESTING LETTERS

Every morning The Tribune prints a photograph of the stamp and postmark and the name and address of the recipient of a letter from an interesting or little known place, with a map showing its origin and a brief word of description.

If you have received a letter from an interesting or little known place send the envelope to The Tribune. The sender of every envelope which is reproduced will be paid one dollar.

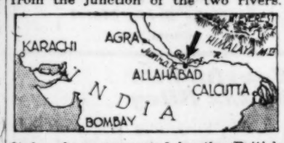
From Allahabad, India



Letter received by Miss E. A. Post, 4714 Baring avenue, East Chicago, Ind.

Allahabad is one of the most noted resorts of Hindu pilgrimage in India. Situated at the confluence of the sacred Ganges and Jumna rivers, 450 miles north west of Calcutta, as high as 250,000 attend the great bathing festival at the full moon of the Hindu month of Maght, corresponding to our late January and early February.

The most conspicuous feature of the city is the ancient citadel erected by Emperor Akbar, which rises directly from the junction of the two rivers.



It has been converted by the British into an arsenal as part of machinery of the empire in impressing its power on the 300,000,000 natives of India despite Gandhi and other revolutionary leaders.

Allahabad is capital of the provinces of Agra and Oudh. During the great Sepoy rebellion or as the British refer to the uprising, "the mutiny" of 1857, Allahabad was the scene of one of the most serious outbreaks and massacres in the northwestern provinces of India. A small British garrison aided by loyal Sikhs maintained a successful defense of the citadel until relieved.

The population of the city is about 150,000, and the University of Allahabad is one of the leading schools in India. The city is also the center of trade in central Hindustan and the great market for the cotton raised there.

Dr. Kegel Lands in Panama with Flying U. S. Clinic

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PANAMA CITY, Panama, Jan. 29.—America's flying clinic consisting of two planes arrived from Miami to attend the Pan-American Medical association's congress here. Dr. Arnold H. Kegel, Chicago health commissioner, alighted first. Other doctors formed the party which is to hold conferences at clinics as well as exhibits of bone operations. The Chicago doctor, Bertha Van Hoosen, arrived by steamer to attend the conference.

PNEUMATIC TUBE WOULD SPEED UP AIR MAIL SERVICE

Hour Saved in New York to Chicago Delivery.

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 29.—[Special.]—A practical demonstration of one method of speeding up the air mail service was conducted here today by Col. Clarence D. Chamberlin, consulting engineer on aeronautics for New York City, who now is supervising the development of a municipal airport just outside of Brooklyn. The trans-Atlantic flyer used the customs house system of pneumatic tubes to show how a full hour could be clipped off the delivery time between Chicago and this city and twenty to forty minutes saved at all airmail landing fields.

Deliveries Slowing Up.

The recent sharp slump in airmail poundage has not been altogether the fault of service weather. Deliveries, particularly from airports to postoffices, have been slower and slower due to increasing traffic difficulties, truck breakdowns, and time consumed in transfers at the landing fields. For last December, according to the report made by Postmaster General Brown, the total number of pounds carried over the leading airmail lines of the country was 618,809 pounds. That represented a slump of 4,352 pounds under November and of 82,000 pounds from October, the peak season.

Today's demonstration was through a two mile tube system costing $100 a year upkeep. The container, about the size of the inside of an ice cream freezer, was started on its journey at the appraiser's warehouse two miles from the customs house. Exactly five and a half minutes later it popped out of the tube in the customs house basement, its $25,000 cargo of currency intact. A second container, carrying a sack said to contain diamonds, pearls, and other jewels, made the trip in a few seconds less time.

No Limit to Distance.

"This same pneumatic tube system," Col. Chamberlin said, "could be installed for a few thousand dollars a mile from an airport to the postoffice. There is no limit to the distance the tubes can be used, as a relay system is practical. The mail at the airport would then start immediately for its destination at a 30 mile an hour clip.

Five cities were named by Col. Chamberlin as places in which the pneumatic tube system would be particularly advantageous in saving much time now lost. These were New York, Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, and Los Angeles.

have the tube system between railroad stations and postoffices. The Chicago mail now comes into the New York postoffice from New Jersey by truck and train.

New School Graduates Its First Class of Thirty Boys

Thirty boys, composing the first graduating class of the Montefiore school, opened last September, were congratulated upon completing their course yesterday by William J. Bogan, superintendent of schools. Eighth grade diplomas will be presented to the boys during exercises tomorrow morning at the school, 61 North Sangamon street. The Montefiore school was established for boys who were found to be ill adjusted to the regular schools. Edward H. Stuliken is the principal.

MATE CLAIMS TIE RACES WITH WIFE AND BIKE RIDER

Then Describes Sprints Against Attorney.

The sprints of Frank Arliskas, wealthy automobile dealer, in trailing his wife, Mrs. Patra Arliswas, and her alleged admirers, Lawrence Gaffney, New York six day bicycle rider, and Patrick J. Allman, her attorney, yesterday enlivened the second day of what promises to be a six day contested divorce suit before Circuit Judge Feinberg. Arliskas testified that he had traveled across the continent in an automobile to trail his wife and the bike racer and that he had ridden 1,000 miles since last July 13 to interrupt tete-a-tetes between his wife and her attorney.

Before the husband was recalled to the witness stand Attorney Allman asked leave to say something in his own defense. Arliskas had named him on Tuesday as the Joe Doe with whom he charged his wife had been carrying on an affair in addition to her relationship with Gaffney. The attorney declared that he had taken Mrs. Arliskas for several auto rides, but only in the interests of her case. He offered to call his wife as a witness to prove the falsity of the husband's charges.

Tells of Timing Stops.

Arliskas, returned to the witness stand to charge that "Mr. Allman took my wife to a stone quarry at 91st street and Stony Island avenue on Oct. 12. It was 2 o'clock in the morning and they stayed there ten minutes. I timed them from my car, parked a few feet away."

"Were there any objects of art in that stone quarry?" Judge Feinberg asked.

"Not that I could see, it was a dreary place," Arliskas replied. "Then on Dec. 4 I saw my wife making love with Allman in her car in front of 7816 Manistee avenue. She was lying across his lap at 2 in the morning. I turned on a flash light and asked them what they were doing there. They were completely surprised, and drove away at a high rate of speed."

Used Gallons of Gas.

Arliskas told of trailing his wife to gather evidence of her alleged relationship with the bicycle racer. He said that the couple had registered at hotels along the route to California as man and wife. Mrs. Arliskas admitted this relationship, but said that her husband had taken her back after extending forgiveness. Arliskas said he used 190 gallons of gasoline in tracking her in company of Allman.

This testimony was supported by Bert Bokhoven, auto salesman employed by Arliskas. Bokhoven, who accompanied the husband on some of his rides, described an evening during which the husband and Allman almost came to blows.

Bokhoven also told of watching the wife and her attorney in front of a church at 92d street and Brandon avenue. He said they remained in an embrace for an hour.

"Wasn't that a rather long kiss?" the judge asked.

Tells Attorney He Did.

"Well, they may have come up for air a few times, but there certainly was plenty of action," was the reply.

"Did this man have his arm around her?" Allman put in.

"Yes, Mr. Allman, you had your arm around her," Bokhoven said.

Mrs. Arliskas will make her plea for a divorce on charges of cruelty and neglect, because of gambling and golf, today.

450 CASES LOST AS RUM TRUCKS GO THROUGH ICE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WINDSOR, Ont., Jan. 29.—Two motor trucks carrying 450 cases of liquor broke through the ice and were lost today at the head of Bois Blanc island, opposite Amherstburg. The men in charge of the trucks escaped and fled over the ice to the American shore.

Liquor cleared for export is now conveyed in trucks over the ice to within a few yards of the international boundary. Here is it taken over by armed men, who remain in charge until darkness sets in, when it is run into the United States.

The police and citizens at Amherstburg reported today that several gun battles were staged between rum runners, hijackers, or United States customs officers shortly after midnight in the vicinity of Bois island. River front residents heard the shots.

TUG AND 7 MEN MISSING AFTER A HEAVY SQUALL

Wilmington, N. C., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Fear that seven men had drowned off the coast here was expressed tonight after the men and a small tugboat had been reported missing.

The tugboat Stone No. 6, carrying five men and towing three barges with two men aboard, encountered heavy seas today off this port. The barges broke loose and were seen late today drifting off Southport, a few miles south of Wilmington.

The seven men and the tug had not been sighted late tonight, although the coast guard cutter Modoc and other craft had searched for them.

Lyons Police Chief, 7 Others Freed by Jury in Rum Case

Albert Vandriska, chief of police of Lyons, and seven other defendants who have been on trial in Federal Judge Lindley's court on charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws were found not guilty by a jury yesterday. The other defendants were John Killips, postmaster in Lyons; John Sindelar, real estate dealer, and Walter Tesher, Joseph Sykora, Thomas Valenta, and F. A. Zahora, alleged saloonkeepers, and Abner Frank, bartender.

Meningitis Claims Woman Who Helped to Fight It

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Miss Marjorie Abelson, 34, bacteriologist of the South Bend medical laboratory, died late tonight in Epworth hospital here of cerebro-spinal meningitis contracted while examining throat cultures of suspects during the height of the local meningitis outbreak.

EMMY DESTINN, SOPRANO OPERA STAR, DIES AT 52

BUDWEIS, Czecho-Slovakia, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Emmy Destinn, prima donna and patriot, died at her home here today of heart disease. She was born 52 years ago in Prague, the daughter of Emanuel Kittel and took her professional name from Maria Loewe Destinn, under whom she studied from 1892 to 1898.

Mme. Destinn won much of her fame in the United States where in 1908 at the Metropolitan Opera House she was a member of the distinguished company which included Caruso, Geraldine Farrar, Louise Homer and Scotti. Her voice was soprano of extraordinary range.

An ardent advocate of Bohemian independence, at the beginning of the world war she incurred the disfavor of the Austrain government. In 1915, before the rebirth of her homeland to independence, she took out first papers for American citizenship. She returned to America twice after the war, the last time in 1921. In 1923 she married Capt. Joseph Halsbach, a Czech aviator much younger than herself.

Hold Funeral Rites Today for Mrs. Mary Wheeler

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Edith Wheeler will be held at 1:30 p. m. today at her late home at 2435 Central Park avenue, Evanston. Mrs. Wheeler, who died suddenly on Tuesday, had been an active member of the Buena Park Memorial Presbyterian church for 21 years. She was well known in Evanston musical circles.

MISS JEANNETTE GRIFFITH, 49 years old, died yesterday of heart disease at her home at 1243 Judson avenue, Evanston. Miss Griffith was a private tutor. She is survived by two sisters, Miss Clenna L. Griffith and Miss Elsie V. Griffith, with whom she lived.

DEATHS OF A DAY

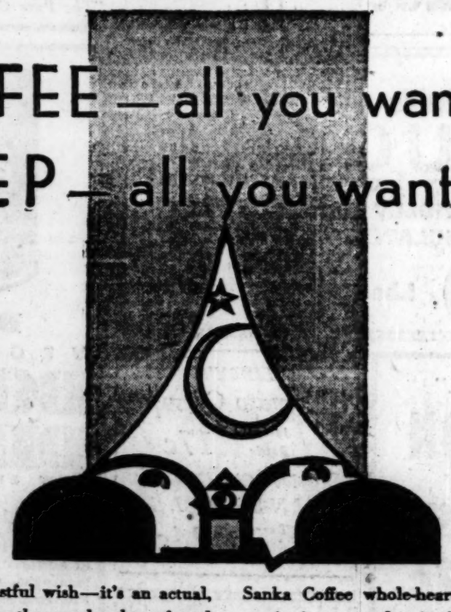
COFFEE—all you want of it!
SLEEP—all you want of it!



THAT'S not a wistful wish—it's an actual, proven fact. For the way has been found to remove from coffee the one ingredient that can steal sleep—caffein. Drink Sanka Coffee—genuine, delicious coffee from which 97% of the caffein has been removed.

Yes — it's real coffee! . . . . . Sanka Coffee is real coffee—a superior blend of the finest Central and South American coffees grown. Nothing is added—only caffein is removed. In Sanka Coffee you'll find all of coffee's satisfying flavor—all its fragrant aroma. Drink one cup of it and you'll agree with coffee experts that no other blend is finer. Physicians here and abroad endorse Sanka Coffee whole-heartedly. Your grocer carries it—ground or in the bean,—in pound cans that preserve its freshness and its fragrance. He sells it on this money-back basis: "If, after a thorough trial, you are not satisfied with Sanka Coffee on every score, return what's left in the can and we'll refund the full purchase price." Get a can of Sanka Coffee today—and sleep tonight!

. . . . . Make the night-test! . . . . . The first time you try Sanka Coffee, drink it at night. It won't keep you awake. Next morning you'll know, from actual experience, that you've discovered a delicious coffee you can enjoy morning, noon and night—without regret!

2,000 FARMERS HANDLE AFFAIRS LIKE DIRECTORS

Illinois Agriculturists Are in Session.

BY PAUL POTTER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Two thousand Illinois farmers sat in the opening sessions of the fifteenth annual Illinois Agricultural association and six subsidiary business organizations here today, and from all an outsider might tell these agriculturists might as well have been in a stockholders' meeting of some big corporation.

Financial statements and matters of business policy were handled with just such dispatch.

"The Illinois farm bureau has taken the lead in the country in a transformation from a purely social or legislative organization into a business federation of men who annually do buying and selling of products that runs into millions of dollars," said Earl Smith, president.

Reports Are Made.

Having entered the life insurance, auto and property insurance, farm supply, "such as gasoline and other fuels," hog serum purchasing, auditing and coöperative commodity marketing fields, the day was spent by these farm bureau leaders in reports and plans for increased organization. Cautioning coöperative officials on the need of all farm undertakings for more careful accounting practice, George Jewitt, president of the Transportation bank of Chicago cut short his set speech to take up THE TRIBUNE'S editorial this morning on "overproduction of wheat" and urge farmers that they must act at once to take advantage of the federal marketing act.

Canadian System Cited.

"With only 480 farmer owned grain elevators out of 2,000 in Illinois, there is no reason for sending grain into competitive selling channels," he said. "Send your wheat to market through the funnel, like they've done in Canada, if you want to succeed."

Manslaughter Verdict for Slayer of 'Scolding' Woman

Frank Fortuna, 37 years old, 5228 South Kenneth avenue, who was charged with murder, was found guilty of manslaughter by a jury in Judge Daniel P. Trude's court. He faces an indeterminate sentence of 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary in the event his new trial motion is denied. Fortuna shot and killed Mrs. Elizabeth Szcynkaruk, 5148 South Kostner avenue, the testimony showed, because she scolded him for what she said was improper care of his children.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES ADD TO FARM WOES

Hyde Says Loans Are Being Curtailed.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—President Hoover was informed today by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde that eastern life insurance companies are complicating the farm situation by curtailing purchase of farm mortgages in the Mississippi valley states. Unless this policy on the part of life insurance companies is changed, Mr. Hyde told the President, large scale foreclosures of farm land are certain to result.

Alexander Legge, chairman, and C. C. Teague of the federal farm board accompanied Mr. Hyde to the White House and participated in the conference on the new problem. At present the insurance companies carry two billion dollars of the nine billions of farm mortgages extant.

As explained by Secretary Hyde, some of the larger companies have declined to renew mortgages unless interest rates are increased and the principal of the loans reduced. Depressed farm land values have prompted the insurance companies to refuse to renew loans except on a basis of the new or present day values.

"Complaints reaching my department indicate a serious state of affairs," Mr. Hyde said. "I do not think the present farm situation calls for such a drastic loan policy."

Mr. Teague urged that steps be taken to influence the insurance companies to withhold foreclosure proceedings and renew their loans on the present 1918-'20 land valuations so long as interest payments are kept up. It is understood that Secretary Hyde will take the matter up direct with the larger insurance companies.

BEST OF SLEUTHS SCAN FRANCE FOR MISSING CZARIST

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 29.—With the best men of the suerte generale scouring France, the disappearance of Gen. Alexander Koutepoff, chief of Russian exiles in Paris and former military leader in the counter revolutionary campaign, remains a mystery.

Although soviet circles are putting forth the explanation that Gen. Koutepoff, who was the backbone of the exiles' existence, had probably absconded with the funds of the veterans' organization, white Russians are convinced that their leader is either dead or being spirited to Moscow for execution.

The police are doing their best to check up three reports which have come to their ears. One is that Gen. Koutepoff had been shoved into a taxi in front of his home in a deserted street, rushed to Le Havre, and put aboard a soviet freighter which sailed Sunday night.

The second is that he was lured to a villa in Saint-Cloud, a suburb of Paris, by one of his former officers, alleged to have sold out to the cheka, and assassinated and buried in a garden there.

The third theory is that a soviet plane suddenly left Le Bourget airport early Monday morning without necessary clearing papers, with the general aboard, drugged and tied.

Waukegan and Zion Act to Halt Scarlet Fever

With 35 cases of scarlet fever under quarantine in Waukegan and 46 cases reported in Zion, health authorities yesterday were considering closing several schools in the two towns in an effort to stop the spread of the disease. Nine new cases were reported in Zion yesterday. Thirteen of the children who are ill attend the 30th street school in Zion, while nine of those quarantined in Waukegan are in the same class at the St. Anastasia school.

3 Great Records

HELD BY BUICK ALONE

1 People are driving 1,465,988 Buicks—735,336 more than any other of the fifteen makes of cars in Buick's field.

2 Regularly, month in and month out over a long period of years, Buick has won TWO buyers for every ONE buyer of any other car priced above $1200.

3 The new Buick introduced July 27, 1929, has far exceeded even this record by winning 41%* of the combined sales of the fifteen makes of cars in its price class.

To you, as a motor car buyer, these facts have a direct and definite significance. They mean that Buick today, as for a quarter-century, holds undisputed leadership among fine cars. They mean that motorists everywhere award Buick abiding confidence and preference. They mean that you, too, will find the new Buick the kind of car you've always hoped to own.

Referee—Salador.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Chicago's Bruins still lead the pro basketball league, but it's only by the margin of a fraction of a game. Rochester's Centrals, after losing the first game of the series Sunday night and dropping two more contests at Fort Wayne since that time, resumed their championship form, defeating Chicago, 29 to 16.

It was the first time Chicago has lost since Nat Holman joined the club. After Cleveland started the second half play with a 23 to 20 victory over Chicago, the Bruins won three in a row. Rochester's standing is 5 won and 4 lost.

Held Early Advantage.

Rochester scored four field goals in the first five minutes and the 8 to 0 advantage spelled victory. The Bruins came back with a rush but every time they threatened, Rochester pulled away.

The first period also produced the best bout of the season, with Al Kellett and Tiny Hearn being awarded a draw when they exchanged blows after a double foul had been called for pushing. Referee Chuck Salador turned the decision for he sent both from the game. Kellett just had scored a long shot from center to bring the count to 8 to 5 in favor of Rochester, and his loss didn't help the Bruin cause.

Allen replaced Hearn and had an offensive edge over both Tillie Voss and Gil Ely who succeeded Kellett.

Bruin Rally Falls Short.

Rochester led, 17 to 11, at the half. The Bruins outplayed the visitors at the start of the second period and for a time it seemed they might turn the trick. Their floor work brought many scoring opportunities but Kennedy's long shot was the only one successful.

Then Rochester regained that original eight point lead at 21 to 13 with nine minutes remaining to play. A deliberate, delayed floor game spread out the Bruins' defense and made possible four shots under the basket in that time. Add to this the erratic shooting of Holman and Hickey who failed on easy chances and the result is explained.

The Taylor Trunks won a freak contest from the Bethany church team, 9 to 8. Seven of the Bethany girls played against the Trunks' five.

HAWKS HOPE TO CLIMB TONIGHT; PLAY CANADIENS

The battle between the Black Hawks and the New York Rangers for second place in the American division of the National Hockey league goes merrily on. Tonight the Hawks play Les Canadiens at Montreal in a game which will bring them up even with the Rangers in total games played and put them back in second place, a point ahead of the New Yorkers, if they win.

In the other games tonight Toronto's pounding bunch of youngsters will battle the Montreal Maroons' powerful body checkers, and Detroit, which has taken up the chase for a playoff position, plays the New York Americans.

JOE CANTILLON IMPROVES; STILL CRITICALLY ILL

Hickman, Ky., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Joe Cantillon was reported a little improved tonight. For the first time since Sunday, when he suffered his second stroke in a few days, he was rational for a few moments and recognized Mrs. Cantillon, she reported. Dr. J. C. Morrison said that he was sleeping more naturally and breathing a little more easily, but the change is so slight it is not believed to have increased his chances of pulling through the crisis.

Iverson Quits Minnesota; Coached Hockey 7 Years

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Emil W. Iverson, instructor and coach of winter sports at the University of Minnesota, resigned today, effective April 1. He wishes to give up his coaching duties after seven years, he said, to devote more time to a northern Minnesota outdoor camp he has organized.

Tebbe Beats Monks, 50-47, in 63 Inning Cue Game

Herman Tebbe defeated Riley Monks, 50 to 47, in 63 innings last night at Kleinhofer's recreation parlor. Charles Morin will encounter Charles Le Gros in tonight's game.

THE GUMPS—TO THE END

TOM LIEB ASKS MINNESOTA FOR $10,000 SALARY

Gophers Offer $7,500; Raise $500 Yearly.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Tom Lieb, who handled Notre Dame's undefeated football team last fall in the absence of Knute Rockne, is willing to accept an offer to succeed Dr. Clarence Spears as head football coach at Minnesota if his terms are met. Lieb was reported to have told the senate committee on athletics that he would take the job if given a three year contract at $10,000 a year.

Lieb left today after a two day stay in Minneapolis where he discussed the Minnesota situation with the subcommittee that has charge of electing a new coach. Because he has an offer reported to call for $12,000 a year to become football boss at Auburn college, Lieb asks that he be given a definite answer by Saturday. The board is said to have agreed to do this.

Other Applicants Considered.

Lieb has been one of the favorite few for the Minnesota post ever since Spears quit, but because he needs an early answer it is believed that his chances of getting the nomination are handicapped. Minnesota's committee is still interviewing candidates and does not believe that it can make the final decision as soon as Lieb would like to have it.

If the committee doesn't make an appointment by Saturday it seems certain that Lieb will declare himself out of the running. His salary demand is the top price that Minnesota will pay for any coach. It is reported he was offered $7,500, with an annual increase of $500 up to $10,000 a year.

Tad Weiman's candidacy has received a temporary setback because he did a little more talking at Ann Arbor than local authorities cared for. He has been invited here for an interview Wednesday, but at the last minute it was canceled with word from President L. D. Coffman that the committee wouldn't be in a position to see him for several days.

McEwen Gets Hearing.

Capt. John McEwan, former Oregon coach, also had a hearing before the Minnesota group this week, but he is not being given serious consideration.

The coaching choice is believed to lie among Lieb, Weiman, Ossie Solem of Drake, Bernie Bierman of Tulane, and Dutch Bergman, first assistant under Dr. Spears.

NOT IN MARKET.

Berkeley, Cal., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—University of California officials said today in reference to widespread rumors that the school is seeking Tom Lieb, assistant coach at Notre Dame, as an assistant to Nibs Price, that there was no foundation for the reports.

"While we recognize Mr. Lieb's ability and experience," one of the faculty men said, "we are not in the market for another football man at this time." It was pointed out also that California probably would not pay as much to Lieb for assisting Price as other schools would be willing to pay him as head coach.

Nick Cullop, Veteran Hurler, Named Manager

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Nick Cullop of Chilhowie, Va., veteran pitcher, has signed as manager of the Dayton, O., club of the Central league. Cullop, who was released to Dayton by the Louisville American association club last summer, succeeds Merito Acosta. Announcement of Cullop's appointment was made today by the Louisville club, which owns the Dayton franchise.

Graham and Miller Fight to Draw; Crowd Disagrees

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 29.—(AP)—A chorus of boos greeted the judges' decision tonight when they declared the ten round boxing match between Bushy Graham, Utica, N. Y., featherweight, and Freddie Miller, Cincinnati, a draw. Graham knocked Miller down three times in the tenth round.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

SPORT DECISIONS.

ARGUMENTS concerning the corrected fight decision in the Lomski-Braddock bout of Jan. 17 no doubt will continue for some time. Of course, if you wagered on Lomski and received back only your stake when the draw decision was announced, you will expect your friend to hand over your belated winnings. If he does not, there will be a few warm words, unless you become belligerent to the point of fisticuffs, and he no longer will be your friend.

Supposing you did not wager with a friend, but just a chance acquaintance. Stakes have been drawn. Of course, he should pay. If he doesn't, what are you going to do about it? Wagers between individuals, we understand, are not illegal to the point of prosecution, while open booking is, but we're also told they are not collectable in court.

Then should this decision have been reversed? Certainly, if it was incorrect. The boxing commission showed courage in action which cannot fail to bring some razzing and comment which could have been avoided by silence. The verdict at the time was unsatisfactory but that has been almost forgotten because so many decisions are unsatisfactory to at least a minority of spectators and often to a majority. Moreover, the commission cannot consider complications arising from wagers in reaching its decisions.

Incidentally, sports writers receive more queries on disposition of bets in draw decisions than on almost any other subject. These queries come on boxing, football, and what not. It is surprising how many people think if a friend says "I'll bet you $10 Illinois beats Iowa in football," and you accept the bet, that you win in case of a tie. That is not sporting theory, which is that the acceptor of the wager bets that Iowa will win. So stakes are drawn in case of tie unless there is an express stipulation to the contrary. So we warn all amateur bettors they should at the time a wager is made agree what happens in case of tie or draw. Otherwise they must accept sporting custom and draw stakes.

Golden Gloves Teams Picked by Loop Gyms

[Stories on out of town sectional trials on Page 19.]

Dave Barry, former Canadian lightweight champion, will enter at least forty boxers in the preliminaries of THE TRIBUNE'S Golden Gloves amateur boxing tournament to be held in three sections of the city next month. The trials are scheduled for Feb. 11 at the Ashland Boulevard Auditorium, Feb. 14 at the Fronton, and Feb. 17 at White City. The finals will be decided at the Coliseum, Feb. 25 to 28.

Boxers who will represent the Barry gymnasium will not be chosen until Monday. Barry does not care to enter boys who have no chance to win. He is eager to develop a squad which will take the team trophy.

"I intend to box with every entrant," Barry said yesterday. "I am not going to take the word of other fighters as to the ability of my boys. If they can hit me, show they can counter and stand up under fire, then I will place them on my team. I want to be sure that each boy knows something of the offensive and defensive angles of amateur boxing. I have been grooming a number of boys for the last three months and I feel reasonably sure they will go a long way in their divisions."

Howard Carr, who owns the Arcade gymnasium, will have a strong team in the tournaments. As soon as he returned from the south he started to work with his fighters. He paired them and then gave them instructions as they boxed. He stopped bouts repeatedly to show his boys how to use a left hand for leading and blocking.

Howard's Arcade team won the trophy in THE TRIBUNE tourney held at the Ashland Boulevard auditorium in 1922.

Tickets for the Coliseum and Chicago Stadium shows are on sale at THE TRIBUNE'S public service office, 1 S. Dearborn street. The prices are $1, $2 and $3. All profits go to the Forty and Eight for the maintenance of its camp for world war veterans in the forest preserve.

An entry blank appears on the sports pages for individual entry. Team entry can be made by listing on a sheet of paper all boxers, with their weight and section in which they will appear. This blank must be signed by an official of the club. Entries for the first set of trials close on Feb. 4.

Loyola-Purdue Game Tonight Clash of Sectional Leaders

BY HARLAND ROHM.

More than just another basketball game, the contest between Purdue and Loyola in Memorial gymnasium at Lafayette tonight is Indiana against the world in the Hoosiers' pet sport. Contrasting styles of basketball, namesake captains who are the outstanding centers in the middle west and probably in the nation, in addition to the fact both quintets are great college teams, make the engagement the basketball game of the year.

LEN SACHS.

Loyola plays a deliberate, professional style, passing game, while Purdue holds to the old Indiana fire department game of galloping up and down the floor and spraying shots at the basket. Loyola's style demands beautiful ball handling and they work plays like professionals, a legal block being one of their pet methods of getting the ball into scoring position. And they shoot only when they have a set shot or after a drive that takes the shooter under the basket. Purdue depends more on speed, dribbling, and longer shots with quick follows.

Franklin Used Same Defense.

While the game needed no ballyhoo, it became the center of national interest when it was learned that Loyola had agreed to change from its zone defense to a man to man defense, as a condition of getting a game with the Western conference school. Loyola wanted the game, but from Purdue's standpoint, it is the only one the Boilermakers will play in three weeks, and as the Big Nine uses a man to man defense, the Hoosiers needed a game against the style of defense they will meet in the rest of their conference games.

Apparently that's all off now, however, as Coach Lennie Sachs of Loyola says he "intends to play their regular game," which means a zone defense. Presumably the publicity given the unusual agreement for a specified defense led to its being called off.

While Purdue's record isn't as impressive as Loyola they have played better opposition and they lead the Western conference with two victories and no defeats. Loyola has won 34 consecutive games, including in recent weeks Butler and Montana State, the only teams which had any legitimate claim to a national championship last year. The two teams have played against the same quintets only twice. Purdue lost to Butler by a few points and Loyola defeated Butler, 22 to 14.

In its great string of 34 consecutive victories Loyola has defeated teams from 19 schools. The North Siders began their string with the last seven games in the season of 1927-'28, won all of their 18 games in 1928-'29, and has won eleven in the present season. In these 34 games Loyola has scored 952 points, an average of 28, while holding opponents to 544 points, an average of 16. An interesting sidelight on Loyola is the few fouls called on them; in their last three games only fifteen were called on the entire team.

Loyola Has Eight Regulars.

Only Charles [Feed] Murphy, Loyola's center, has been a regular through that string of victories, which brings up the rivalry of the two Charles Murphys, not the least point of interest in the game.

Loyola has eight men who might be called regulars, but the usual lineup is Murphy at center, Mike Waesco and Tom Flynn at forwards, Bob Schumann and Dick Butzen at guards, though their positions mean little, as the team shifts and plays with all men passing and cutting like a pro team. The other three who alternate as regulars are Fred Sextro, John Durburg, and John Smith. Waesco and Smith were members of the De La Salle High school of Joliet, Ill., which won the national Catholic interscholastic tournament at Loyola in 1926. Murphy and Durburg played at St. Ignatius High school in Chicago, Sextro and Butzen prepped at Loyola's academy, Schumann came from St. Xavier High school in Louisville, Ky., and Flynn from John Carroll High school in Cleveland.

CARNERA LOOKS GOOD, BUT HOW'S HE UNDER FIRE?

Chicago Reserves Opinion Until Tomorrow.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Primo Carnera, Italian giant, who meets Elzear Rioux, French Canadian, in the windup of the boxing show at Chicago Stadium tomorrow night, has fighting possibilities. He is not a finished product by any means, but he is responding rapidly to the teachings of Abe Attel, former featherweight champion of the world.

Several judges of boxers say Carnera has everything that goes to make a champion. He has the weight, height and reach. He is shifty and knows how to cover when in trouble.

The question, however, is whether Carnera can take it. Fans who have watched him train want to see him under fire before they pass judgment.

Munn Couldn't Stand It.

There have been many heavyweights in the past almost as large as Carnera but few of them could withstand punishment. Wayne Munn, former Nebraska football player, who afterward aspired to be a fighter was unable to take a punch on the chin. He was knocked out several times by lighter fighters. Failing as a boxer, Munn turned to wrestling and subsequently held the world's heavyweight title. Andre Anderson, Sully Montgomery and Fred Fulton were others who lacked a fighting heart. Until the Italian meets a hard puncher, one who shoots for head and body, smart followers of the game will not admit Carnera is a heavyweight championship possibility.

The Italian undeniably hits hard with his right. His punches travel straight and he knows how to follow through. Most of his right hand blows are directed for the body.

Unlike most men of his size, Carnera does not have to be set to turn loose a punch. He throws either hand from any position and is seldom caught out of fighting stance. At least, this is the way he appears in his gymnasium workouts. His actions in the ring tomorrow night may be entirely different.

Flowers, Tut Ready.

Both fighters completed the harder part of training yesterday. Each boxed four rounds. They will engage in light gymnasium workouts this afternoon.

Bruce Flowers of New York and King Tut of Minneapolis, ten round semi-windup principals, are ready for their return engagement, also carded for tomorrow night. They met at the Stadium a short time ago, their efforts resulting in a draw.

Matchmaker Nate Lewis announced that Irish Mickey Gill and Ray McIntyre of Los Angeles, Cal., will open the show in a six round engagement at 119 pounds. King Levinsky and Jack Barry, local light heavyweights, will clash in the second bout, also a six rounder. Jean Voireau, the French junior lightweight, and Al Greenfield of Chicago will appear in the third six round bout of the evening.

Promoter James C. Mullen will stage a show at the White City arena Monday night. Paul Pantaleo of Chicago and Man Mountain Erickson are the main event fighters. Buster Mallini of Mississippi and Chief Jack Elkhart will be the principals in the semi-windup.

Dan Daly, Who Fought 91 Round Draw in 1891, Dies

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Dan Daly, 60, featherweight fighter of 40 years ago, died in St. Anthony's hospital today of a complication of diseases. He was best known for his 91 round draw with Tommy White at Omaha in 1891.

Dawson's 75 Tops Amateur Field in Texas Qualifying

JOHN DAWSON.

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Johnny Dawson, Chicago amateur, today shot a 75 over the Willow Springs course here to lead a field of more than 100 Simon Pures in a qualifying round for Thursday's amateur-professional 18 hole event, preliminary to the ninth annual Texas open tournament.

Close behind the Chicago star was Tod Menefee, San Antonio, with 76, and Lewis Levinson, also of San Antonio, 77. Jack Dold, Houston, winner of last year's event, required 90 strokes for the round.

While the boys who play for love of the sport were scrapping it out for places in Thursday's event more than 100 professionals from the band which recently has been battling with par and the elements on the Pacific coast were busy tuning up their game over the Brackenridge Park course, where the $7,500 Texas open will be played.

5 Chicagoans Gain 2d Round in Dixie Golf

Edgewater Park, Miss., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Five Chicagoans were among those to turn in first round 36 hole victories in the championship flight of the Pan-American amateur golf tourney here today. Decisive scores, as a rule, characterized the matches.

Russ Martin, Chicago medalist, eliminated Don Armstrong of Aurora, Ill., former titlist, 6 and 5.

Gus Novotny of Chicago and the title defender, turned back Harry Pritchett of Birmingham, southern intercollegiate champion, 11 and 10.

Fred Lamprecht, New Orleans, former intercollegiate champion, trimmed Elmer Cozard of Chicago, 10 and 9.

Chick Evans, shooting a beautiful 74 on the morning round and a 33 on the first afternoon nine, eliminated Henry Hafer, also of Chicago, 10 and 9.

Jack Westland, French champion, put out H. F. Bowbeer, another Chicagoan, 12 and 11.

Johnny Lehman of Chicago, defeated Walter Shearer of Mobile, Ala., 9 and 8.

Frank Justin of Chicago put out Al Welch of Biloxi, Miss., 9 and 8.

Sam Perry of Birmingham, Ala., and southern amateur champion, eliminated Lee Schneider, Oshkosh, Wis., 6 and 5.

Tomorrow's pairings follow:

Russ Martin vs. Johnny Lehman; Jack Westland vs. Chick Evans; Fred Lamprecht vs. Gus Novotny; and Frank Justin vs. Sam Perry.

OLYMPIC STAR PRAISES WORK OF TRACK GROUP

Plans Early Return to Competition.

New York, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Ray Barbuti, former Syracuse track star and Olympic 440 meter champion, tonight was reinstated by the National Amateur Athletic union. Nearly a year ago Barbuti was barred from further competition in meets sanctioned by the A. A. U. He had aroused the ire of that organization by stating certain amateur athletes were paid.

RAY BARBUTI.

Barbuti appeared before the registration committee at the St. Joseph Catholic club indoor track meet in Newark, N. J., tonight and handed in a written apology for his statements. The apology was addressed to John J. Deignan, chairman of the A. A. U. registration committee.

Plans Indoor Campaign.

The Olympic champion immediately was reinstated and given a registration card. Barbuti said he planned to enter indoor competition as soon as he could get in condition.

In his letter to Deignan Barbuti said:

"If my original statements, made in anger, seem to reflect on the whole body of amateur athletics, I am sorry, for I had no such intention in my original remarks or subsequent statements. I believe that the vast majority of the competing amateur athletes are real amateurs. I am hoping that the few competitors and promoters who may have contributed to the condition to which I referred will be abolished in the near future.

"I feel that your organization is doing all it can to correct conditions, and I only hope that you may be given more power and courage to face these evils and make further improvement."

Was Suspended Indefinitely.

Barbuti was given an indefinite suspension Feb. 28, 1929, after he had "blown off" about conditions when he and other athletes were summoned to A. A. U. headquarters to investigate their nonappearance at the New York A. C. meet. A. A. U. officials read a newspaper report of his caustic remarks concerning the excess expense money received by some track stars and meted out a suspension until he "proved or retracted" the statements.

ELDER WINS AND LOSES

New York, Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Jack Elder, Notre Dame dash star, again showed his heels to a local sprint field. In fact, he showed them twice in convincing triumphs at 60 and 70 yards, but he lost a race before he scored his first victory, as wiry little Jimmy Pappas of the Newark A. C., the metropolitan junior sprint champion, barely nosed out the South Bend tornado in the 50 yard dash of the Rupert Mills memorial sprint series tonight.

To the dismay of an overflow crowd of 5,000 at the Newark armory the Notre Dame football hero was beaten in his first test on New Jersey boards. Even the fact that a local boy conquered Elder could not assuage their disappointment.

The only one who could temper the disheartenment caused by Elder's setback was the Rockne pupil himself and he did in brilliant style. At 60 yards he conquered Pappas by two feet in the near record time of .06 2-5 and then went on a few minutes later to vanquish Pappas by five feet in the excellent time of Loren Murchison's :07 2-5, just a fraction behind the universal standard.

Phil Edwards gave Ray Conger, the Iowa dash wonder, a beating in the 1,000 yard race. Edwards won by 12 yards, doing the distance in 2:14 4-5, or 2 2-5 seconds better than Lloyd Hahn's record for the event.

HUNTER SEEDED NO. 1 FOR U. S. INDOOR TENNIS

New York, Jan. 29.—(AP) — Eight players, headed by the familiar name of Francis T. Hunter, were seeded today in the draw among seventy entries for the national indoor tennis championships opening here Saturday.

Hunter, runner up last year to Jean Borotra of France, was placed at No. 1, with J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., former Canadian indoor champion, second, and Julius Seligson, Lehigh university's former intercollegiate outdoor champion, third.

Sharkey and Scott Begin Training Grind in Florida

Miami, Fla., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Jack Sharkey, burned almost black from exposure to Florida suns, today took his first workout for his impending battle with Phil Scott. Phil Scott arrived tonight and may work out tomorrow.

New York, Jan. 28.—(AP)—A promising juvenile and a thoroughbred of three years' racing experience placed the silks of Harry F. Sinclair's Rancocas stable out in front at the Fair Grounds, New Orleans, today.

The youngster was Schooner, a son of Bud Lerner. The veteran was the four year old Donnay, which runs either in mud or over a fast track. Schooner made his bow to the racing world with a victory in the card's opener while Donnay scored his second triumph of the meeting in the Pontchartrain purse, which featured the program, Jockey E. Steffen was up on both of the horses.

In winning the Pontchartrain, Donnay was forced to come from behind in the stretch to defeat Inception and Mole Hill from Mrs. O. Chaney's stable. The entry was made the even money favorite and for a greater part of the mile it appeared as if it would run one, two. Donnay, however, came up strong to finish five lengths in front of Inception, which was a nose in front of his stablemate. Donnay paid $4.40 for a $2 ticket.

Schooner led Molly Hogan, a rank outsider, to the finish line. The latter paid the long price of $94 to place and $18.10 to show. The three D's Stock farm of Texas put over a good thing in the victory of War Time, a Man o' War colt.

THE NEW WAXFREE HAVOLINE

IF YOU EVER PARK YOUR CAR OUTDOORS You Need The New WAXFREE HAVOLINE

You Need Havoline—Because
It circulates instantly at 5° below zero

The New Waxfree Havoline prevents motor stiffness—it will not harden in the coldest Chicago weather. Even at 5° below zero it is a rich fluid lubricant, covering every surface, sealing in needed power, and permitting your engine to turn over at the first touch of the starter—though your car has been parked outdoors all day!

You Need It—Because
It resists temperatures as high as 500° F.

The New Waxfree Havoline retains its pure oily body at the hottest engine temperatures. The intense heat generated by exploding gas within your engine makes this protection vital 95% of the time your car is running, even in zero weather. "Oiliness" at high temperatures means more power and mileage, too.

You Need It—Because
No other oil gives this double protection

The New Waxfree Havoline is the first pure unblended paraffin-base oil ever refined entirely free from wax. Wax, you know, causes oil to stiffen in cold weather; it turns water-thin with engine heat. Because it is waxfree, the New Waxfree Havoline circulates at low temperatures which congeal other oils. It lubricates at high temperatures which "burn up" ordinary oils. No other oil gives you this wide range of motor protection.

If you want positive assurance that your car will always be ready to "go" in the bitterest Chicago weather, try the New Waxfree Havoline today!

LOOK FOR THIS SIGN

WAXFREE
Wax turns water-thin under heat. Wax turns candle-hard under cold. Now for the first time, you can get a waxfree paraffin-base oil for the best year

15 WIN VERDICTS IN SOUTH BEND AMATEUR BOUTS

2,000 See Golden Gloves Trials.

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—The four day South Bend News-Times Golden Gloves tournament got away to a flying start tonight with 16 bouts, 15 decision, no knockouts, one draw. It was an evening packed full of thrills for 2,000 fans. The meet continues tomorrow and Friday. Finals will be held Monday.

Ben Plotnicki, Central High school sophomore and quarter back on the football team, sprang a surprise when he won over Leon S. Heinrick, welterweight amateur champion of Washington, D. C.

Fighting Writer Draws Bye.

Disappointment was expressed when Robert Hoenig, fighting journalist of South Bend, drew a bye. He'll fight tomorrow night.

Elmer Burnham, director of recreation in the public schools, who referred part of the bouts tonight, took an unexpected sock on the jaw when he was officiating in the William Sipocz-Julius Schubert bout. Schubert won the bout. He's a lightweight.

Nate Family Wins.

The Nate brothers won their bouts tonight. Joe's left jabs earned the decision over Leon Eshenbaugh in the welterweight division. His brother, John, was given the decision over George Illinski in the featherweight class. Their cousin, John Nate, a flyweight, is billed for tomorrow night.

Other results:

BANTAMWEIGHT—William Marrarall of Notre Dame beat Bud Badokski.

FEATHERWEIGHT — Fladstone Edgehill, colored, beat Tony Lycanski.

LIGHTWEIGHT—Jack Milan, colored, beat George Ragedus; Lewis Fisher beat Andrew Gemski; Lawrence Wicker, colored, beat John Takach; Fred Mitchell, colored, beat Dan Smith.

WELTERWEIGHT—John L. Sackandy beat Chester Masaynski; Joseph Skiba beat Don F. Cassesia.

MIDDLEWEIGHT—James Swanson beat Jack Mayers.

Chicago Racquets Team Forfeits at Philadelphia Meet

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Boston and Chicago were eliminated from the national racquets doubles championship tournament which was opened today on the courts of the Philadelphia Racquet club.

Two teams from New York, one from England and one from Philadelphia moved into the second round as a result of the first round play.

The Boston team of M. Greenough and C. Hutchins was eliminated by E. M. Ted Edwards and J. R. Rowland, of the the Philadelphia Racquet club, by 15-10, 15-11, 16-15.

Chicago passed out of the tournament when Robert A. Gardner and Howard Linn notified the tournament officials they would not be able to compete. This sent their scheduled opponents, Hewitt Morgan and C. J. Coulter, New York, into the second round.

The first match today of the first round was captured by P. M. Kemp-Welsh and Cuncuan Cambridge, of England, who defeated R. F. Holden and R. M. Ehert, Philadelphia, 15-12, 15-4, 15-6.

MOON MULLINS—BOMBPROOF

Gloves Fly at Springfield; Rockford Reaches Finals

BY FRENCH LANE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 29.—Boxing fans of central and southern Illinois watched the best ring program ever presented in this section here this afternoon and evening at the opening sessions of the State Register-CHICAGO TRIBUNE's Golden Gloves sectional tournament.

The fighting continued for more than six hours, and when the program ended some 25 boys were one step nearer a championship. The preliminary bouts in all eight divisions were decided and they attracted more than 2,500 spectators to the Elks' auditorium.

Close Four Rounder.

Standing out on the opening program was the victory Buddy Booth, a Springfield favorite, scored over Bob Dabney, also of Springfield. The winner probably will have something to say about the awarding of the featherweight title here.

Booth was forced to fight an extra round to get the decision. They tossed leather so cleverly and are so evenly matched either would have had a chance to cause considerable trouble in THE TRIBUNE'S big meet at the Coliseum in Chicago, Feb. 25 to 28.

Elmer Bea, another Springfield lad, a lightweight, showed a hefty wallop when he won a technical knockout from Glen Hinman of Elkhart in the first round. He socked the Elkhart boy with everything he had before the referee stopped it. But there are other lightweights in the local meet who are expected to give Bea trouble.

Percy Darling Speaks.

Percy Darling, the ex-policeman and giant man of Springfield, who nominated himself to win the heavyweight championship and then announced he would knock the tar out of all the palookas now parading in the professional ring, lost his amateur standing just before his bout was scheduled to take place.

John J. Toohill, the local authority, and officials of the Amateur Athletic Union were about ready to turn Percy loose in the ring when the fighter balked. "Gentlemen wait one minute," he said. "Most of the fans are here tonight to see me fight. I won't go another step nearer the ring unless you pay me $300."

When last heard from, Percy was being rather forcibly ejected through the front doors of the Elks' auditorium by one of the ushers, who had just lost a bout in the featherweight class.

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Marked by the hardest fighting ever seen in a Rockford ring, the Rockford Republic - CHICAGO TRIBUNE Golden Gloves boxing tournament opened tonight before a crowd of 1,500.

The lightweight division provided major thrills. Five bouts were held in the 135 pound class because of the large entry. Joe Romano of Mandell's gym and Arne Asp of the Swedish gym fought their way to tomorrow night's finals. Asp drew a bye and had to fight only one bout, while Romano was forced to go through two tough scraps.

Romano Hard Hitter.

In his first bout, Romano, a hard hitting southpaw, beat Bill Harris after three furious rounds.

Romano was favored to beat James Entwhistle in a semi-final, but the Sycamore boy floored the southpaw for a seven count in the first round. It took a furious rally in the last two stanzas to win the decision for Romano. Asp whipped Joe Jordan in the second semi-final bout.

Ollie Oij, the devastating Norwegian, will meet Isaiah Gaynor, colored, in the final of the middleweight class. Oij knocked out Howard Grube in the first round and Gaynor stopped Leonard Anderson in the opening session.

Two Boys Unopposed.

Al Smith will battle George Gordon in the final bout of the bantamweight class, while Chuck Lowry will meet Joe Togliapieta in the light heavyweight final. Charlie Troy meets Verne Donoho in the welterweight final. Clarence Dahlberg and Bud Jensen, both of Rockford, will clash in the final bout in the featherweight division.

Samer Fisher won in the 112 pound class by default, and no one wanted to challenge the right of Adam Smith in the heavyweight class.

Froebel 2d Half Rally Beats Emerson, 31 to 25

Gary, Ind., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—Froebel High school basket team tonight defeated Emerson, 31 to 25. Emerson held a 15 to 9 lead at the half.

Horned Owl Picks Winter to Start Housekeeping

BY BOB BECKER.

Late January or February is not the time of the year ordinarily for birds to begin housekeeping in Illinois, Michigan, or Wisconsin because cold weather, chilly winds, and snow form any but comfortable environment in which to rear their young.

However, there is one hard boiled bird in the central west undaunted by winter when it wants to raise a family. This is the great horned owl, the killer that can raise such havoc among game and song birds.

Although bird fans favor a constant war against this large owl because of its killing habits, they must admit that the bird has courage and is a spartan when it comes to nesting habits.

Trees Sometimes Nests.

The female horned owl will sit on eggs hour after hour, even though virtually wrapped in a blanket of snow.

If late January is mild, the horned owl may elect to pick a nesting site and set up a home before the first of February. Sometimes a mated pair of birds will select a hole in a tree for their nest, a fortunate choice, because the birds then secure shelter from storms and cold winds. More frequently, however, the owls will take over an old hawk or crow nest.

Three white eggs are laid and then the long, cold vigil begins. During the period of incubation neither the male nor female bird stay away from the nest for any length of time. The cold winds of late winter thus have little chance to chill their eggs.

Busy Food Hunters.

Getting such an early start on nesting duties, the horned owls have several husky fledglings to look after by the time the first song birds reach the central west. Then the parent birds are kept busy hunting food. Inasmuch as the horned owl will tackle most anything that wears fur or feathers, their kills in the spring will range from rabbits, skunks, and mice to song birds and quail.

CHICAGO TRACK TEAM SLAMS "Y" SQUAD, 76 TO 4

The University of Chicago track team swamped Sears-Roebuck Y. M. C. A., 76 to 4, in a dual meet at Bartlett gymnasium last night. The Maroons scored slams in all but the low hurdles, in which the "Y" team captured a third and the relay.

Buck Weaver, giant Maroon football star, set a new Bartlett gymnasium record in the shot put. He tossed the iron ball 46 feet 9¾ inches, bettering his own mark. Bud East took the 50 yard dash away from Capt. Norman Root by a yard. East raced the distance in :5 5-10.

Dale Letts traveled a fast indoor mile, finishing the twelve laps in 4 minutes 31 6-10 seconds. Summaries:

50 YARD DASH—Won by East, Chicago; Root, Chicago, second; Ramsey, Chicago, third. Time, :5 5-10.

50 YARD LOW HURDLES—Won by Root, Chicago; Kramer, Chicago, second; Patterson, Sears "Y," third. Time, :6 3-10.

440 YARD RUN—Won by Schultz, Chicago; Colville, Chicago, second; Ramsey, Chicago, third. Time, :52 7-10.

LANE WINS PAIR.

Lane heavies won their fifth consecutive victory by defeating Senn, 24 to 13, thereby gaining possession of first place in the north section of the City league. Kopczynski, Anderson, and Vandervelde, who figured in every Lane victory, played their last games. They will be graduated tonight.

With the score 21 all at the end of the regulation period, Lane lights, with the aid of McArthur, whose free throw and basket gave them victory in the overtime period, defeated Senn, 25 to 24. Lineups:

AUTOMOTIVES, UTILITIES LEAD CHICAGO STOCKS

Auburn Auto Shares Gain Nine Points.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Utility and automotive stocks led a brisk forward movement on the Chicago Stock Exchange yesterday and volume of trading for the second time this year exceeded the transactions of the same day a year ago. Total sales amounted to 255,600 shares, 25,000 ahead of last year's figure.

Auburn rose 9 points to 224. Cord improved a fraction in sympathy. E. L. Cord, Auburn president, reported yesterday that January shipments of the company were considerably ahead of last year. Bendix, Borg-Warner, and Foote Gear made moderate gains.

Associated Telephone Utilities and United Gas were among the utility stocks to forge ahead for gains. The former advanced 2 points and the latter was up more than a point.

Announces Deal.

Midland United was active and slightly higher following formal announcement of the consumation of the deal whereby it acquires 64,009 shares of Midland Utilities company and 28,236 shares of the common stock of the American Public Utilities company from the United Gas Improvement company. In turn, United Gas Improvement gets 448,170 shares of Midland United. Exchange governors yesterday approved listing of 489,031 additional shares of Midland United.

Seaboard Utilities was fairly active and moderately higher. The company announced yesterday that more than two-thirds of the shares were voted for the authorization of the plan of exchange with Delaware Shares.

Great Lakes Dredge provided the most spectacular spurt of the day when sold up 28 points on a few odd lot sales. Gleaner Combine Harvester and Winton Engine were higher on fairly active trade. Jefferson Electric dropped a point.

May Enlarge Committee.

The investment group was quiet and slightly higher. Central Illinois and Corporation Securities improved about a point. Midland United closed 1⅜ higher. Chicago Investors showed little change despite the release of the company's annual report.

The board of governors approved the sale of memberships to Earl H. Cotton, William E. Evans, Lawrence N. Purcell, and Cornelius Shields. The board also recommended to members that the governing committee be increased to twenty-four members. At present the board numbers fifteen. It was explained that the exchange wishes to give representation to members outside of Chicago and it is likely that at least three of the new governors will be non-Chicagoans.

National Biscuit.

B. F. T.: National Biscuit company, after rounding out the best year in its history, has raised the dividend rate on its common stock to $7 per year. Previously dividends were $6 per year.

Net income available for dividends in 1929 was $21,423,571, against $17,883,365 in 1928.

After provision for preferred and common dividends there remained a surplus for 1929 amounting to $1,702,944, against $1,257,154 for 1928.

Earnings last year were equal to $86.37 per share on 248,045 shares of 7 per cent preferred stock (par $100) and $8.21 per share on 2,398,469 shares of common (par $25). Earnings in 1928 were $72.10 per share on the preferred and $7.31 per share on 2,209,520 common shares.

At the close of 1929 current assets were $36,600,416, of which $10,218,821 was cash and $12,313,375 represented municipal bonds. Current liabilities were $7,364,390. This left a net working capital of $29,236,026, which compares with $26,931,735 at the close of 1928.

Earned surplus was $24,503,177 and capital surplus was $8,420,859.

Net income in the three months ended Dec. 31, 1929, was $5,450,346, against $4,845,674 in the like quarter of 1928.

The company's program of consolidation and expansion will continue in 1930, according to airecent statement by its president. Stockholders at the annual meeting on March 12, 1930, will vote on proposed changes in capitalization recommended by directors. These include the exchange of present $25 par common stock for new shares of $10 par 2½ for 1 and authorizing 6,000,000 additional shares of $10 par stock to be held in the treasury available for acquisition of additional properties.

Both the preferred and common stocks are high grade.

Minneapolis Gas Light.

L. M.: Minneapolis Gas Light company $7,500,000 two year 6 per cent notes, dated Jan. 1, 1930, and due Jan. 1, 1932, have been issued to provide for the retirement of certain of the company's current indebtedness and all of its present funded debt.

These notes are senior to $3,127,500 par amount of preferred stock and $2,200,000 par amount of common stock. In issuing them the company agrees to issue no obligations secured by any lien on its assets and not to pledge any of its assets as security for any debts incurred or obligations issued other than these notes while the latter are outstanding. Unsecured indebtedness other than this issue shall not exceed $2,000,000.

Net earnings in 1929 were $1,148,516. Annual interest requirements are $450,000.

These notes are a suitable investment for a business man's surplus funds.

SEARS-ROEBUCK JOINS PARADE, REPORTS INCOME

Earnings Are Best in Firm's History.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Sears, Roebuck & Co., premier mail order and chain store concern, joined the prosperity parade last night as it made public its annual report. As forecast, the report showed that last year produced both the largest business and earnings in the company's history.

Gross and net sales for 1929 were $442,482,640 and $415,379,987 respectively, compared with $346,973,914 and $328,760,314 in 1928. Net income was $39,057,652, which was equivalent to $4.62 a share on 4,537,654 shares of capital stock outstanding at the end of the year; whereas in 1928 net income was $26,907,902, equivalent to $4.28 a share on 4,284,418 shares. Stock dividends of 1 per cent quarterly are paid, in addition to 62½ cents in cash.

Although the net sales of $415,379,987 marked an increase of $86,619,673 over 1928, operating expenses, etc., increased only $83,669,784 to $378,900,320. After paying cash and stock dividends and reducing the item of good will, etc., from $15,000,000 to $10,000,000, the balance sheet as of Dec. 31, 1929, shows total surplus of $79,196,595, compared with $62,508,674 at the end of 1928.

Current assets and liabilities stand at $145,798,587 and $55,307,024 respectively, compared with $111,730,716 and $34,489,546 at the end of 1928.

Reflects Expansion.

Sears-Roebuck's expansion in the chain store field also is reflected in the statement, which shows fixed assets and investments in other companies totaling $92,214,001, an increase of $12,480,640 during the year. It also was announced yesterday that an affiliation has been arranged with the Oppenheimer & Alsop department store, Oskaloosa, Ia., whereby the Iowa concern will have buying privileges through Sears-Roebuck.

The Chicago Investors' corporation, like other investment and trading companies, suffered a sharp depreciation in security holdings as the result of the collapse of the stock market last year. Its annual report, issued yesterday, shows a depreciation of $4,150,233, bringing the cost or market value of stocks and syndicate participations down to $10,822,143.

It is stated, however, that the company earned $1,212,405 and paid $508,964 in dividends; also that the market value of securities on Dec. 31, 1929, was $156,503 higher than the total carried in the balance sheet. Taking these facts into consideration, the shrinkage would be $3,290,289. The balance sheet, however, shows $3,356,732 deducted for losses and dividend payments.

Vote to Eliminate Deficit.

The company purchased and retired 20,000 shares of its preferred stock since the end of 1929 and the stockholders yesterday voted to eliminate a balance sheet deficit by reducing the stated paid-in capital on the preferred stock to $25 a share, thus reducing the capital to $7,250,000.

Giving effect to these changes, it is stated that the net market value of the assets of the corporation on Dec. 31 was $10,533,909, or equivalent to $51.67 a share on the 200,000 preferred shares outstanding. The shares are entitled to $55 in liquidation. It is stated that the market value of assets on Jan. 27 was more than $500,000 in excess of the value shown as of Dec. 31.

The rapid recovery of the steel industry, which has surprised both producers and consumers, is commented on by the mid-week reviews. And with bookings continuing to grow and buyers demanding prompt delivery, further expansion is foreshadowed. The upturn in the Chicago district has been so rapid that steel ingot output has risen to 80 per cent of capacity, compared with 72 per cent last week. The average for the U. S. Steel corporation and also for the whole industry is fully 75 per cent. A year ago the average was between 85 and 90 per cent. Producers of automotive steels have experienced the sharpest gain in orders.

'Middlemen' Show Distrust of Nation's Farm Policy

BY SCRUTATOR.

That large class of business men who come under the rather old-fashioned term "middlemen," which in food means everybody from the farmer to the retailer, and sometimes to the consumer, views the farm policy of the federal government with real distrust.

Some are frank about it and some are not. Some are even bold enough to come out flatly with announcements that the agricultural policy, able as the administration of it now is, is wrong. One is the Kansas City board of trade. Another, which has not yet been affected directly by the competition of the federal farm board as a middleman, but fears it, is the National Poultry, Butter, and Egg association.

Fears Competition.

Members of this organization handle the bulk of the three commodities produced and sold in the United States. L. B. Kilbourne, president of the association, has this to say of the possibilities:

"Briefly stated, the federal government, through the agricultural marketing act, is at liberty to become my competitor. At the present time the machine is all set up ready to run the moment the fuel is placed in it. Right now I know that if the federal government sets this machine in motion I must quit the field."

How far toward the socialization of distribution the farm board will go is probably not known even by its best friends. But it can hardly be denied that the funds from federal sources advanced for the purchase of grain by coöperatives make the government a speculator in this commodity.

There is, in fact, no middle ground for the farm board to take in its relief program. It must either be a price controller or a price speculator. It has certain advantages over the ordinary speculator. It has an enormous capital available and it has the privilege of advising reduction of acreage. It has no assurance that this advice will be taken. W. N. Sage, vice president of an insurance company in Iowa, writes from Keokuk that the suggestion to reduce will tend to increase production more than anything else the board could have done.

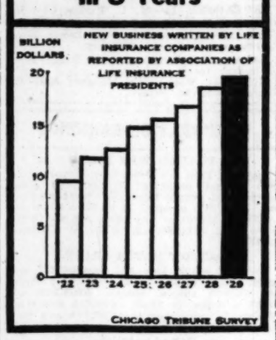
The instinct to coöperate is more artificial than the instinct to get ahead of the other fellow. Coöperatives that have failed did so because production could not be held down in the face of good prices.

Speculation Held Necessary.

Speculation should be minimized, the marketing act declared. But in foodstuffs there must be speculation. Men must buy eggs when the hens are working and store them for lean months. Risks must be taken with the hope of profit. It is no more immoral for the owner of a cold storage warehouse to take them than for the government to lend on grain at a level that leaves a possibility of loss if the lending itself fails to hold up the quotations. It is at least debatable that it is better for the government to take the risks than for individuals. Harrison F. Jones, secretary of the butter and egg men, believes the economic structure is better off under private speculation of this kind.

"When the losses come now," he explained, "some firms go under. The owners themselves absorb the losses. But business goes on just the same. It is hardly possible to have a national calamity because dealers here and there fail. It would be possible if a billion dollar business like the one I represent were under a single management and a severe fall came after all the supply was in storage."

New Business of Life Insurance Companies Has More Than Doubled in 8 Years



CHICAGO GROWS AS CHEMICALS, DYES CENTER

Chicago's position as a chemical and dye center is reflected in statistics of the Chicago Association of Commerce, since 1904, chemical manufacturing here has grown 3,600 per cent, the figures show. Against $15,000,000 in chemical products turned out in 1904, the volume has grown until in 1929 it was valued at more than 550 million dollars.

Deere & Co. Plans 5 for 1 Splitup of Common, Pfd.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 29.—Directors of Deere & Co. voted today to submit to shareholders at the annual meeting, April 29, a plan for reducing the common stock from $100 par value to no par value and to split the stock on the basis of five no par value shares for each $100 par value share.

It also was proposed that the par value of the preferred shares be reduced from $100 to $20, and that five new preferred shares be issued for each old share. Owners of common shares were voted a special bonus of 1½ per cent in stock in addition to regular dividends.

The announcement is taken to presage more activity in the common shares and their probable removal from the curb to the stock exchange, where the preferred shares already are listed. The stocks rose 24 points on the curb yesterday, selling above $600 a share and earning more than $66 a share last year, a split-up in Deere has been deemed overdue.

Extra Payments.

Extra dividends of $1 each have been voted by directors of the Liggett & Myers Tobacco company on the common and the "B" common stock, in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of the same amount. All are payable March 1, to stock of record March 12. Similar extra dividends were paid a year ago.

Directors also offered holders of the common and the "B" common stocks of record Feb. 20, rights to subscribe to one additional share at $25 each for each five shares held.

J. G. White & Co. declared a dividend of $6 on the common. The Scotten Dillon company, Detroit, declared an extra dividend of 20 cents and the regular quarterly dividend of 30 cents a share on common.

Resumes Dividends.

Colorado Fuel and Iron declared the first dividend on its common stock since 1921, directors voting 50 cents quarterly. Alaska Packers association declared the usual $2 annual extra dividend and a regular quarterly of $2 a share.

Munsingwear, Inc., declared an extra dividend of $1 a share in addition to the regular quarterly of 75 cents. Pacific Fire Insurance company increased its quarterly dividend rate from $1.25 to $1.50 a share. The Parker Rustproof company declared an extra of 12½ cents on common stock.

The Victor Welding Equipment company declared a stock dividend of 10 per cent on class A stock and class B stock. The Railroad Shares corporation declared an initial dividend of 12½ cents. Eltingon-Schild Co., Inc., omitted the quarterly dividend of 62½ cents on the common stock, due at this time.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 29.—U. S. Steel corporation's annual report put a kibosh on the latest bear singfest in short order today and the stock market bounded forward once more with convincing alacrity.

Active shares gained 1 to 3 points generally on the day's dealings with the customary handful of specialties and favorites of the moment running on net advances of 5 to more than 10 points.

Talk of the "inevitable reaction" died out completely and the bullish sentiment extended to virtually every

GENERAL BAKING REPORTS 1929 NET EARNINGS

New York, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The General Baking corporation today reported net earnings of $7,170,381 for 1929, equal to $6.49 a share on the preferred stock. This compares with 1928 net of $7,645,789, or $6.86 a share on the same issue.

F. H. Frazier, chairman of the board, informed stockholders that operations last year were hampered by expenditures of $4,808,024 for physical improvements in two-thirds of the corporation's fifty plants. Four new plants were built. Sales gained $2,850,253 over 1928 and the corporation retired the remainder of its funded debt.

The Pittsburgh Steel company's net income for 1929 was $3,922,567, or $12.58 a common share, against $2,880,882, or $8.47 a share in 1928. Profit for the last six months of the year was $1,166,358, or $3.15 a share, compared with $1,743,270, or $5.43 in the same period of 1928.

Elect W. H. Moulton Head of International Shoe Co.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Election of William H. Moulton as president of the International Shoe company has been announced. He succeeds Frank C. Rand, who was elevated to the chairmanship of the board of directors. Moulton had been a vice president of the International since 1912. Retirement of F. August Sudholt as treasurer of the international and election of Andrew W. Johnson as his successor also was announced. Edgar L. Bland, St. Louis and H. Eugene Jones, New York, were elected new directors.

Western Air Express Has Net Profit of $1,087,852

Los Angeles, Cal., Ja. 29.—(AP)—The annual report of the Western Air Express corporation, submitted by President Harris M. Hanshue to the stockholders, shows net profits, prior to federal income tax deductions, of $1,087,852 for 1929. This is equivalent to more than $9 a share on the average number of shares outstanding, and an increase of slightly more than 50 per cent over the 1928 profits, which were $720,777.80, or $6.73 a share. Gross revenues for the year were $2,950,921.

Profits Millions from Investment of $1,200

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 29.—Frederick Dietrich, vice president and a director of Kolster Radio corporation, testified before Special Master in Chancery John A. Bernard in Newark today that he had made $2,201,219 net profits on an original investment of $1,200 in 1912. The special master, appointed by Vice Chancellor Alonzo Church, who two weeks ago appointed receivers for the Kolster corporation, is conducting an investigation into a stockholder's charge that the market in Kolster was "rigged." Mr. Dietrich said that in 1912 he bought for $1,200 the controlling interest of Brandes, Inc., which constituted most of its stock. Through stock sales, he said, his gross profit since then had amounted to $6,248,265.

ONE LA SALLE STREET BUILDING

Occupancy MARCH 15 1930

RECENTLY it was announced that the Chicago Association of Commerce, upon the advice of its real estate committee made up of five of Chicago's foremost office building authorities, had selected One La Salle Street as its future home.

Numerous other prominent organizations whose requirements of office space demand the most discriminating choice have selected this building to become their business address upon its opening next spring, and we believe the six factors mentioned at the left of this advertisement suggest some of the reasons for the choice of One La Salle Street on the part of many of Chicago's most desirable tenants.

SELLING WAVE CARRIES GRAIN PRICES LOWER

Wheat Down 1¾@2½c at the Close.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

World-wide liquidation has been on in agricultural products for a number of weeks, with overproduction the dominating influence.

A wave of selling yesterday carried corn, oats, and rye, cotton and egg futures to a new low for the season, while wheat at the inside was within ⅛@⅜c of the lowest figures of the crop year, breaking below the federal farm board loaning levels, as did cotton. Liquidation was on in grains and other products from the start, and it was not until near the close that the markets showed a tendency to rally.

May wheat at the low point was off 2¼c from Tuesday's finish, touching $1.22½, with stop loss orders uncovered on the way down. Longs were persistent sellers, with the offerings absorbed by shorts and holders of bids, but rallies were hard to maintain and the finish was at net losses of 1⅝@2¼c, with March, $1.18¾@1.18¾, and May, $1.22⅞@1.23. Winnipeg sold at a new low for the season and lost 3c for the day, May there being only 4⅜c over Chicago at the last, against 11c over recently. Liverpool was off 1⅛@1⅝d, while Buenos Aires closed 2¼c lower, and Rosario, 1¾c lower.

Statistical Position Weak.

The world's statistical position of wheat is regarded by the trade, both here and abroad, as decidedly weak, and foreigners have been holding off in buying the cash article for many weeks in a determined effort to get values lower.

Russia was credited with having sold around 500,000 bu wheat overnight to other European countries and was offering more. The report had some effect on the local market, tending to increase bearish sentiment.

The farm board and the department of agriculture have started a campaign to reduce the wheat acreage and continue to call attention of farmers to the fact that no marketing machinery can result in good prices with overproduction. Coöperatives bought 33 cars of spring wheat at Minneapolis during the day at the farm board loan level, making 131 cars taken so far.

Corn Resists Pressure.

While all deliveries of corn sold at a new low on the crop, the market showed stubborn resistance to pressure and rallied quickly from the low point, closing ¼@⅝c lower, with March, 86⅝c, and May, 90⅛c. The latter touched 89⅝c on the break. Lamson Bros. & Co., after an extensive investigation throughout the corn belt, issued a report suggesting that the movement during the next 60 days would likely be smaller than usual.

All deliveries of oats sold at a new low on the crop. Support was lacking, and the close was ⅜@1⅜c lower, with March, 43⅝c, and May, 44¾@44⅞c, the finish being around 1c above the low.

Liquidation was on in rye, with all deliveries except the May selling at a new low for the season. Support came from shorts and from spreaders, who took rye and sold corn. The close was 1⅝@2½c lower, with March, 89c, and May, 87@87¼c.

COAL OUTPUT.

Bituminous coal production in the United States increased more than 700,000 tons for the week ending Jan. 25.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

Foreigners continue to show indifference to purchasing North American cash wheat and no sales of consequence were reported at the seaboard. Local handlers sold 123,000 bu wheat; 54,000 bu corn and $1,000 bu oats to the domestic trade.

EGGS SELL AT NEW LOW

New lows were reached in January refrigerator egg futures with the settlement on the Chicago Mercantile exchange at 28c, a net loss of 3¾c, or $450 a car. Piling up of fresh eggs in the local market without corresponding shipper demand broke the spot market, 1½c, bringing the wholesale price to 34½c, or 4c under a year ago. Sales were 253 cars and receipts 7,849 cases.

A slackening storage outgo and an unsettled spot market resulted in weakening in butter futures, but recoveries toward the finish wiped out some of the loss. Sales were 65 cars and receipts 7,395 tubs. Prices follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Despite the fact that prices for all grains are down to the lowest of the season, local sentiment remains bearish and rallies that come from time to time, traders say, are not expected to hold until there is a change in foreign sentiment. Russia is coming to the front again as a disturbing factor which, combined with uncertainty as to the farm board and small export business, tends to discourage large speculative buying.

There are a few bulls left in the wheat market who say that the market is more heavily oversold than at any time in years and a good advance is overdue. They believe that prices are down to a level where a better demand should develop on any further recession in values. Continued large open interest is accounted for by close observers as indicating immense spreading operations between nearby and distant futures in Chicago and between this market and Winnipeg. There is said to be spreading between Chicago September and Winnipeg October, the former being bought and the latter sold.

LARD MARKET EASIER

Lower prices for grains and hogs led to moderate selling of lard yesterday, but prices had a narrow range and closed only 2½c lower. Liverpool lard was unchanged; export clearances aggregated 3,844,833 lbs, and of bacon there were 919,000 lbs. Hog supplies were ample, although smaller than last year. Prices follow:

Farm Board Not Buying Cotton

The federal farm board was reported at one time yesterday as buying cotton. This was officially denied and Chairman Legge of the farm board announced late in the day that the farm board does not expect to buy cotton at all, but that the American Cooperative association will begin dealing in the market within a few days.

Commenting on the decline in price of cotton Mr. Legge said that reports on the exchanges had it that the boll weevil had been killed by the winter weather and that farmers would be unable to control production. The farm board, however, is working on the matter of over-production and is using every facility at its hands to persuade the farmer to decrease his acreage.

Liverpool closed 5 to 8 points net lower with spot sales 6,000 bales. Spots in New York were 16.65c with sales of middlings 1,100 bales; New Orleans 16.26c, sales 747 bales; Houston 16.55c, sales 167 bales and Galveston 16.65c, no sales. Prices follow:

TO REDUCE ITS OUTSTANDING COMMON STOCK

New York, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The Transcontinental Oil company today announced a proposal to reduce by one-half the present outstanding common stock, totaling about 6,500,000 shares, by exchanging one share of new capital stock for each two now held. The plan is to be submitted to the stockholders on March 4.

The company's authorized capital is now 7,000,000 no par shares, but the directors propose an increase to 8,000,000 shares of the new stock to provide for future business expansion.

Net profit for 1929 was $4,723,990 after federal taxes. In 1928 profit was $1,506,203 before taxes.

INTER. T. & T. ISSUE DROPS IN BOND MART; REDUCES OFFERING

New York, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Convertibles afforded most of the action in today's bond market. In the share privilege group the heaviness of International Telephone 4½s and American I. G. Chemical 5½s stood out, the former dropping to 113⅞, or just under its low at the time of the stock break.

The other debenture lost a point and a half on fairly heavy selling coincidental with the chemical foundation's demand for an inquiry by the state bureau of securities into the $30,000,000 flotation last April. The telephone bond closed at 115 for a net loss of 2 points.

Chicago and North Western convertible 4½s were active, but made no change on the day. American Telephone 4½s rose 1¼, while Missouri Pacific 5½s and Baltimore and Ohio 4½s each gained a small fraction.

Conditions prevailing in the bond market at the present time and the fact that the company has no immediate need for additional capital are said to have influenced officials of International Telephone to reduce the company's projected bond offer from $75,000,000 to $30,000,000, it was reported in the financial district today. The offering is expected at the end of this week.

END TESTIMONY AGAINST NEW N. Y. TO CHICAGO LINE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Eastern railroads opposing the proposal of the New York, Pittsburgh and Chicago railroad to construct a new cross Pennsylvania line to provide a shorter route between Chicago and New York today concluded their testimony before the interstate commerce commission.

C. V. Burnside, assistant finance director of the commission, took the testimony under consideration. His recommendation to the commission is the next step in the $177,000,000 project.

Attacking the plan, which is backed by the Delaware and Hudson company, the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore and Ohio railroads, called officials and traffic experts of their roads in an attempt to show present railroad facilities in the Pittsburgh district are adequate. They contended statistics presented by the new line concerning the amount of traffic to be obtained and the cost of operation were not borne out by the facts.

Top yesterday, $13.00; average, $12.25.

Estimated receipts at Chicago today, 7,500 cattle, 40,000 hogs, and 16,000 sheep.

Hog prices moved down 5@10c after a stronger opening yesterday, in spite of the fact that supplies thus far this week are running smaller than a year ago, including Monday's large supply.

Buyers operated more cautiously as strength appeared after midsession when only 40,000 were estimated for today against 49,291 the previous Thursday, and 62,989 a year ago. The extreme top and general average prices declined 5c at $10.50 and $10.15 respectively. Reported sales at $10.55 failed to materialize, although a bid at this price was lost at the opening. Larger loads filled fair sized droves, but left 1,100 in the pens at the close.

Top Drops Sharply.

The cattle market was stronger yesterday, considering the quality of offerings, although top prices were off sharply again, owing to the absence of well finished steers and yearlings. Five good 1,126 lb steers sold at $14.75, while $14.50 was paid for 1,180@1,219 lb. averages and $14.35 for 1,400 lb cattle.

Supplies are below any corresponding period in many years. The total at 20 markets for the first half of the week at 147,000 compares with 168,000 a week ago. Cows and heifers were weak and showed the week's full 25@50c loss. Calves broke 50c more. Stockers and feeders were scarce, but sold weak.

Lambs Sell Low.

Fat lambs dropped to new low levels for the season on yesteday's market and were only 25@50c above the lowest spot in nearly eight years. Fancy light topped the market to yard traders at $13.00 late in the day, with the practical top to city butchers at $12.85 and to packers at $12.75.

Prices show losses of $1.50@2.00 compared with three weeks ago and are $4.10@4.25 below the corresponding day in 1929. Two years ago lambs were bringing up to $15.00. Aged sheep shared in the price cuts, showing $1.25@1.75 decline since the high point of the winter on Jan. 10. Yearlings ruled weak to 25c lower yesterday. Feeding lambs were scarce and unchanged.

News and Gossip of Stock Marts

Advances on Estimates.

United Biscuit's advance is based on estimates that the full year 1929 will show a balance of about $4.50 a share for the stock. Considerable blocks of this issue are held by investment trusts. Still greater earning power is indicated for this year, when benefits of consolidations should be realized.

Coin New Friends.

The coppers are gaining new friends as a result of a growing belief that there will be no change in the metal prices if the leading financiers in the industry have anything to say about this matter. Copper companies are cooperating in every way to bring about an actual balance between production and consumption.

Budd Wheel Stronger.

Resumption of buying for the account of Philadelphia interests is chiefly responsible for the activity and strength in Budd Wheel, which has been one of the low priced features in the last few days. Budd Wheel pays $1 a year in dividends and is expected to show a fair margin above dividends for 1929.

Business Machine Issues.

The latest group to come into favor is that which comprises the business machine stocks. Underwood, Elliott-Fisher this week has enjoyed its sharpest advance of the year. Traders have followed this advance by buying National Cash Register, Burroughs Adding Machine, and Remington-Rand.

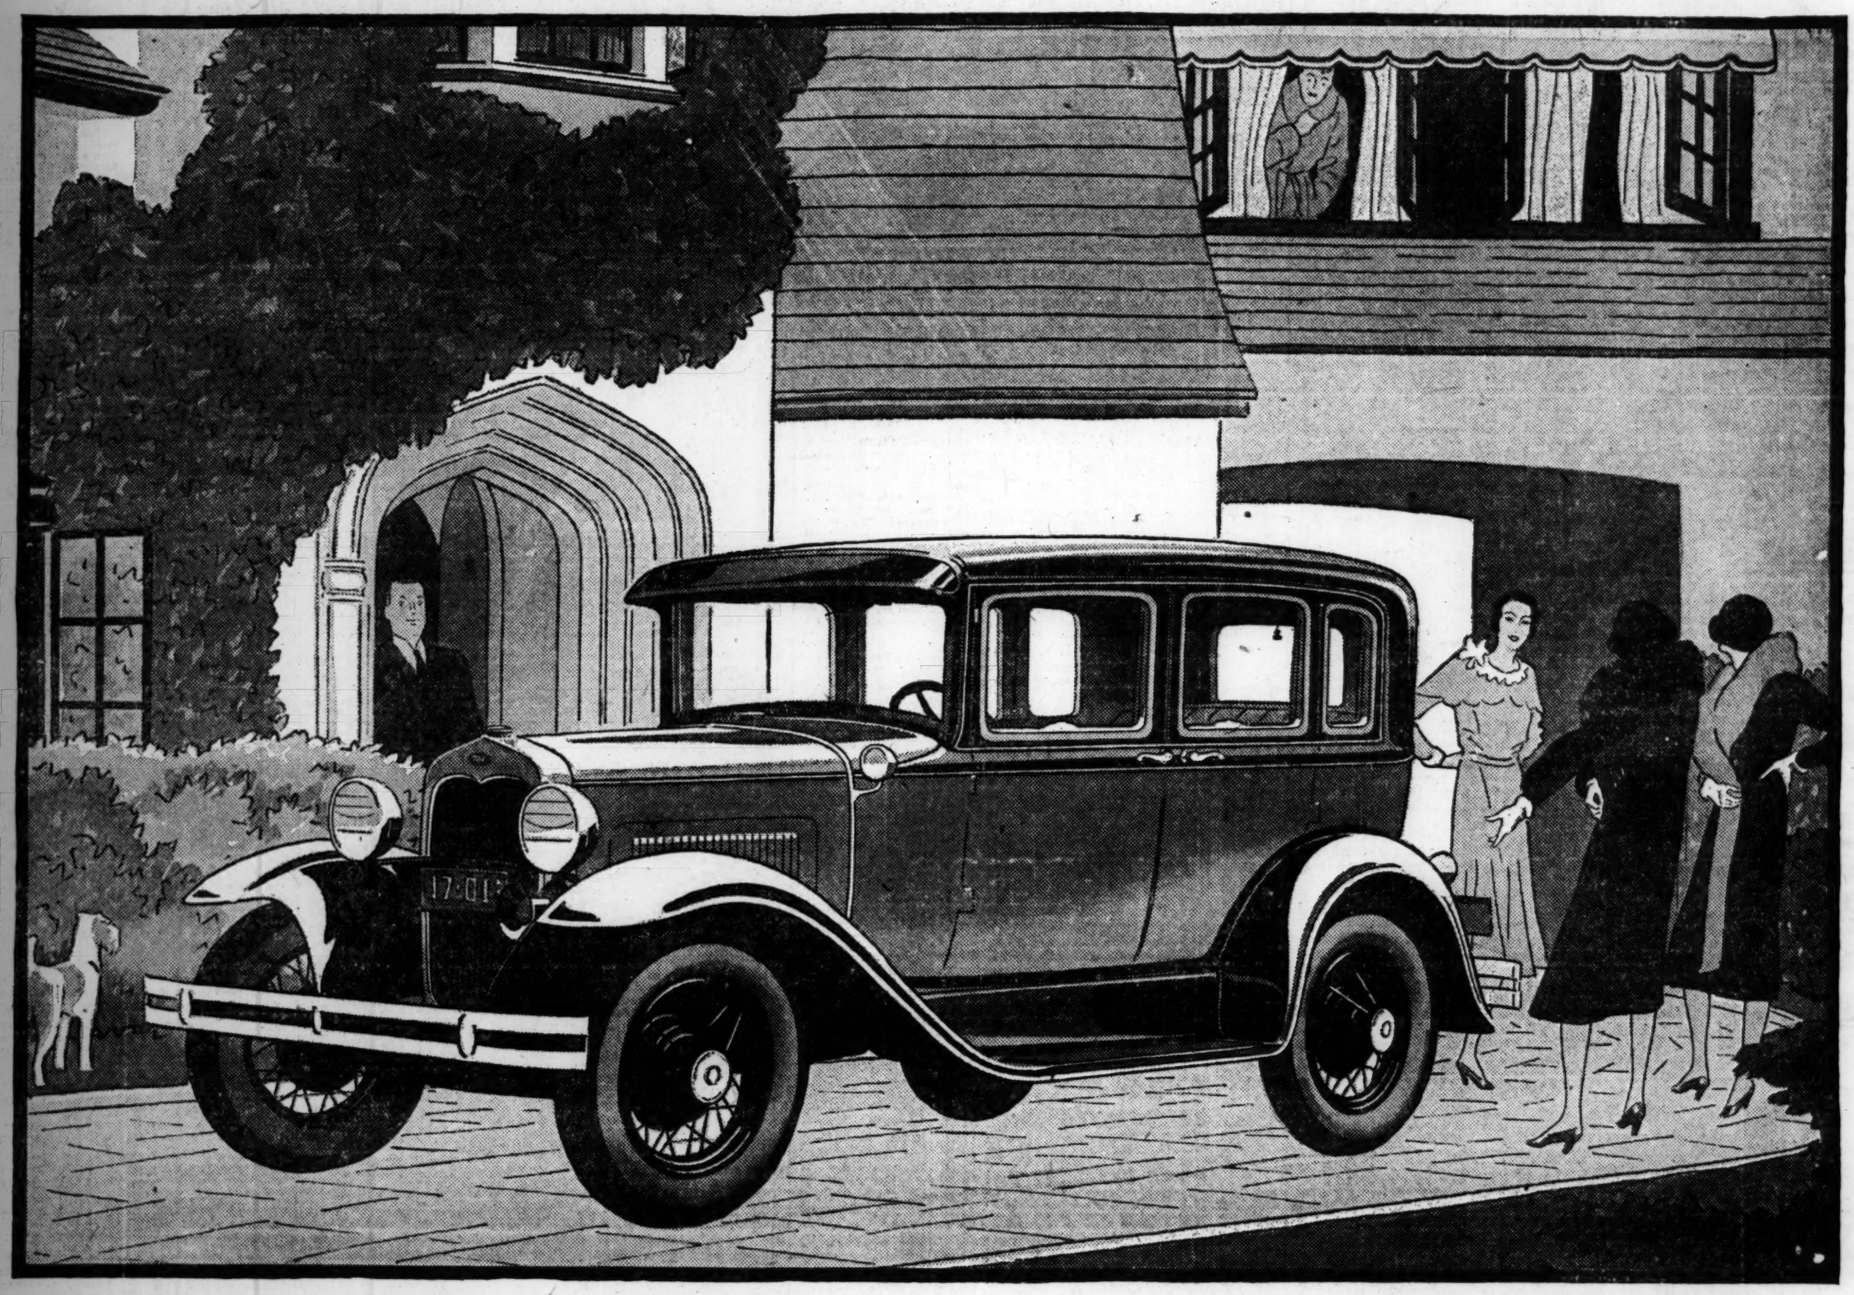
New Beauty for the New Ford



ANOTHER STEP FORWARD

In the Town Sedan you see a distinguished example of the unbroken sweep of line which adds so much charm and grace to all the new, roomy Ford bodies. Radiator, hood, cowl, lower roof line, fenders, wheels — every point of design reflects the new style and beauty that have been placed within the means of every one. All of the new Ford cars are finished in a variety of colors.

THE NEW FORD TOWN SEDAN

THE introduction of the new Ford bodies has set a new high standard of motor car value. From the new deep radiator to the tip of the curving rear fender, there is an unbroken sweep of line—a flowing grace of contour gaining added charm from the rich and attractive colors. « « « « « «

You will take a real pride in the smart style and fresh new beauty of the Ford just as you will find an ever-growing satisfaction in its safety, comfort, speed, acceleration, ease of control, reliability and economy. In appearance, as in mechanical construction, craftsmanship has been put into mass production. New beauty has been added to outstanding performance.

A feature of unusual interest is the use of Rustless Steel for the radiator shell, head lamps, cowl finish strip, hub caps, tail lamp and other exposed metal parts. This steel will not rust, corrode or tarnish and will retain its bright brilliance for the life of the car. Here, as in so many other important details, you see evidence of the enduring quality that has been built into the new Ford.

The Ace of Spades

By WILLIAM MACLEOD RAINE

SYNOPSIS.

Chandler Rutledge, Texas ranchman, is laid up with a broken leg and is forced to send his young son, Jim, out with a herd of cattle in order to keep a contract. Jim is hardly twenty-one, but he is eager to take on the job for his father and tells him not to worry, he'll see it through. Sim Hart is sent with Jim. They meet two men from the Moss outfit and Jim is afraid of trouble, as he knows old Dave Moss to be his father's enemy. The second night out they are overtaken by a storm.

INSTALLMENT IV.

THE STAMPEDE.

Jim met one of his riders, a Swede named Oscar Helgeson.

"We'll be lucky if we get off without a run," he said to the cowboy.

"Never saw so much fox fire in my life."

Helgeson drew the slicker closer about him. "Y'betcha, boss. It's a helluva night."

From the other side of the herd came the sudden unexpected flash of guns. A zigzag of lightning lit the night. On the elevation where the two men had drawn up to talk they could see and be seen in the storm tossed night illuminated by the momentary glare. Jim got a swift snapshot of four or five horsemen firing into the ground close to the edge of the herd. Darkness closed over the scene. There was a wild surge of bellowing beef. The stampede was on.

It headed straight for the hillock where Jim stood. He wheeled his horse and quirted to escape the rush. For a few minutes he was dominated solely by the instinct for self preservation, but after a time he drew outside of the galloping herd. From this position he tried to point in the leaders, but they were still going too strong for him. He fired twice in front of them to check the run without being able even to deflect the course of it.

The longhorns in the lead came to a hill. Some swung to the left and some to the right. Jim went with those that took the left. Half a mile beyond this point they poured into the brush with a rush like the charge of cavalry. When they emerged from the mesquite Jim knew there had been another split. There were no more than a hundred or a hundred and fifty in the bunch he was following.

He saw the flash of a revolver in front of him. Some one was at the point trying to swing the four year olds into a mill. Rutledge throttled his impulse to shout a greeting. He must find out first whether this was friend or foe. Urging his horse forward, he drew close to the rider. The storm had died down and from behind scudding clouds a moon showed.

The man at the point had taken off his slicker and was waving it in the face of the leaders. Jim recognized York Evarts, one of his father's men. He swung in beside the cowboy and presently they forced the steers to turn. In a few minutes the bunch was milling.

"They certainly pulled off a big show," York said, wiping from his face the blood drawn by the scratches of mesquite thorns. "I'll bet by morning there will be Circle R longhorns scattered in twenty bunches all over this Red river country. They sure went hightailin' into the night lickety brindle."

"They were stampeded by cow thieves," Jim explained. "I've got to get back to round up the outfit. This bunch has had all the run it wants. Hold 'em till morning, then drift back toward camp. Likely you'll run into some of the boys with more cattle they've gathered. Keep an eye open for strange waddies."

He left York to watch the cattle and rode in the direction where he thought the camp was. The run had not followed a straight line, but even in the rush of it Jim had tried to check up on directions. He struck a match and looked at his watch. The time was half past one.

After riding some distance he knew that he was lost. No use in going farther. He might travel away from instead of toward camp. Dismounting, he tied his horse and waited till the light of early dawn sifted into the sky. Close at hand there was a small hill. He rode to the top of it. In a draw not a hundred yards from him a bunch of cattle was feeding. They carried the Circle R brand.

Jim was sure the camp was to the east and he headed the stock that way. After he had driven them less than a mile he came into a wide valley where he could see two riders following another herd moving in the same general line as his own. He examined his revolver, thrust it back into the holster, and cut across to them. They might be his own men. They might not. He had to take a chance. If his guess as to the position of the camp was correct there must be Circle R riders.

He was right. The men were a Mexican vaquero, Juan Perez, and the cook, Doc Simmons. Jim gave orders to throw his bunch in with their own and follow him toward the camp.

The sun was riding high before he reached the wagons. He was relieved to find them and their contents safe. It had occurred to him that the raiders might have doubled back and burned the outfit while the men were engaged in rounding up the stampeded stock. Three of his cowboys were with the wagons. They had brought back between three and four hundred longhorns with them.

Jim distributed rifles to them. "Stick right here," he said. "Don't leave the wagons under any circumstances. If any strangers show up hold 'em off and don't let 'em get close."

The dust of another bunch of cattle drew nearer. Jack Barton was driving them. As soon as he had thrown them with those already recovered Jim told him to ride back to Sim Hart's herd and tell the foreman to send two of his men up to help round up stock. Rifles were to be issued to the riders to guard the herd and wagons.

Barton cocked an eye at him whimsically. "Did anybody say anything about breakfast?"

"Not yet. Tomorrow morning, if we're lucky." Jim relented enough to add: "You can stay with herd number two and get some grub there."

Jim roped and saddled a fresh horse and started out again at once. He had imperative business that would not wait. Whoever had stampeded the cattle had not done so for the fun of it. Without doubt the raiders had rounded up a bunch of steers and would be driving them hard to get the animals holed up before losses could be checked. Jim meant to cut the trail of them if he could, then ride swiftly back for reinforcements.

There was no way for him to know in what direction the rustlers would drive the stolen cattle, but there was a low line of hills to the northeast that invited him. If they could be reached by the thieves the gather could be cached in some hidden draw until night. A drive to any other point of the compass would carry the risk of meeting some trail herd. Therefore logically the outlaws should push for the hills. His deduction might be based on false premises, but it seemed to Jim his best bet. He cut across country straight for that broken line standing against the horizon.

The young trail boss rode rapidly. Since the day when his father had first lifted him to the saddle of a cow pony he had worked with stock. He could read much desert lore that a tenderfoot would have missed. His eyes watched for signs of a bunch of longhorns recently driven this way. They swept the landscape to pick up the dust moving cattle.

The hills drew nearer. They were not far distant when he caught sight of a drift of dust to the west of him. His heart jumped with excitement. Unless his guess was wrong he had found the thieves who had stampeded the herd.

What Jim did was characteristic. Having discovered the rustlers, most men would have turned back for help. But Jim wanted to know more before he went for his friends. He meant, if possible, to get close enough to identify the thieves.

In the hills ahead of him was the mouth of a cañon. As he came closer he saw that it was a pass leading into the heart of the ridge. The dust cloud was moving toward it. Marks of hoofs were plentiful in the sand at the edge of the little creek. It was a reasonably safe bet that through this cut the rustlers meant to drive their gather.

Jim rode up beside the brook. Just beyond the mouth of the gulch its sandy bed lifted to make of it a rocky gorge. A wooded draw twisted down to the bed of the stream. Dismounting, he led his horse up this and around a bend into a clump of cottonwoods. Here he tied the animal.

Climbing to the bluff that made one lip of the gorge, Jim found a place among the big bowlders where he could look down on the pass below. His intention had been to lie concealed while the rustlers and the stolen herd filed through, but a plan shaped itself in his mind that was appealing in its simplicity and its audacity.

Running back to the place where his horse was concealed, he returned with the rope that had been tied coiled to the saddle. From a pocket he took a piece of cord and tied it securely to the trigger of his revolver. To the end of the cord he fastened the lariat. The six-shooter he weighted down with heavy rocks to hold it in place, then drew the lariat around a bowlder and tied one end of it to his ankle.

Already Jim could hear the bawling of the approaching cattle. The first straggliers appeared at the mouth of the cañon. He took position behind a large flat rock and waited for the rustlers to show up.

GASOLINE ALLEY—MAKE-READY

Several Proud French Names Turn to Trade

While Many Climbers Give Selves Titles.

BY ANN SOMERS HOUSE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 29.—Being a count or a duchess doesn't help a bit in a stock crash. The stocks go down, and you've got to sell; and the "Bears" don't care whether you've got a five century row of noble ancestors, or your mamma was a scrubwoman.

Dozens of French aristocrats played heavily on the New York stock market and lost as heavily when the crash came.

In the gay pre-war days many aristocrats in Paris lived in phantastic splendor and run up debts on the mere credit of their name. Marquis de Beauvoir, the recently deceased pet of pretty and ultra smart Parisiennes, dissipated his big fortune in those days, plus some more fortunes he inherited. He managed to die in peace, with lots of creditors weeping about him. Helie, Count de Perigord lived royally though he hadn't a cent. When creditors came to attach his furniture, he sent the choicest pieces through a back door to the homes of devoted friends. These kept the furniture for him till all danger was past.

Today several of the French nobility have gone to work. As Margot Asquith said: "There are no longer any aristocrats; there are only dressmakers." Scores of noblewomen in quest of a living in Paris, find the "haute couture" the most remunerative job.

The present Duchess de Grammont, you will find that title high in the courts of Louis XIV. and XV., lost her husband and had to sell her ancestral chateau. She left for New York as representative of a big Paris dressmaking firm. Viscountess de Janzé, a charming lady, is saleswoman in a first class couture house and earns large sums. Princess Moroussy has turned mannikin. At Chanel's, the Marquise de Laborde sells perfumes.

The de Rohans' name was attached to a cardinal and to a marshal of France in the Bourbon days. Now the Duchess de Rohan, owner of the historical castle of Josselin, levies an entrance fee of two francs for a visit of the insides of the castle.

Mlle. de Fraysseix practices palmistry. Many fine old French noblewomen lead secluded lives in their provincial castles. They do not attempt to dress in fashion. The noblewomen have rigid manners and are more used to palaces than to palace-hotels. They are very pious and are heroic wives and mothers.

A Duke de Broglie is a noted scientist and got a Nobel prize last year. There was one high official of the French foreign office, a Duke de Broglie, who knew a great deal about the means by which Louis XVI. aided the American colonies before the days of a formal alliance. Princess Lucien Murat is a delightful writer of historical biographies. The Duchess de Rohan writes exquisite poetry. These exceptional men and women started to work without being forced to by a stock crash. They are an ornament to modern French nobility.

Viscount Henry de Brimont, last descendent of a venerable family, regrets that no Paris registrar will put down our offspring as little 'counts or 'countesses when they're born and Paris courts don't confirm our rights on titles. It is different among the rural districts and smaller towns. He was asked:

"How does one manage to become an aristocrat when one is not so born?"

"Ever so easily," the viscount disdainfully shrugged his shoulders. "Since the courts don't protect authentic noble names, any one can become a duke over night. No judge will care.

"There are eleven dukes in France these days who simply usurped their titles. Alas, they aren't the only ones. Open the telephone book of Paris and have a look at all the counts, marquises and barons there. Then compare their names with the authentic list of noble families which the Almanach de Gotha publishes every year. You'll see what a shocking number of fake aristocrats are crowding in the smartest quarters of Paris."

BEG YOUR PARDON!

The annual meeting of the Chicago Council of Social Agencies will be held tomorrow at 12 o'clock at the Hotel La Salle instead of tomorrow evening, as was stated in yesterday's TRIBUNE.

Congress to Lose Charles M. Stedman, Last Veteran of '61

Washington, D. C., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Congress is soon to lose its last civil war veteran, Representative Charles Manly Stedman, ex-confederate, representative from North Carolina since the Sixty-second congress, who today celebrated his 89th birthday.

The announcement that he would not seek reëlection was made today by Representative Doughton [Dem., N. C.] as the house was paying tribute to its oldest member.

"Maj. Stedman feels, and those nearest and dearest to him feel," Doughton said, "that he is entitled to a much needed rest."

Slightly stooped and gray of beard, the veteran rose to his feet. He thanked his colleagues briefly and was given more applause in a few moments than has been heard even during prohibition wrangling.

The veteran told newspapermen that he felt fine, and though he was not as "spry" as he once had been he still enjoyed his two cigars daily.

The major was a close friend of the late Senator Warren of Wyoming, the last Union army veteran of the war in congress, and he was visibly affected by the latter's death last fall.

Claudia Muzio Sings Tomorrow Night for the Italian Charities

Claudia Muzio will sing for her needy countrymen of Chicago tomorrow night at Orchestra hall. She will not sing for fame as in "La Traviata," last Tuesday night, her last appearance in the brilliant first season of the new opera house, but for Italian children of the tenements, for the aged, and the sick.

CLAUDIA MUZIO. [Rosenfeld Photo.]

The concert is sponsored by the Italian Woman's club of which Mrs. Joseph Soravia, Oak Park, is president. The proceeds will go to the Italian charities of Chicago.

Mary O. Powell of Quincy Yankee's Bride in Shanghai

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Jan. 28.—Miss Mary Opal Powell of Quincy, Ill., and a graduate of the University of Missouri, was married here today to Frank Diebold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Miguele Diebold of San Francisco.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send your name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Edward Hughes, 1023 South 12th avenue, Maywood, Ill., was awarded $5.

The Question.

Do you read and enjoy poetry?

The Answers.

Miss Loretto Vaughey, 7339 Coles avenue, secretary.—I do. Poetry takes one out of the sordidness of this common, ordinary, prosaic world. Aside from newspaper accounts of the current events of the day, I read more poetry than I do prose. My favorite poem is Kilmer's "Trees."

Jerald Oswald, 1401 Hyde Park boulevard, clerk.—Poetry never held any particular interest for me. I read Edgar Guest, not that I like poetry but because it is written by Edgar Guest. Poetry is out of date; fiction and short stories are up to date. In addition to fiction and short stories I occasionally read biography.

Miss Sylvia England, 2720 Washington boulevard, stenographer.—I enjoy reading poetry very much, but it requires a considerable time, and for that reason I never get time enough to read as much poetry as I would like to. Scott, Keats and Shelley are the type of poets that I enjoy most.

Ray R. Meriwether, 5612 Maryland avenue, manager. — I don't know whether I can say I do or not. The fact is, I seldom read poetry. One thing sure, the modern poets do not equal the poets of the past. There is no Divine Comedy nor Paradise Lost being written today.

Charles A. Rubey, 7401 Oglesby avenue, president P. J. Rubey company.—Only on rare occasions do I read poetry, but I enjoy it when I do. What poetry I do read is the writings of the past, possibly ranging from Shakespeare to Longfellow. As a rule I read and enjoy the verses that appear in R. H. L.'s "Line o' Type or Two."

Short History Writers Offer Varied Styles

Some Taking Trends of America's Story.

New proof is being supplied daily that it can be done! That is—the writing of a 500 word history of the United States. THE TRIBUNE history contest already has drawn entries not only from housewives, students, business men, and naval officers but a few from history teachers.

It was a few professors of history who, when asked whether a history of the United States could be written in 500 words, replied that it could not be done.

As evidence of how much a naval training station officer can say in a few words, here is a paragraph from his history concerning the early days of the 13 colonies:

"Followed turbulent years. Sinister influences were active. Rebellion, riot, and anarchy were rampant. Unrest, political wrangling, struggles between 'loyalists' and 'patriots,' financial distress, religious discrimination, and the widely different characteristics of immigrants flocking to the new El Dorado added difficulty to the general chaos. The greatest danger to the colonies lay in their own disunion."

Another contestant describes the history of America in the continual seeking of new frontiers to conquer, the restless, adventuresome desire for new lands which made the character of the country. Following the making of the constitution, new immigrants came to America, he says. Louisiana Florida and the Northwest territory were settled by "a steady westward march." Then:

"Texas, Mexico—a quickening tempo," he writes. "New western lands to settle—buffalo, beaver—trains of ox drawn prairie schooners, pushing ever westward—California, gold."

All manuscripts must be in THE TRIBUNE office by midnight Feb. 15, should be typewritten and must not be more than 500 words. Prizes will total $2,100, the first prize to be $1,000. There will be ten prizes.

To Lecture on Chicago.

Dr. William H. Johnson, professor of education at Loyola university, will give an illustrated lecture on "Chicago—Her Culture and Her Health" in the lecture hall of the Chicago Historical society on Sunday afternoon.

THE STAGE

TONIGHT'S performance of "Strange Interlude" at the Blackstone will mark the second anniversary of Eugene O'Neill's two-layer drama—a curiosity of playwriting and a prodigiously successful experiment in stage forms. The work had its first acting in the John Golden theater, New York, Jan. 30, 1928. Therefore, the third year of this fabulous Freudian story about Nina the Nymph and her trinity of lifelong victims is beginning.

The production now in Chicago under the auspices of the Theater Guild represents the first company, after the inevitable process of attrition that attacks all long run plays. The central rôle, originated by Lynn Fontanne, is now being acted by Gale Sondergaard, pinch hitting for Judith Anderson, who dropped out of the cast recently because of illness. Miss Sondergaard is a comely and competent young actress who belongs to the Guild's first string; she has played the part before and she handles it with skill. In other words, she is not an understudy, but a player who is thoroughly able to find her way through O'Neill's psychological mysteries.

There has been another recent change of cast—Ralph Morgan batting for Tom Powers in the rôle of "dear old Charlie," the sexless novelist who represents the uncle-and-father complex in the muddled mind of Naughty Nina. Mr. Powers, who played this rôle with suave and gentle brilliance, was called east to participate in the Guild's impending production of Bernard ("Whataman") Shaw's latest piece of philosophic impertinence, "The Apple Cart." Mr. Morgan, his successor, is a veteran of extensive experience in important rôles, and he fits into the Guild's organization with ease and effectiveness. He is somewhat more virile as "dear old Charlie" than his predecessor; he gives the impression of not being quite as harmless as Nina thinks. Mr. Powers stood for the type of novelist who takes his exercise lecturing to women's clubs, while Mr. Morgan's man of letters might have had ambitions to play quarter back on the scrubs when in college.

In connection with this anniversary it is of interest to note that two members of the cast have not missed a single performance during the life of the play. They are Edith Westley, who is the prospective daughter-in-law in the old age phase of the story, and John J. Burns, who acts Nina's college-boy son. Also, that "Strange Interlude," in addition to having been acted "from coast to coast," in the good-old-fashioned style of a commercial success, has been staged for the natives of Stockholm, Copenhagen, Berlin and Budapest. It is also scheduled for London next summer. The Theater Guild points with surprise to the fact that the lord chamberlain of England, who censors the drama, has given his visé without demanding a single change in the sex-obsessed dialogue.

The Theater Guild will make its next obeisance to the greatness of Bernard Shaw on Feb. 17, the night fixed for the first American staging of the old wag's "Apple Cart." Reports from Europe have suggested that "The Apple Cart" is nothing remarkable—but, then, it's Shaw, and the Guild always serves his work up with dignity and distinction. The first line Guilders in the cast, all of them well known here, are Tom Powers, Helen Westley, Claude Rains, Ernest Cossart, Morris Carnovsky, and Frieda Inescourt.

Mrs. Fiske has a new play called "It's a Grand Life." Last week she had a new play called "The Family Blues." But they're both the same play; it's merely a change in title. Telegrams wishing her and it luck may be sent to Ford's theater, Baltimore, Feb. 3, when the week of tryout performances begins, or to the Cort theater, New York, Feb. 10, which is the true première.

Last night's audience for "The Field God," at the Goodman, was unusual. It included dozens of dramatic critics. They formed a procession that took fifteen minutes to pass the Art institute lions. And, for critics, they were all astonishingly young. They were the boys and girls who write play reviews for the high school publications. Each of them will take a hack at "The Field God" in amateur print, and the best article will be blue-ribboned.

Charles Richman has been added to the Chicago company of "Strictly Dishonorable," due to open at the Adelphi theater Feb. 10. He belongs to the old aristocracy of player folk who flourished before the cinema was invented. He was a star in the days when acting was acting, with the flourish of the grand style. He has, however, kept step with the moderns, and his engagement for "Strictly Dishonorable" suggests that there is going to be no "second company" feebleness in this cast. C. C.

Doctors Using Sun and Cold to Fight Phthisis

Colorado Method Told Here in Movies.

It's a bit difficult for the lay mind to contemplate casually the spectacle of tubercular children, clad only in loin cloths, frolicking around in the snow. Physicians of the Chicago Medical and the Chicago Tuberculosis societies, in joint annual meeting last night in the Medical and Dental Arts building, were interested rather than disturbed by the films picturing that situation, shown and discussed by Dr. Alex M. Forster, head of the Cragmoor experimental sanitarium at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Natural heliotherapy, a judicious combination of sunlight and cool air, constituted the method of treatment that built up the resistance of these children to the disease to a point where they were stimulated rather than enervated by the exposure. While the beneficial effect of sunlight has been long and widely recognized, and the introduction of the open air phase of the cure is not exactly unique, it is still little enough known to have fascinated last night's audience.

The action of cool air on the skin, Dr. Forster pointed out, has forever had a tendency to strengthen flaccid muscles, to give them firmness.

But as long as civilization demands that human beings cover practically the entire body, that stimulation is lacking.

"Here we are," Dr. Forster illustrated after his lecture, "living under conditions far from ideal, with clothing draped upon us and covering us almost from head to foot, so that no air reaches and reacts on our skins. Then we cover our cities with a pall of smoke so that the rays of sunlight filter through only feebly, depriving us of the benefits of that agency even in the summer months, and during the winter time we are even more sun starved.

"In Colorado the sun shines a great part of the year, and the climatic conditions are right for this sort of an institution. These children gradually become inured to the natural heliotherapy we use, and they play about in their scanty garb, deriving the maximum of strength from the combination of their exercise, diet, sunlight and the stimulus of the air on their bodies."

Dr. Philip H. Kreuscher, vice president of the American College of Surgeons, discussed recent developments in the diagnosis and surgical treatment of bone tuberculosis. He stressed particularly the value of the element of rest in tuberculosis of the joints, declaring that the only hope of cure lay in obtaining a fixation, or, in other words, removing the member from active use, as in putting a leg in splints and keeping the patient reclining or at least off his feet.

Bone tuberculosis in Chicago during the last tep years has been reduced to only thirty per cent of its volume ten years ago, Dr. Benjamin Goldberg of the Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium added. This drop is due almost entirely, he stated, to the movement started by Dr. W. A. Evans, as health commissioner, in having Chicago's milk supply tested and tubercular animals barred.

John McCormack Buys Large Estate in California

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 29.—[Special.]—John McCormack, tenor, who recently completed a talking motion picture here, has bought a 145 acre estate in Solano canyon at an announced consideration of $500,000. McCormack said it will be his winter home. He, his wife and daughter, Gwen, leave Monday and sail from New York Feb. 22 on the Majestic for their place at Moore Abbey, Monasterven, County Kildare, Ireland. Maurice McLoughlin and Tom Bundy, former American tennis champions and now real estate men, sold McCormack his new property.

Winter Sends Chicagoans to Mild Climates

BY THALIA

As steadily as sands trickling through an hour glass, Chicago society leaves for winter resorts. Mrs. Leverett Thompson's musical at the Arts club next Sunday is practically the last large event of any consequence noted in smart date books.

Castle Hot Springs, Ariz., which Mrs. Frederic McLaughlin found so disappointing, does, nevertheless, manage to attract a large group of Chicagoans each year. Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed are leaving today for a month or 6 weeks' stay, and the Joseph T. Bowens and the Sterling Mortons are already there. Mrs. Goodspeed hasn't been well this year, and it is hoped the good western air will be of benefit.

Mrs. Rensselaer W. Cox is on her way to Lake Wales, Fla., to spend two months at her Spanish place at the Mountain Lake club.

The marriage of Miss Mary Elizabeth Fenley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Carr Fenley of St. Matthews, Ky., to Thomas Sechler Edmonds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard O. Edmonds of Kenilworth, is to take place on Saturday. The service is to be read at noon at Fenley place by Dean R. L. McCready of Christ Church cathedral in Louisville, Ky. Mr. Edmonds and his bride are to reside at 820 Judson avenue, Evanston, after March 15.

The Woman's Athletic club apparently anticipates no falling off of patronage of their Thursday night dinners. Announcements have been dispatched to the members to the effect that there will be informal dinner dances at 7 o'clock on Thursday evening, Feb. 6, and the following Thursday. "Maids' night out" finds the club a popular place, and the men privileged by relationship to members to attend the dinners are enthusiastic about the cuisine, as the women have been for many years. David Seabury, psychologist, is to give his lecture, "The Riddle of Human Relations," on Thursday morning next at 11 o'clock.

The second of the two lectures being sponsored by the Needlework and Textile guild by A. J. B. Wace of London is to be given this morning at the Goodman Studio theater, and the second of Prof. Mary Ellen Chase's talks being given under the auspices of the Smith College club for their scholarship fund, is to be given this morning, also at the College club. Mr. Wace's talk is on "English Needlework," and Prof. Chase's on "Old Literary Standards in a New Age."

Some of the recent Vassar graduates are to assist at the Vassar club dinner tonight at Maillard's for Dr. Bruno Roselli of the Italian department of that college. These include Louise Lackner, Mary Ott, Carol Bush, Marianne Stevenson, Mrs. Ronald Chinnick, and Mrs. Walter Palmer, who are to assist Miss Mary Harvey. The Italian consul, Sig. Castruccio and Signora Castruccio have accepted an invitation to be present. Dr. Roselli is to speak on "Mussolini and European Politics."

The receiving line at the Antiquarian society's tea tomorrow afternoon to open an exhibition of mirrors at the Art institute will include Mrs. Chauncey McCormick, president of the society, Mrs. Waller Borden, Mrs. Parmelee McFadden and Mrs. George T. Langhorne. Officiating at the tea tables will be Mrs. Potter Palmer, Mrs. James M. Hopkins, Mrs. Clyde M. Carr, Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, Mrs. Martin A. Ryerson, and Miss D. Bartlett and Mrs. Walter Wolf.

For the last two performances of "The Princess and the Goblins," the junior league girls are to conduct some sort of a contest between the acts. The minor folk of the play headed by King Shadowcob and the goblins headed by King Radnor, or vice versa, are to sing, dance, etc., and be judged by the juveniles in the audience. The children who attend this Saturday morning and the following will be members of the Gobbin club and will get pins.

Miss Marion McFadden and her sister, Mrs. Edward Poole Lay [Eleanore McFadden] are coming home next week from a stay at Castle Hot Springs, Ariz. Mrs. Walter Paepcke and Janet Fairbank, who accompanied them, are remaining for a while longer. The latter's respective mothers, Mrs. William A. John Dern II., and Dr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip B. Maher, Miss Florence Noyes, and Alfred Shaw were in the Ernest R. Graham box. Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman, who has just recovered from a lengthy illness, made her first appearance at the opera this season as the guest of Mrs. Francis J. Johnson. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson were also in Mrs. Johnson's party.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Corson Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Hermon Dunlap Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dennehy occupied the Robert J. Thorne box. Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Haggard and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Thompson were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Field in the Stanley Field box.

Cyrus Mark was host in the Clayton Mark box to Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Annan, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. More and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Northrup. Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schoenbrun, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Felsenthal and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Felsenthal were in the Julius Rosenwald box.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. McIntosh had as their guests Dr. and Mrs. Theodore Proxmire, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hubbechek and Robert F. Carr. In the William A. Yager box Mrs. Edward Litsinger was hostess to Mrs. William Ennis, Mrs. William B. Greenlee, Mrs. Theodore W. Smith and Mrs. Lewis S. Louer.

Infant Welfare Group Needs Larger Fund to Do Better Work

For almost 20 years the Infant Welfare society has labored to reduce the death rate of Chicago's children and raise the health standards of their mothers. It has been maintained quietly by about 6,000 persons who write checks, spend long hours sewing garments, or weigh and measure babies, who having no choice, were in the city's most overcrowded districts.

But the Infant Welfare society did two spectacular things in 1929. There was not a single death among the 830 mothers who brought their children into the world while being served by the society's pre-natal department. That was a new record. And the lives of 344 infants were saved because the society existed.

"This organization fulfills an economic responsibility in addition to reducing mental and physical suffering," Philip D. Armour, president, told members at the annual meeting yesterday in the Hotel Sherman. "Is it an exaggeration to say that if the death rate in 1911, when the society was founded, was 42 per 1,000, and in 1929 it was 11—an improvement of 31 per 1,000—that this last year we have helped save 344 infants that otherwise would have died?

"As for Chicago, if all 344 live to manhood, they could upon maturity increase the earning power of the citizens of the city over $500,000 a year. And that would be the result of this one year's efforts.

"The figures are not as important as is the fact," Mr. Armour continued, "that we are protesting the coming generations of Chicago citizens. In 1929 we cared for 14,390 infants and pre-school age children. Statistics would prove that this caused the society's work to be felt by 12,000 families, a population close to 60,000, nearly as large as the city of Springfield."

Although the income during 1929 was $190,661, a greater one is needed, Mr. Armour said. Even with 36 doctors and a field staff of 60 workers operating 21 stations, the case load is too heavy for the greatest efficiency. He declared that a larger staff of doctors, nurses, nutritional and mental hygiene workers is needed.

Dr. Heyworth N. Sanford, medical director, praised the "intelligent nursing service and medical care" which aided in the absence of mortality among mothers at childbirth, notwithstanding the fact that this country is second highest among civilized nations in mother mortality rate.

"Up to a few years ago nutritional disturbances were responsible for much of the death among children, but the disease on the increase now is tuberculosis," Mr. Sanford said. "We had a mortality rate of 6 per cent during last year among our children, which was two per cent more than the previous year, which was one per cent more than the year before that. There is national reason for that, and will be as long as we have a large Mexican population to serve. Our greatest menace, however, lies in respiratory disturbances among delicate infants where bad housing, smoky atmosphere, etc., conspire against the health of the child. Pneumonia claims the lives of far too many."

Other reports were given by Miss Sara B. Place, superintendent, and Mrs. Eugene S. Talbot Jr., president of the woman's auxiliary.

Glencoe center of the Infant Welfare society will give a benefit performance of "Scotch Twins" this evening at the Glencoe School auditorium. Mrs. J. H. Roberts is chairman of the committee in charge of the benefit, proceeds of which are to go to the Mary Crane station of the Infant Welfare society.

SHORT SKIRTS SAFER FOR WOMEN, AVERS CITY STATISTICIAN

Frederick Rex, librarian of the municipal reference library in the city hall, issued a warning yesterday in connection with reports that women's dress styles dictate a considerable lengthening in the skirt. He produced statistics to show that there have been fewer accidents while alighting and boarding street cars and trains in Chicago during the short dress period than when dresses swirled closely to the ground.

Mr. Rex, for illustration, pointed to the years 1913 and 1914, when all dresses were long and some were hobbled to prove his contention. In 1913 there were 1,323 accidents and 1,127 in 1914. Dresses came up to the shoe tops in 1915 and 1916 and the results were reflected in a reduction to 927 and 919 in accidents in those two years, respectively. A progressive shortening in the women's clothes during the following years saw a reduction in the accidents to 533 in 1920.

Some of the credit for the lessened number of accidents was given by Mr. Rex to the railway companies for improvements in accident prevention devices. But the fact remains, he said, that this kind of accident has been cut down to 368 in 1929 which is due in part to the continuance of the short skirt.

Stand Pat for Long Skirts.

PARIS, Jan. 29.—(AP)—There was standing room only available today in the salons where summer styles in women's clothes are being shown. The couturiers themselves were amazed at the crowds which came to their show, and were unprepared for the tremendous increase in the number of buyers and writers demanding a first peek at the new collections.

There never have been so many gate crashers dealt with as at the present show, and never so many credential-less turned away.

The style makers are just realizing that this spring may be the turning point in Parisian style domination of America, where the insurgent movement against lengthening of the skirts and the Rue de la Paix clothes psychology has been expressed in the anti-Paris style move organized in the women's clubs. But thus far without exception the couturiers stand pat on the long skirt issue.

Dudley Field Malone, Miss E. L. Johnson Married in London

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Dudley Field Malone, an international divorce lawyer, and Edna Louise Johnson of Minnesota and Brooklyn, N. Y., were married today at the Mayfair registrar's office. More than 100 notables attended their wedding breakfast at Claridge's.

Some of the American delegation to the naval conference were present, and Will Rogers kidded the diplomats in his speech. Will afterwards recalled that the bride is 24 and Mr. Malone is 50 years old. Sir William Jowitt, the attorney general, gave a toast to the newlyweds.

The Malones left for the continent this afternoon for an automobile honeymoon on the Riviera. They will then make their home in Paris.

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomach, sour stomach and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

This new technique quickly makes

TEETH

WHITER

WHEN your smile reveals teeth stained to an ugly yellow, cloudy, marred by decay and denuded at their necks by receding gums others know that you have Bacterial-Mouth. An inexcusable condition caused by germs that sweep into the mouth with every breath and attack teeth and gums. Kolynos whitens teeth so quickly and firms gums so effectively because it kills the germs that are the source of this trouble.

Use the Kolynos Dry-Brush Technique for 3 days—a half-inch of Kolynos on a dry brush, morning and night. Then look at your teeth—fully 3 shades whiter.

In 10 days the improvement will be so marked you will never again say that white teeth are a gift received only by a fortunate few.

Dentists advocate the Dry-Brush Technique as the one way to use a dentifrice full strength and keep brush bristles stiff enough to clean every tooth surface and massage gums properly. Kolynos permits this technique.

This highly concentrated, double-strength dental cream is unique in action. It multiplies 25 times when it enters the mouth—thus a half-inch of Kolynos is equal in effectiveness to 12 inches of the ordinary toothpaste. It becomes a surging, antiseptic foam that makes wetting the toothbrush unnecessary.

You can feel Kolynos work. It foams into every pit, fissure and crevice.

Germs that cause Bacterial-Mouth and lead to stain, decay and gum diseases are killed. They vanish and the entire mouth is purified. Kolynos kills 190 million germs in 10 seconds, 424 million in 60 seconds.

This amazing Kolynos Foam removes food particles that ferment and cause decay . . . neutralizes acids . . . washes away tartar and the unsightly mucoid coating that clouds teeth.

Easily and quickly, it cleans and polishes teeth down to the naked white enamel—without injury. And for 3 hours after each brushing this cleansing, purifying process continues.

as it removes Bacterial-Mouth

So long as you use the Kolynos Dry-Brush Technique teeth will remain gleaming white and sound, gums will be firm and healthy.

Look for Results in 3 Days

If you want whiter, sounder teeth and firm, pink gums start using Kolynos—a half-inch on a dry brush, morning and night. Within 3 days teeth will look whiter—fully 3 shades. Gums will look and feel better. Your mouth will tingle with a clean, sweet taste. Try a tube of Kolynos.

"Keep the ROMANCE in MARRIAGE"

BEATRICE FAIRFAX
CHICAGO

HOW to hold a man's love? That question is asked me oftener than any other except how to gain a man's love.

The answer to both is the same—make him feel how feminine you are!

Many women know that clothes can play a tremendous part in registering feminine charm.

Wearing pretty, feminine things has an enormous effect on your own personality. You feel more feminine, more charming, and therefore you are charming.

The clothes that don't show are just as important as the ones that do. Exquisitely tinted lingerie makes you feel almost fifty times as dainty and feminine as when you have on plain or faded underthings.

Now, that psychological difference is highly contagious—men and women both sense it, and very quickly.

A Sure Way

So quickly, so surely, that women who are wise in the ways of attraction are careful to invest money in the silky, lacy things that make them feel, and therefore register, as more intensely feminine.

They know that they can take such simple, economical care of these engaging garments with Lux that the psychological advantage of lovely lingerie is within the means of everyone.

The most fragile silks and laces will last and last, the most delicate and enchanting colors stay fresh and thrilling if you always wash them with Lux.

Keep Your Home Charming, Too

It is important, too, that your home should always seem dainty and charming to your husband. Keep the glamour of lovely fresh color, not only in your house frocks, blouses, scarfs, handkerchiefs, but in everything about the house, for men love cheerful color. Curtains, linens, spreads, cushion covers, all retain color charm with Lux.

(Above) Washed 12 times in Lux, silk and lace fibres intact, color lovely as new. You feel and are charming when your lingerie is so exquisite.

(Above) Washed 12 times in ordinary soap, delicate fibres pulled, lace damaged, color lifeless. Dainty lingerie has lost the charm of new.

If it's Safe in Water . . .
It's Safe in LUX!

Chicago and Nearby Artists' Show Records Variety of Methods

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

There opens today in the east wing galleries of the Art institute an exhibition which is second in interest each year only to the American show the museum houses in the fall. It is the annual exhibition by artists of Chicago and vicinity. This year the exhibition is so good it merits unreserved praise.

The jurors did their work well and as a result we see Chicago art represented in all its guises. There is conservative painting and there is modernistic painting. The prizes, too, are divided evenly between the two schools. It is a very fair and impartial record of what is being attempted and is being done in the middle west today.

Certain paintings stand out, even at a first hurried inspection. One cannot miss the richly painted canvas by Pauline Palmer, "The New Book," any more than one can overlook the huge tranquil landscape by Edmund Giesbert, "Earth," showing a far reaching surface of field with in the foreground a brace of mild eyed oxen hitched to a plow by which stand a peasant and his wife.

"Comedian" by Oskar Gross is another outstanding canvas and others of the first importance are "The Red Barn" by Carl Krafft, "Poppies" by Macena Barton, "Coon Hunters" by Marquis E. Reitzel, "Pierrot's Morning" by Edward W. Mathews, "The Evening Star, Glacier Park" by Adolph Heinze, "Four Horsemen of the Sea" by Louis Weiner, the "Still Life" by Gregory Prusheck, and "A. B. M." by Marshall D. Smith. This is an extremely slight list of the numerous paintings which are really worth while, but space forbids a longer mention.

The prize awards were announced at the Art institute dinner to the artists last night. The Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Logan medal with $750 went to "Sleep" by Davenport Griffen; the Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Logan prize of $500 was given to "West Van Buren Street" by Marshall D. Smith; the Fine Arts building prize of $500 was divided equally between Cora Bliss Taylor for "Yellow Symphony" and Charles Edward Mullin for "Suburban Garden."

Roy H. Collins won the Mr. and Mrs. Jule F. Brower prize of $300 with his beautiful canvas, "Mother and Child"; the John C. Shaffer prize of $300 for a portrait went to "Portrait of Dean Shailer Mathews" by Ruth Sherwood; the Joseph N. Eisendrath prize of $200 went to "The Constable" by Thomas Witten Jr.; William S. Schwartz won the John C. Shaffer prize of $200 with his portrait of Enrico Glisenstein. "Destiny" by Louis Grell was awarded the Harry A. Frank prize of $150 for a figure composition; the Clyde M. Carr prize of $100 went to "After the Snow Storm" by John J. Gavencky; "Piano Top" by Lenore Smith Jerrems won the Chicago Woman's Air prize of $100.

The Englewood Woman's club prize of $100 went to "Portrait of a Young Lady" by Walter B. Adams; the Julia Knapp Memorial prize of $100 was givin to A. Melvin Phillips for "A Portrait"; the Municipal Art league prize of $100 was won by "Mother and Child" by Ernest S. Klempner; the Mrs. John C. Shaffer prize of $100 for an ideal conception in sculpture was awarded to "Watching the Dance" by Edith Boynton; the Robert Rice Jenkins prize of $50 went to "Still Life" by Gregory Prusheck.

The gold medal of the Association of Chicago Painters and Sculptors is still to be awarded as, too, are the Municipal Art league prize of $500 and the Business Men's Art club purchase prize of $300.

Japanese Boy Scout Wins Highest Rating, Harmon Scholarship

New York, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The national court of honor of the Boy Scouts of America tonight announced award of the Harmon scout scholarships for 1929 to fifty-two scouts, selected because of unusual services to their home communities, for outstanding attainments and for high achievements as eagle scouts.

Harry Mayeda, 18 years old, of Sacramento, Cal., of Japanese parentage, won the highest rating of the 52.

Gordon Gilbert Power, 17 years old, of Baltimore, Md., though he lost an arm six years ago, became not only an exceptional high school and Duke university student, but also an able athlete. Another handicapped student who won distinction was Joseph Agee, 17 years old, of Fort Smith, Ark. He made a good record despite having had infantile paralysis.

Eugene Lloyd Mitchell, Negro, 20 years old, of Findlay, O., was another winner. He received high praise for scholastic attainment and personality.

Other winners included: C. Oscar Schmidt, and Charles O. Distler Jr. of Cincinnati, O.; James Cavins, Lexington, Ky.; Philip H. Bowen, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Sherbourn H. Horwitz, Milwaukee, Wis.; Ross Martin, Muncie, Ind.; Thomas W. Larkin, Streator, Ill.; and Gordon Thompson, 736 North Menard avenue, Chicago.

Still others are: Harold Barber, Nevada, Ia.; La Rue Thurston, Clinton, Ia.; Donald E. Dickerson, Hutchinson, Kans.; and Howard Oliphant Jr., Topeka, Kans.; Hyman Berman and James Jaeck, Minneapolis, Minn.; Francis I. Moore, St. Paul, Minn.; and Arthur Knight, 1114 8th avenue, south, Fargo, N. D.

The unenlightened woman who still suffers every month, receives little sympathy when she could so easily end those pains with Midol. This merciful medicine is not a narcotic, you know. Nor does it interfere in the slightest with the normal and natural process itself. But Midol does banish the pain—in five to seven minutes. Because it acts directly on the organs affected. If taken ahead of time, you may avoid a single uncomfortable moment. Try to realize what a truly wonderful discovery this is; it has made at least one form of suffering quite needless. When every drug store has these harmless tablets, isn't it foolish to be a martyr? Midol costs fifty cents, in metal case.*

*Midol's comfort is not confined to any certain days or age. It relieves at any time of life. Its ease is felt immediately in cases of nervous headache, backache, cramping, hot flashes and all febrile pain peculiar to women.

Regularity in Brushing the Hair Is Amply Repaid

by Antoinette Donnelly

There is a movement afoot to promote among young children hair brushing habits of the same consistent regularity as is given their teeth brushing. And it will be a blessing for the adults of tomorrow if the movement is adopted generally.

Up to a certain age, 8 or 9 or 10, mother does what brushing young hair gets and after that it is often left to the youngster's own pleasure whether it gets a lick and a promise, or only half of that. Children are not, as a rule, much concerned about whether they will have nice hair ten or fifteen years from now, or not. From their point of view fifteen years hence is senility, anyway.

Neither, for that matter, are they deeply impressed at 8, 9 or 10 about whether they are going to have beautiful teeth when they're ready for their debut. But mothers have managed to instill into them the habit of brushing teeth. By the same parental process youngsters could be hornswaggled, bribed, threatened, coaxed, forced, or whatever yours has been trained to respond to, into a couple of minutes' brushing of the hair. No greater contribution to adult hair beauty can be made.

We have seen a demonstration of loving maternal pride in a daughter. The girl, now 18, has a gorgeous head of hair. When she was small it was that stringy, funny looking quality that bred in the youngster, herself, a passion for better hair. Until she was about 13, the mother never let a morning or night go by without brushing the youngster's hair five minutes by the clock. There was no guesswork about it.

Along about 13 the child's compliments were directed always at her hair, which inspired such self-pride as to relieve the mother of her morning and evening duty while the daughter took it on herself. And, curiously enough, the girl has kept it up right through the years. Curious, we say, because she is the type of girl given to short lived enthusiasms in almost everything else. But she proves the magic of a hairbrush as scalp tonic, hair grower and gloss developer.

The girl's hair is beautiful and she deserves every eulogy she hears pronounced on it—and they are many.

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

What Is Dripping?

Not long ago an inquiry was received asking what dripping was, and perhaps it is not so wonderful that many a young cook does not know what dripping means, because instead of roasting her meat in what is still called an open pan or dripping pan, she uses something called a double roaster. The dripping pan properly belongs back to the days when you could see the fat drip from the meat turning on the spit while it was being roasted.

In the dictionary you will find the definition combined with pan, and reading: "A pan for catching the dripping from meat in roasting." For large roasting processes the dripping pan did not have the flat bottom of an oven dripping pan, which we know more today by its use for a sheet of gingerbread or cornbread than for roasting. This old pan had many wells in the bottom into which the fat would run, and from which it was dipped up over the meat constantly with a long handled ladle. Sometimes the handle of the ladle used for dipping the dripping over a whole ox being spit roasted, was several yards long.

Among the English poor the dripping has been used instead of butter as a spread on their bread, and has been sold to them as dripping. When dripping has not been scorched in the slightest it has been used for deep fat frying and for the shortening of pastries, for meat pies and in various types of cookery. In general, we speak of dripping as being the fat cooked out of beef, and in making stews of other meats a little of this is excellent since combinations of fat from a flavor standpoint improve almost any stew.

The product from plain suet melted down is also called dripping and the old fashioned cook who had a great "uttery" was as likely to have a pot of dripping or melted suet as she was to have a crock of butter there. Both fats were used for what is called potting. Potted meats were usually cooked meats chopped fine and covered with the hot dripping, under which they would keep in a cold place for months. These cold chopped meats and fish were also potted in a similar way, were mixed with some of the dripping and served for sandwich fillings and for garnishes. So served they were what are called butters, which we know best in the shape of sardine butters and items like that made for sandwich fillings. The clear, finely mashed meat or fish or even vegetable is combined with the fat. In one English cook book in which they tell how to clarify dripping there is this statement: "In making pastry good beef dripping is very much to be preferred to cheap common butter."

Why Are Some Women Always Late? Even Sphinx Can't Tell

BY DORIS BLAKE.

I am asked to answer this one: "Why are women always late in keeping their appointments?" I don't know—but I've a suspicion that they've been trained that way, that men didn't bring them up right. Men let women go on too many years thinking it was the polite and ladylike thing not to arrive at the appointed place before the gentleman.

It still seems a bit awkward [even for a person of punctual business training with the habit strong upon her of getting where she should be on time] to have to sit and wait in a hotel or restaurant lobby for the man to appear. So, most women take the precaution not to arrive there first. Silly as it may seem, they still will walk around the block just to avoid arriving on the minute. A holdover, I suppose, from the days when a gentleman was supposed to make the first advance.

I will say some women are a trial and a tribulation on this matter of keeping appointments on time. It makes me furious to sit and sit and wait for one who often has no other duties on earth but to get herself ready to keep appointments. Always this is the kind, though, that keeps you waiting and you may as well make up your mind to settle down in a club chair with your paper for anywhere from a quarter to a half hour's wait. Her alibis when she does arrive are even more infuriating than the wait.

On the whole, though, I think woman's business training has made her a more punctual person all 'round. Or, if the woman happens to be an actively interested home person, her keener awareness of the value of time trains her, likewise. But there remains a fairly large element that does need training in promptness, and there's no denying it. Sometimes, I think these women ought to be made to do a half hour's impatient sitting of their own, after their arrival.

But one just does not punish women of the type. You boil inside, but you smile sweetly down on the culprit and she goes on to the next appointment maybe five, ten or fifteen minutes later, armed with another not so good story of the awful traffic jam, and again gets away with it.

As a matter of fact, I guess the unpunctual are put on earth to try the patience and help earn the rewards that are promised the meek and the humble and the patient. I can't explain them any other way.

Variety Is the Spice in Human Nature, So Guard It Well

by Miss Gladys Huntington Bevans

There is nothing interesting in monotony.

Variety is the spice of life—and the spice in human nature. Can you imagine anything more stupid than a state of society where people are alike? And yet much of the time, without realizing it, we want our children to fit a pattern, to conform to a world we think a correct one for a child. Fortunately, they are almost always too strong for us—like a plant whose vigorous roots burst the pot.

It is this individuality of each child that we must try to keep our hands off of. It is this integrity of each personality that we must respect—each personality that is as much set apart as each thumbprint is unlike every other in the world.

One of the most interesting things in the world to watch—and without meddling—is the differentness of children. Sometimes just the differences in the children in one family may be the subject of your observations—those differences that develop with the same parents, the same home, and certainly with similar treatment.

Or it may be that you have a chance to watch the differences between children who are friends—children who are so different in the working of their minds, and in their responses to the same subject.

Two boys, the other day, were discussing a story they had heard—the story of a boy who thought he could fly. He made himself an elaborate pair of gauze wings and climbed up on the roof of a building. His friends stood around, waiting. At last one of them said, "Well, if you're so sure you can fly, why don't you try?"

He did. Of course, he was badly injured.

The boy, who was telling the story with bated breath, exclaimed, "Wasn't he brave? He wanted to find out whether he could fly or not, so he jumped. Wasn't he brave, though!"

The other boy answered, slowly, "Yeah—he was brave, all right—but he was foolish—he didn't use his head. If he'd been intelligent he'd have known he couldn't fly that way."

One—thrilled by the bravery. The other, admitting it without emotion, because he had the scientific mind.

Respect their individuality and the intelligence that produces such variety as this.

Indiana Group to Visit Hoosier Salon Tomorrow

The Hoosier Salon now in the Marshall Field Picture galleries, will be visited tomorrow of Indianans, under the auspices of the Hoosier magazine of Indianapolis. This group will spend the week-end in Chicago, attending the Saturday matinée at the opera and making a tour of the Field museum on Sunday. John G. Prasuhn, sculptor and an exhibitor at the Hoosier Salon this year, will conduct the tour of the museum.

Paris Decides on the Hostess Gown

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS.—[Special.]—The vogue for hostess gowns is growing day by day in every way, and it is also getting better and better. Women who haven't worn anything but pajamas inside their own homes for informal evenings these many seasons are going back to modernized tea gowns, which get a new lease on life under a new name.

Worth, who was the most famous creator of the tea gown in its before-the-war heyday, tells me that his smartest clients are now insisting on its direct descendant, the hostess frock, for the home.

Hostess gowns follow the new lines of fashion, but without moderation or exaggeration. The best Worth hostess frocks slips on over the head and are stream line rather than fitted, so they are as comfortable as a kimono and at the same time plenty formal for receiving company. They have no trailing lengths of chiffon, but are only moderately long and are fashioned of materials that are luxurious looking without being too frail. Thus they avoid the handicap of the tea gown that was so fragile as to be avoided by ladies who must have healthy clothes even in the home.

The Worth hostess gown shown in our sketch is particularly appealing to women who must resort to the quick change method if they are to dress at all. It is made of about equal parts black velvet and silver-white lamé. The lamé blouse slips on over the head, with no interference from the circular skirt, which is split and draped at the front.

The sleeves are split from the elbows and widened with a circular movement. This lower sleeve is lined and banded with black velvet, and you can't imagine anything prettier than a graceful forearm coming out of its folds. The bodice part of this gown is not fitted, but curves in slightly so that an illusion of the fitted line is given. Black jet and pearl embroidery at the waistline suggest a closing which isn't there. This dress is worn with silver lamé mules matching the material of the bodice.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Dee, The Tribune, Chicago.

Dick, my neighbor's little boy, 3, is bright and entertaining.

One day I said, "I think I'll ask your mother to give you to me."

He stood, with a thoughtful expression for a moment, then grinning, replied:

"Muvver wouldn't give me away, but she'd lend me to you while she wins the bridge prize." E. G. H.

When I called on my 5 year old nephew, Jimmie, who was a sick boy, just having had his tonsils removed, I invited him to have lunch with me, knowing he considered this a great treat, as I live in a hotel.

"Do you mind?" he pathetically replied, "If I wait and come when I can eat as I used to?" C. M. G.

Mothers, Mix This At Home for a Bad Cough

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough or chest cold. It takes but a moment to mix and costs little, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle; then fill it with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. The full pint thus costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes away the inflammation. Part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and thus helps inwardly to throw off the whole trouble with surprising ease.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

FARM AND GARDEN

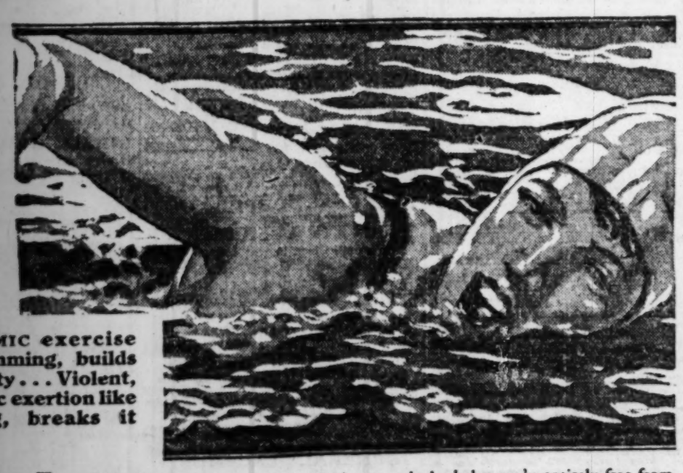
BY PAUL POTTER

Success in preventing smut has come to 1,600 farmers in Kewaunee county, Wis., who treated their seed oats with formaldehyde or a commercial dust. Smut is costly because it spreads with the seed, makes black heads, and lowers both yield and quality.

In fighting smut with formaldehyde the local farm committee reports that good results were obtained by filling burlap sacks half full of the grain and then soaking them in a barrel two-thirds full of a mixture containing one pint of formaldehyde to 35 gallons of water. After soaking the liquid is drained from the seed by piling it on a clean floor. It is then spread out, covered with canvas or sacking, and allowed to dry. As soon as the seed runs freely through the drill it is sown. Because the seed is swollen, the rate of seeding is increased by from one-half to three-quarters bushel per acre.

Many farmers also obtained unusually splendid results in freeing their grain of smut with Ceresan, says the committee. This was applied at the rate of three to four ounces per bushel. A barrel is filled about one-half full of grain mixed with the dust and rolled over the floor, thoroughly shaking the grain and dust. It can be applied about a month before planting time. Excellent results have been obtained in Kewaunee county through the use of this method, and yields were often increased by more than 10 bushels per acre.

How long will this energy last under the strain of a COUGH?



RHYTHMIC exercise like swimming, builds up vitality . . . Violent, spasmodic exertion like coughing, breaks it down.

FIFTEEN minutes of coughing is as tiring as a three mile walk—or a mile swim. Coughing consumes your energy more quickly than almost any other bodily exertion. No wonder, then, that doctors advise us to check coughs at the start. Pertussin quickly relieves the cough by getting at the immediate cause. It helps Nature to loosen the phlegm, soothes the irritated throat tissues and quiets the cough spasm.

It is a purely herbal remedy entirely free from harmful drugs. Pertussin is pleasant to take and will not upset your stomach.

REMEMBER: Take a spoonful of Pertussin the moment you feel a tickling in your throat. Always keep a bottle handy. Doctors have prescribed Pertussin more often than any other advertised cough remedy. It is safe for every cough and for every member of the family. At all druggists.

MEN—WHO CAN SELL.

Do you want a genuine opportunity?

Once in a lifetime an article is in such demand, the field is so big, the possibilities so tremendous, that a great number of men find a genuine opportunity and some of them make fortunes in the business.

We are selling such an article. We have spent approximately $50,000 in perfecting our sales plan. We have spent many times this amount here in Chicago for merchandise and equipment to make this opportunity possible for you. The sales plan has been tested over a period of months. It has proven successful in a big way. Men in the field are sold on it at 100%. They have made as high as $200 per day.

The article we are selling fills the biggest need of any specialty in America. It has an enormous field, fully as big as that of the automobile, and gives every buyer a bigger value per dollar expended than any specialty they have ever bought. It has a wonderful sales appeal.

We need new men in the field with salesmen who are already making good in a big way. We pay full commissions on first payments. There is no charge back to the salesmen for reverts. We are rated AAAI. We finance all time payments accounts and do the collecting.

Men, this is a real deal. If you are ready to take advantage of a genuine opportunity and know one when you see it, call Room 1534, 6 N. Clark-st.

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE.

HURRY!

Studebaker's Used Car Auto Show Will Be Over Soon!

Used car prices are going up in spring. So you better take advantage of this great sale and make a big saving. We have over 200 good used cars in our stock and they are all offered at bargain prices. Every one of them is backed by the famous Studebaker Used Car Plan that guarantees 5 days' free driving trial.

CHRYSLER COACH, 1928, with a world of power and pep. Has attractive finish and hundreds of dollars' worth of extra value. $295.

NASH SEDAN, 1929, series "400" Sid. 6, driven so little that we defy anybody to tell from a new Nash. Sweet running motor. $400.

OVERLAND SEDAN, late six. A snappy, low silver car, 4 whl. brakes, snubbers, bumpers, etc. Upholstery is luxurious and motor runs quietly. $350.

REO SEDAN, 5 pass. Looks and runs better than many new cars selling for $1,000. Genera coach work and interior are excellent. $385.

STUDEBAKER SEDAN. A spec. 6. Finished in dark and shiny and upholstery appears to match. $395.

HUDSON BROUGHAM. Finished beautiful Upholstery, tires, and motor will satisfy the most exacting buyer. Has shutter fruit, bumpers, spare tire, etc. $345.

BUICK SEDAN 7 pass. Mast. 6. An elderly woman used this only for occasional driving. Is splendid condition today. $385.

JORDAN SEDAN, str. 8. Has very low streamline effect. Other man's loss is your gain, for you can obtain this beautiful sedan at only $385.

WILLYS-KNIGHT SEDAN, late model 6, bright finish it only for driving on sunny days, so now it appears new. 4 whl. brakes, spotlight, heater, bumpers, spare tire, etc. $495.

DUPLOBILE SEDAN. A str. 8. Only driven Sundays for pleasure and result is it's in marvelous condition today. 4 whl. brakes, snubbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. $345.

ESSEX SEDAN, late model. Because of business reasons the former owner sold it. He wanted a bigger car, and that's why it is traded in this one. It's topnotch in every respect. Has 4 whl. brakes and very full equipment. $485.
